SHAKEUP BRINGS NEW JAILER

FAILS TO CURB COOK COUNTY; NEW TEST TODAY

Restriction Is Lost by One Vote.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The Illinois constitutional convention tonight refused to limit Cook county's legislative representation in the new constitution. As it was phrased by former Judge Charles S. Cutting, the convention declined to deal with Chicago as a "conquered province."

CHARLES E. WOODWARD.

The vote was 51 to 30—50 to 31 after Delegate Barr of Joliet, leader of the restrictionists, had changed his vote in order to move reconsideration for the purpose of presenting a compromise proposal tomorrow morning.

One more vote was needed to accomplish the purpose of the downstaters, behind whom stood the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois. Fifty-two votes for the restrictive article that was up to a roll call would have restricted Chicago in both houses and would have blown the convention sky high.

Comes on Stretcher to Vote.

Col. J. Mack Tanner, son of the former governor, was carried into the hall of the house on a stretcher after a journey in an ambulance to make good on his promise to vote with the downstaters, although paralyzed in his lower limbs.

Judge William A. Wall of Pulaski county, was brought all the way from a St. Louis hospital to vote with the anti-Chicago element. With his wife and daughter at either side he entered the hall at the climax of a remarkable plea against restriction that was being made by President Charles E. Woodward of Ottawa, who had left the chair temporarily for the purpose of closing the debate.

One Dry Delegate Absent.

There was one downstater—and a political dry—who was absent. He was Delegate William H. Chew of Shelby county. His vote, added to those recorded for Delegates Tanner and Wall, would have furnished the required fifty-two. Delegate Chew is understood to have taken a Chicago bound train under the impression that a decisive vote was not to be had today.

President Woodward's address was sufficient in itself to have kept any of the downstaters opposing restriction from wavering; that success for the restrictionists meant only the actual opening of an irreconcilable conflict between Chicago and the downstate, legislative, politically, and economically, and that adoption of the pending proposal meant the certain defeat at the polls on the issue of ratification of any constitution.

Downstaters Who Aided Chicago.

These were: Brenholt of Madison county, Carlstrom of Mercer, Fyke of Marion, Gale of Knox, Lill of St. Clair, Quinn of Peoria, Scanlan of La Salle, Torrance of Livingston, Trautmann of St. Clair, and President Woodward of La Salle.

The compromise proposal that is now in an overnight process of development, is based upon restriction of Cook county in the state senate to one-third of the present state senate of fifty-one members, or seventeen senators from Cook, rather than the nineteen now sitting. The house would consist of 153 members, one to be elected from each district, the basis of apportionment to be citizenship, rather than population, with the vote for President or for governor as the basis of construction of the districts. This plan necessarily carries along elimination of the present system of minority representation, as established by the constitutional convention of 1870.

Compromise May End Row.

This proposed compromise tonight is said to have the potential support of substantially two-thirds of the convention, and, if carried into effect, a slate wiping of all of the row that was climaxed by today's vote will be followed at once by completion of the revenue article and a submission of a new constitution, all of which could be accomplished within five weeks.

The vote came at the end of six hours of debate. Former Gov. Joseph W. Fifer spoke for an hour this morning for restriction. Delegate Fyke of Centralia opposed restriction, and Delegate Johnson of Galva was for the proposal as it stood. Former Judge Charles S. Cutting was the only Cook county delegate to make an argument on the floor. In an address, which the delegates generally classified as partic-

HOW TO DEFEAT "FLU" TOLD AS N. Y. EPIDEMIC BECOMES MENACING

New York, Feb. 1.—Health Commissioner Copeland tonight had posted in public the following treatment for the flu:

"Remain for half an hour in water as hot as you can stand it. The water should be kept running so that the heat can be maintained. While in the tub drink about a quart of lemonade so hot you will have to sip it slowly. Dry off well and get in bed between blankets. Remain there for an hour. The perspiration will then have ceased. Get up, sponge off with cold water, and get back into bed, this time between sheets, and stay there."

Today's influenza cases were 1,052, compared with 812 yesterday. Pneumonia cases were 240, against 186 yesterday. Influenza deaths were 20 and pneumonia 66.

ARREST SELLER OF STOCK IN VA. BREEDING FARM

What victims term a daring stock farm swindle was frustrated yesterday, it is said, in the arrest of E. Harman Neis, 59 years old, 324 South Washtenaw avenue. He is charged with selling stock in a breeding farm in Fairfax, Va., which he did not own.

Complaint against Neis was first laid by Dail M. Sexton, formerly a clearing teller at the First National bank, and Clifford M. McClanahan, 146 Eugenie street. The two men say they invested $2,500 in the ranch.

The Rev. Julius E. De Vos, pastor of St. John Berchman Catholic church, North Campbell avenue and Logan boulevard, and a number of his parishioners are said to have been interested in the proposition by Neis.

Neis is alleged to have said stock raised on the farm was being sent to Belgium to replace war losses.

YOUTHFUL HEIR TO SIMPSON CASH SCARES BURGLAR

Robert W. Simpson, 13, who with his sister, Genevieve, 8, and brother Charles, 11, was recently awarded $800,000 of the estate of his grandfather, Robert Simpson, last night frightened burglars from his home at 913 Grove street, Evanston.

His mother, Mrs. Jennie Simpson, was awakened by noises in the basement. She woke Robert, who ran to the window and called to neighbors who summoned the police.

When the police arrived, the burglars, who are believed to have been attracted by stories of the children's recently acquired wealth, had fled without any booty, leaving behind an open cellar window and a jimmied door.

SEIZE BOOZE IN LOOP CANDY SHOP

Woman's Tip at Auto Show Leads to Raid.

A "tip" unwittingly given dry agents by a woman at the automobile show Tuesday night resulted yesterday in a raid on the Lily Candy Shop at 168 West Adams street and the seizure of ten bottles of real whisky and gin.

Wandering amid the maze of exhibits at the show Tuesday evening were Federal Agents Unger and Schultz. Their attention was attracted to a compartment on one of the 1922 sedan models.

One Case—Maybe Two.

"Why, that's large enough to hold a case—maybe two," remarked Unger.

"Sure, but where would the owner get the booze?" Schultz inquired.

"Sh-h! That's easy," came a feminine voice. The dry sleuths turned to find a woman handing them cards.

"Come over to the store; this card will admit you," she said. Then she disappeared in the crowd.

The card read: "Lily Candy Shop, 168 West Adams street."

Two men appeared at the store yesterday. They presented the cards to Miss Lillian Bearshaw, manager; they asked for a "pint" and got it.

"Chocolate Covered Booze."

A few minutes later the candy store was raided.

Nestled beneath a row of boxes containing chocolate creams was the liquor.

Miss Bearshaw and Diograzio Consolmagno, the owner of the store, were arrested. The latter denied knowledge of the liquor.

Federal agents believe the candy store has been doing a big business—but not in selling candy.

Refuses Role of Wanton to Catch Unfortunate Women

BORAH, TOO, SEES PRESIDENT AS A TAILOR OF ROBES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The appointment of Senator Kenyon, leader of the farm bloc in the senate, to be a United States Circuit judge was still the talk of the day.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia ran into Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, one of the strongest Republican opponents of the administration measures, in the senate office building this afternoon. Glass gave Borah a healthy slap on the back.

"Good morning, judge," was Glass' greeting to the Idaho senator.

"Not yet, Carter," was Borah's quick reply.

PARIS SOCIETY QUITS BLACK FOR BRIGHT COLORS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 1.—Black has been dethroned as the popular color for evening gowns. It is being replaced by mauve, rose, blue, and white. This was proven at last night's charity ball for tuberculosis children, which was attended by the leading members of French society. Backless gowns suddenly reappeared, and were even more daringly cutaway than they were two years ago. Draped robes shared the honors with panniers, all being heavily encrusted with pearls and metallic ornaments. About 360,000 francs (roughly $30,000) was realized for the children.

MRS. BIRD FLIES; BIRD OF BIRD STORE SEEKS HER

Warrants were issued yesterday in the Morals court for the arrest of Mrs. Emily Bird, 3601 Fullerton avenue, and James Klima, a printer, whose home is at 2601 South Clifford avenue. The warrants charge that the couple left their respective homes and families Saturday night.

James Bird, owner and proprietor of "Bird's Bird Store," said last night that although his wife disappeared Saturday night it was not until Monday that he learned that it was a "love escapade." Mrs. Klima notified him of her husband's disappearance.

France Pays $10,000,000 Interest on Part of Debt

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—Payment of $10,000,000 on surplus supplies purchased after the war was made to this country today by France. The payment was the third installment of semi-annual interest on the $400,000,000 debt created by the liquidation commission after the war when army supplies in France were disposed of to the French government. The principal of the debt is due Aug. 1, 1929, and the annual 5 per cent of interest is payable in semi-annual installments.

FREE REIN FOR WESTBROOK TO END SCANDALS

Escapes and Riots Force Change.

Jail deliveries, riots among prisoners, discoveries of a moonshine and dope traffic among inmates, constant criticism by grand juries and the crime commission, last night culminated in a shakeup in the county jail which resulted in Jailer Peter Lawrence stepping out and Capt. Wesley H. Westbrook of the police department and a new military régime stepping in.

Capt. Westbrook was granted a year's leave of absence yesterday from the police department to restore order in the jail. He is to be given a free hand to employ and discharge all jail employés. His policy is to be one of rigid enforcement of jail rules, to "conduct the jail as a jail and not a boarding house."

Given Free Hand.

Capt. Westbrook accepted the jailer's position on the stipulation that he suffer no interference with his conduct of the institution. It has been agreed that if at any time the captain feels that his position as jailer is untenable he may return to the police department without loss of seniority or other rights.

The events which led to the shakeup directly began with the escape from the jail of "Lucky Tommy" O'Connor, gunman sentenced to death, some weeks ago. At that time investigation of jail conditions exposed a most serious lack of rules enforcement. One of the jail guards figuring in the O'Connor escape is now under indictment for conspiracy.

Moonshine and Dope.

It was discovered that just before O'Connor "walked out" a moonshine still in the jail basement had supplied joy juice for an extended jamboree for prisoners. Another inmate testified to a "dope cache" under a cupboard in the jail bakery shop.

Recently there have been two riots within the jail. In the first, which occurred last Saturday night, convicts tore a door from a cell and, using it as a battering ram, attempted to gain freedom. They were quelled only when menaced by riot guns. And yesterday afternoon a free for all fight broke out in the bullpen. It took forty deputy sheriffs half an hour to quell it.

Westbrook a Disciplinarian.

Capt. Westbrook, who as first deputy, was acting chief of police for a number of months several years ago, is a policeman-barrister who has a full knowledge of military tactics. He is known as one of the most rigid disciplinarians of the force. He was picked from the list of captains of police as the one man who it is believed can restore order to the chaos of the jail ménage.

That Capt. Westbrook's entrance into his new duties will be the signal for a general house cleaning in the jail was understood last night. Numerous guards are said to be slated for dismissal.

It was also said that the policy of placing certain "star boarder" prisoners in "bridal chamber" cells will be immediately discontinued. Among these is Thomas J. Walsh, now jailed for the killing of Adolph Georg Jr., owner of a Randolph street winestube, last December.

Peters Wanted Change.

Sheriff Charles W. Peters, it is understood, is one of the prime factors in the acquisition of Jailer Westbrook. The sheriff, it is said, wants a jailer to whom he can leave the full administration of the institution and feel sure that his wishes for rigid observance of the rules will be carried out.

Jailer Westbrook joined the police department on Dec. 14, 1896, as a patrolman. He was promoted to desk sergeant on Oct. 19, 1905, to lieutenant on Feb. 1, 1912, to temporary captain on Sept. 1, 1915, and to captain on March 13, 1916. While on the department he was graduated from the Illinois College of Law.

For the last three years Capt. Westbrook has been assigned to the Austin station, with the exception of short periods when he was placed in command of strike zones. In his new position he will receive a salary of $5,000 a year.

Peters Tells of Choice.

"I am confident Capt. Westbrook can remedy conditions which made possible the escape from the jail of 'Tommy' O'Connor and his companions and the attempt last Saturday of several others to batter down the doors and get away," said Sheriff Peters last night. "He has all the necessary qualifications to make him one of the best jailers Cook county has ever had, and I believe he will justify my confidence in him."

Jury Quits for Night, 11 to 1 for Arbuckle

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Seven hours and fifteen minutes after it left the court to deliberate on a verdict, the jury trying Roscoe Arbuckle for manslaughter had failed to reach an agreement and was locked up for the night.

The report that the jurors were 11 to 1 for acquittal persisted.

The jurors spent only three hours and thirty-five minutes in actual deliberation. The rest of the time was spent, one hour and fifty-five minutes, in listening to the testimony of Josephine Keza, the maid who said she heard a woman in Arbuckle's suite say "No, no, O, my God," and a man reply, "Shut up," and the rereading of the judge's instructions and one hour and forty-five minutes in dining.

Ask Instructions Again.

The eleven men and one woman had been out one hour when they asked to have the testimony of Mrs. Keza read to them. The foreman declared "one of the jurors had made this request." It was nearly 10 o'clock when they requested the judge to read his instructions again.

They left the courtroom at 10:40 when the judge had finished and deliberated for twenty minutes. Then they asked to be taken to the hotel.

Arbuckle and his wife, Minta Durfee Arbuckle, have almost given up hope. "It looks like another hung jury," said Mrs. Arbuckle. "And that will be more terrible to Roscoe than you can imagine."

McNab Decides on Silence.

Deputy District Attorney Milton U'Ren ended his address to the jury early in the afternoon, and there was a fifteen minute recess. During this recess Attorney Gavin McNab, leading the defense, went into conference with his associates.

"I might say that if the defense wishes to present two speakers," the judge said when the recess ended, "one of them can finish this afternoon and the other tomorrow morning."

"If the court please," Mr. McNab said, "we have decided that it is unnecessary for us to make any argument. We feel the case is so simple that argument on it would only weary the jurors. We submit it without argument."

Courtroom Is Thrilled.

A thrill ran through the room. Deputy District Attorney Leo Friedman, who had already prepared a talk that would take two hours and a half, and District Attorney Matthew Brady looked at McNab in astonishment. The judge hesitated. His instructions had not been written out.

Both sides waived written instructions, and the judge read the instructions to the jury.

Arbuckle sat quietly in his chair, no emotion on his face. But he was breathing deeply when the jurors filed out of the courtroom.

DAYLIGHT SAVING BEGINS APRIL 30, ENDS ON SEPT. 24

Chicago's daylight saving period will be two months shorter this summer than last. The city council yesterday ordained that "summer time" shall begin on the last Sunday in April and end on the last Sunday of September.

Ald. Guernsey's proposed ordinance to require property owners to put street numbers on the rear as well as the front of their property failed of passage. It lacked five votes of the thirty-six necessary to pass an ordinance.

Ald. Kostner's order directing the removal of coin boxes from toilets in public buildings was referred to the health committee, as was his order to require all restaurants to provide toilet facilities. The council directed the building commissioner to see that all wooden signs are removed from building roofs.

NAVAL HOLIDAY, PACIFIC TREATY, WAR CURB WON

China Gets Its Own; Gift by British.

Steps to Peace

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—Unless present plans are changed, the Washington conference will give to the world eight treaties, to seven of which the United States will be a party. This is the list:

Four power Pacific treaty signed Dec. 13.

Five power naval limitation treaty, ready for signature.

Five power submarine and poison gas treaty, ready for signature.

Six power treaty allocating German Pacific cables, drafting.

Nine power treaty on Chinese tariff, drafting.

Nine power treaty on other Chinese questions, drafting.

American-Japanese treaty regarding Yap, virtually ready for signature.

Chinese-Japanese treaty regarding Shantung, near completion.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The Washington international conference, after nearly three months of deliberation, accomplished its main purpose today, adopting the five power naval limitation treaty with its agreement on Pacific fortifications and naval bases.

The conference also adopted a series of important resolutions relating to China, including the declaration of the "open" door, which will be embodied in another treaty, and approved the separate treaty negotiated by the big five powers relating to the restriction of the submarine and the use of poison gas in warfare.

Adopted in Plenary Session.

These stabilizers of world peace were formally adopted and announced at a plenary session—the fifth since the conference began.

In addition the delegations of the nine participating powers, in the presence of members of congress and distinguished guests from all parts of the world, were thrilled with an official announcement that Japan and China had settled the long standing and threatening Shantung dispute, on the heels of which Mr. Balfour of Great Britain further electrified the assemblage with the unheralded declaration that his government had determined to restore to China the leased territory of Wei-Hai-Wei.

A Day of Achievements.

Included in the long list of conference achievements of the day were the following:

Adoption of the treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan limiting for fifteen years the navies of the respective powers, providing for the abandonment of all existing naval building programs, and for the scrapping of 845,000 tons of capital ships and fixing the ratio of capital ships and replacement building schedules—a treaty designed to bring to an end the tax burdensome race for naval supremacy.

Approval in connection with the naval treaty of agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and Japan for maintenance of the status quo with regard to fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific within prescribed areas, an agreement designed to relieve the nations of anxiety over possible disturbances of peace in the Pacific region.

Approval of five power treaty declaring attacks by submarines on merchant ships to be in violation of the laws of war and condemning the use of poison gas in warfare.

Announcement by Secretary Hughes of agreement between Japanese and Chinese delegations for return of Shantung province to China.

Announcement by Arthur Balfour that Great Britain, moved by the settlement of the threatening Shantung dispute, had decided to enter upon negotiations at once for restoration to China of the leased territory of Wei-Hai-Wei, thus accomplishing return to China of "her most ancient possession in its entirety."

Approval by nine powers of resolutions relating to China to be embodied into treaties on the far east, including declaration on the open door, publication of existing treaties, agreements and commitments with China, radio communication in China, Chinese railways, withdrawal of foreign postoffices, withdrawal of foreign troops from Chinese territory, and reduction of Chinese military forces in the interest of economy and internal tranquillity.

Secretary Hughes surprised the assemblage early in the session and paved the way for the unexpected announcement from Mr. Balfour by proclaiming the Shantung settlement and reading the text of the agreement whereby China will have the province restored to her by Japan and acquire the Shantung railroad by direct purchase from Japan within five years.

Great applause from the galleries greeted the Shantung announcement. Following responses from Baron Shidehara of Japan and Mr. Sze, the Chinese ambassador, expressing delight and satisfaction over the settlement, and thanking Mr. Hughes and Mr. Balfour for their good offices in making direct negotiations possible, Mr. Balfour arose to speak.

"Hughes and I Happy"—Balfour.

"None can doubt," said Mr. Balfour, "that through all this great assembly there is not an individual who does not rejoice at this most happy settlement. But if there are two who specially rejoice, I think it must be our chairman, and, in a secondary degree, myself, who have worked together in absolute harmony to do what lay in us to end this long standing and most unhappy dispute. That is the first reason that I intervene upon your patience.

"The second reason is one in which I speak for the British empire delegation alone. The result of the termination of this Shantung dispute between China and Japan is to hand back to the sovereignty of China a great port and a most important railway, the port giving access to and the railway giving communications within what I believe is the most thickly populated province of China. But there is another leased territory other than those we have been discussing today, which is under lease to the British government. I refer to Wei-Hei-Wei.

Springs Wei-Hei-Wei Surprise.

"Those of you who have followed the course of events in China during the last generation are aware that a most critical position arose when Russia and Germany began to attempt to dominate more and more the Chinese empire. It was when Russia seized Port Arthur that in order to bring some foreign equipoise to the assistance of China, to prevent the increase of such operations, the arrangement was come to between the Chinese government and the British government by which Wei-Hei-Wei was leased to Great Britain for a term of years under arrangements which left it possible to use that port as a defense against Russia, though impossible to use it as any great commercial center or as a rival to any existing commercial interests.

"The circumstances under which Wei-Hei-Wei thus came under the control of Britain have now not only provisionally changed, but they have altogether disappeared. The rest of the province of Shantung is now handed back under suitable conditions to the complete sovereignty of China. Under like suitable conditions I have to announce that Great Britain proposes to hand back Wei-Hei-Wei to the country within whose frontier it lies.

Now to Be Summer Resort.

"I doubt not it has been used so far merely as a sanitorium or summer resort for the ships of war coming up from the tropical portions of the China station. I doubt not that it will be available for that innocent and healthful purpose in time to come; but the sovereignty will now be restored, as the sovereignty of China has been restored in other parts of the province.

"When that has been accomplished this great province of China will again be what every Chinese citizen should desire, in the fullest sense an integral part of that great empire, and I rejoice to think that I am in a position today to add, if I may so say, this crowning word to the statement of policy made by your chairman on behalf of the country and responded to in such felicitous terms by our Japanese and our Chinese colleagues."

Mr. Balfour's announcement aroused the great audience to prolonged applause.

When it had subsided Mr. Secretary Hughes contributed his word of appreciation:

"Let me also express the gratification that is felt at this announcement by Mr. Balfour on behalf of the British delegation with respect to Wei-Hei-Wei. Thus by what he fittingly calls the crowning act in relation to this province China has restored to her her ancient and most sacred possession in its entirety, free from any foreign domination."

Mr. Hughes then submitted the long discussed naval treaty and fortifications agreement, which he analyzed at great length and commented upon forcefully but briefly.

"No more extraordinary or significant treaty ever has been entered into than this," said Mr. Hughes. "It is extraordinary because here we are no longer talking about diminishing the burden of naval acquirements, but are actually diminishing and limiting them; it is extraordinary because we have invaded a field which most nations are jealous of and disposed to guard resentfully against any interference. This treaty means an enormous saving of money and lifting of heavy burdens of peoples.

"This treaty absolutely ends the race in competition of naval armaments. At the same time it leaves the security of nations unimpaired. It is significant of far more also, because here we are talking of arms in the language of peace and have taken the greatest forward step to establish the reign of peace."

"French Imperialism a Delusion."

Albert Sarraut of France before the vote on the treaty was taken sought opportunity to explain the position of France and to correct misapprehension concerning his country's policy in the United States. Much of the criticism of France, he said, had been due to German propaganda. He insisted that France had only appealed here for what she must have to defend herself and that imperialism in France was a delusion.

"The camouflaged ghost of imperialistic France," he said, "which German propaganda parades about the universe may still deceive a few artless minds, but it will soon evoke nothing but smiles."

Submarine Piracy Defined.

In presenting the treaty outlawing poison gas and the use of the submarine against merchants ships, Elihu Root read the text and explained its purport. The treaty, Mr. Root said, does not undertake to codify international law in regard to visit and search, but to state its most important and effective provisions which are already part of the law of nations.

"It does undertake," said Mr. Root, "to stop the violation of these rules and the doing to death of women and children and other noncombatants by declaring the wanton destruction of merchant vessels carrying passengers to be a violation of the laws of war and an act of piracy.

"Cynics say that in the stress of war these rules will be disregarded. Granted that rules, and treaties even, may be disregarded, cynics forget that beyond diplomacy and beyond governments there is the public opinion of the civilized world, which can be depended upon to bring its sanction to the support of a prohibition which is based on humanity and right. This treaty will be supported by the greatest power known to history. It crystallizes in simple and concrete terms the opinion of the civilized world that already exists in order that hereafter no nation shall dare to do what was done when the women and children of the Lusitania went to their death by wanton murder on the high seas."

Designation of Warships.

The final "cleanup" of the limitation of naval armament draft developed no radical change in plans already announced. The list of ships stipulated to be retained is the same as has been published, Japan keeping the Mutsu. The United States is allowed to complete two ships of the West Virginia class to replace the North Dakota and Delaware, which will then be scrapped. Great Britain may build two new capital ships not to exceed 35,000 tons displacement and thereupon scrap the Thunderer, King George V., Ajax, and Centurion.

In capital ship replacement tonnage the powers agree not to exceed the following total: United States and Great Britain, 525,000 tons each; Japan, 315,000 tons; France and Italy, 175,000 tons each.

Guarding against enlargement of warships the treaty specifies a 35,000 maximum "for any ship which shall be acquired by, or constructed by, for, or within the jurisdiction of any signatory power." Sixteen-inch guns are the limit.

Aircraft Carrier Provisions.

For aircraft carriers the total tonnage permitted is: United States and Great Britain, 135,000 each; Japan, 81,000; France and Italy, 60,000 each. The treaty provides:

"Each of the powers may within the tonnage ratio limitations construct not more than two carriers of a maximum of 33,000 tons each, or may convert war carriers of a maximum of 33,000 tons each, or may convert war craft otherwise to be scrapped into such carriers 'in order to effect economy.' Armament of the carriers exceeding 27,000 tons, is limited to a total of eight guns of more than six inch caliber per ship."

No carrier ship shall have a gun heavier than 8-inch caliber. A total of ten 8-inch guns per ship is permitted if no gun exceeds 6-inch caliber.

Any vessel of war constructed within the jurisdiction of the contracting powers for any other power must conform to the rules prescribed by the treaty, and where war shipbuilding is undertaken for a noncontracting power full information as to such ship shall be communicated to the other four contracting powers.

Status Quo in Fortifications.

The fortifications clause says America must maintain the status quo in the Philippine and Aleutian islands. Islands off the coast of the United States, the Panama Canal Zone, and Hawaii are not included and may be strengthened.

Britain must maintain the status quo in Hongkong and the Pacific islands east of 110 degrees east longitude. It may fortify the islands off the coast of Canada, Australia, and its territories and New Zealand.

Japan must maintain the status quo in the Kurile, Bonin, Loochoo islands, Amami-Oshima, Formosa, and the Pescadores.

In all these no new fortifications or naval bases are to be constructed, but wornout weapons and equipment may be replaced.

China and Japan.

Japan returns the Shantung railway at a valuation of 53,000,000 gold marks plus improvements. Japan will restore the former German leased territory and all property in Shantung. Japanese troops are to be withdrawn. Japan will retain the customs house at Tsingtao. An agreement covers the Shantung mines, the salt mines, the two submarine cables, and the wireless stations.

In Effect Until Dec. 31, 1936.

It is provided that the treaty "remain in force until Dec. 31, 1936, and in case none of the contracting parties shall have given notice two years before that date of its intention to terminate the treaty it shall continue in force until the expiration of two years from the date on which notice of termination shall be given.

DELAY LIKELY IN JAP-CALIFORNIA LAND QUESTIONS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—There is considerable speculation in conference circles concerning the ultimate fate of the recommendations contained in the reports of former Ambassador Roland S. Morris to the state department, and Baron Shidehara, Japanese ambassador, to the Tokio foreign office, following several months of negotiations in regard to the questions of California land legislation and Japanese immigration.

ROLAND S. MORRIS.

It is the belief in some quarters that Japan will not at any early time ask for a decision of the American government in respect of the recommendations, but will await American initiative.

It has been said that the report recommends an amendment to the American-Japanese treaty, and a new gentlemen's agreement in regard to Japanese immigration, in which Japan would engage to prevent Japanese immigration to the United States, Alaska, and Hawaii, the United States assenting to Japanese immigration in the Philippines.

LABOR SECRETARY IN SANITARIUM TO HAVE AILMENT DIAGNOSED

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 1.—Secretary of Labor Davis is in a sanitarium here for a "physical inventory," as he termed it today. The secretary arrived yesterday on one of his annual visits for consultation with local specialists and plans to rest at the sanitarium about a week. He will then return to Washington. Few of the secretary's friends at the capital had any intimation he was not in the best of health when he left for the west.

EVANSTON HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WEAR GALOSHES

Evanston High school boys have [illegible] adopted the "galosh" fad, led by Richard Gunthrop and John Hammond, the school cheer leaders. Although started only a week ago, fully half of the youths wear them.

John T. Riddell, the school football coach, refused to comment on the fad except to say that he would have been thrown into a nearby creek if he had worn galoshes when he attended school.

CONFESSES HE SENT EXTORTION LETTER TO PRIEST

Joseph Judakaitis, 1517 51st avenue, Cicero, confessed yesterday that he had sent a printed extortion letter to the Rev. H. J. Vaicunas, pastor of the St. Valentine Lithuanian Catholic church, Cicero. The letter demanded $2,000, under penalty of death if it were not forthcoming. The pastor was directed to place the money over the doorway of a garage at 5030 West 15th street, Cicero. Police found Judakaitis kept his automobile in the garage, and on searching his rooms found scraps of other "Black Hand" letters. His arrest followed. He said he wrote the letters and then had them printed.

ROBERTSON AND KEITH QUIT JOBS IN CITY CABINET

J. N. Bundesen Is Named Health Commissioner.

Two members of Mayor Thompson's cabinet quit yesterday. Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson stepped out voluntarily and Commissioner of Gas and Electricity Keith was forced out as a matter of political expediency.

DR. ROBERTSON. [Birdsall Studio Photo.]

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health department epidemiologist, who began work as a field health officer at $70 a month in 1914, was appointed to the $10,000 job as health commissioner held by Dr. Robertson for seven years. He is declared to be the youngest health commissioner in the city's history and the only one ever named from the civil service ranks of the department.

Mr. Keith's $6,000 job was given to George E. Carlson, 1531 Norwood avenue, manager of the Hatfield Electric company, 440 South Dearborn street. He is a member of the American Legion with overseas experience. Mr. Keith had little political backing and Lundin-Thompson leaders are said to have agreed that it was the part of political wisdom to give a cabinet position to a Legion member.

Secrecy Marks Resignation.

The switch in cabinet positions was guarded carefully. It was admitted by Dr. Robertson and others that had it been known his resignation was imminent, politicians and medical organizations would have brought such pressure to bear that Dr. Bundesen would not have been appointed.

GEO. E. CARLSON. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Dr. Bundesen is of Danish-French parentage, is married and has five children. He lives at 7414 Oglesby avenue and has taken no part in politics. He is 39 years old and was graduated from the Northwestern University Medical school in 1909 and the U. S Army Medical school in 1911.

Robertson to Take Long Rest.

Health Commissioner Robertson's health has been "shaky" of late months. He will take a long rest, but will not retire from the public eye.

He is said to be slated for the presidency of the Pageant of Progress exposition, from which Mayor Thompson was forced to resign by court decisions. He will also join Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, former state health officer, in the editorship of Health, a magazine started two years ago, which is to be made a national health publication. He will remain president of the board of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium.

In his letter of resignation, transmitted to the city council, Dr. Robertson outlined the high points of his administration, including his campaign for pasteurization of the milk supply, reduction in the infant death rate from one death in seven to one in twelve, and reduction of the total death rate from fourteen to eleven per 1,000.

Aldermen Praise Bundesen.

When Dr. Robertson's letter had been read to the council Ald. Richert, Schwartz, and Woodhull, three Democrats, arose to praise his successor, Dr. Bundesen.

"I have not been known as a friend of this administration," said Ald. Schwartz, "but, putting politics and differences of opinion aside, I want to say that the naming of Dr. Bundesen as health commissioner is a great thing for Chicago."

The ouster of Mr. Keith was as abrupt as that of former Chief of Police Garrity eighteen months ago.

Mr. Keith was called to Mayor Thompson's office at 12:15 o'clock in the afternoon. He was met by Virtus Rohm, fidus Achates of Fred Lundin. He was told that his time had come and told to take it gracefully and that he would be taken care of later.

Mr. Rohm said that Mr. Keith's resignation was necessary "to strengthen the organization for coming campaigns." Mr. Keith refused to comment on his ouster.

Mayor Thompson followed up the Bundesen and Carlson appointments by naming Dr. Boleslavs Klarkowski to succeed James B. Rezny as a member of the school board.

The mayor also reappointed Dr. Robertson and F. Bowden De Forest members of the board of directors of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium and appointed Dr. Bundesen a member to succeed William H. Harsha.

NEW HEALTH CHIEF AND FAMILY

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen was yesterday appointed head of the department of health, to succeed Dr. John Dill Robertson, resigned. The members of the family, left to right, are: Herman N. Jr., 11 years old; Riga Jane, 12 years old; Dr. Bundesen; Russell, 10 years old; Mrs. Bundesen, holding Betty, 2 years old; and Laura Belle, 6 years old. [Keedy Photo.]

METHODISTS SEEK SUBSTITUTE FOR MODERN DANCING

Outdoor Sports Are Advocated.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Methodists are seeking a substitute for the dance.

For, while many young Methodists dance, the church is officially opposed to the amusement and has issued edicts against it. Hence the need of a substitute is felt by the church leaders.

BISHOP NICHOLSON.

The Rev. Warren T. Powell so explained the situation yesterday at the board of Sunday schools of the church, which met at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Outdoor Sports Suggested.

"If you want the young people to give up dancing," he said, "train them in outdoor sports and indoor athletics. It is my job to train the young men who are studying for the ministry at Garrett Biblical institute in all these forms of exercise and amusement, even including boxing.

"When these young men get ministries they will advocate the sports among their church members, and thus will gradually spread a more healthy tone through society."

Sunday School Another.

The Rev. Loren Edwards, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church of Denver, advocated Sunday school training as a check on crime.

"A boy of 14 in Denver was arrested for auto stealing," he said. "He confessed to having stolen thirty-one cars and said he did so because the 'ladies' he went with demanded auto rides and hip pocket liquor. There are 50,000 in Denver of Sunday school age, and only 15,000 do attend."

Bishop Thomas Nicholson, presiding in the evening at the banquet, advocated a war on any coarse pictures being printed in newspapers and magazines and the eradication of rough sports in the church.

3 LIVES AT STAKE AS COLLINS AND CRAIG CONFER

BY PAUL WILLIAMS.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BELFAST, Feb. 1.—While Ireland is focusing its attention on the meeting between Sir James Craig and Michael Collins in Dublin tomorrow, more interested than any are three men—Johnstone, Moshea, and Leonards—who are in cells in Derry prison under sentence to be hanged on Feb. 9.

The imminent execution of the trio has hastened the negotiations between the northern and southern governments for an agreement regarding post-truce prisoners which will save the condemned men.

A number of petitions urging reprieves and signed by Protestants and Catholics alike have been sent to Derry.

The feeling is that the execution may stir up new violence and cause more deaths in Ireland.

ATTORNEYS O. K. SCHWARTZ PLAN FOR CAR-LINES

Aldermanic lack of interest in local rapid transportation was shown yesterday when not even a quorum of the council subcommittee of service improvement appeared to hear a report by three $125 a day attorneys the subcommittee hired to advise it.

The lawyers, William H. Sexton, James N. Frank, and Stephen A. Foster, held Ald. Schwartz's plan of acquiring the surface and elevated lines by the city is feasible and would not require enabling legislation. The lawyers said the city could raise the needed funds by issuing certificates under the municipal ownership act of 1913.

"These certificates, in our opinion," the lawyers said, "would create a valid lien upon the properties acquired. The constitutionality of that act has been sustained by the Supreme court in the case of the Springfield Gas and Electric company."

HERBERT CRANE'S EX-WIFE SENDS BACK HIS GIFTS

Follows Them Monday, Asking $70,000.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Miss Elida Piza, the former wife of Herbert P. Crane, millionaire globe trotter of St. Charles, will arrive in Kane county from Costa Rica, Central America, Monday, to try to collect the $70,000 her aged husband still owes her on the $100,000 alimony awarded her in November, 1920, when she divorced him in the Circuit court at Geneva.

As preliminary to her bill collecting, Miss Piza sent back to her former husband all of the things she said he ever gave her.

Stand in the Rain.

Crated and barreled these mirrors and card rays, bureaus and intimate boudoir furnishings stood in the rain all day today on the lawn of the Wild Rose farm at St. Charles where Mr. and Mrs. Crane came to spend their honeymoon after their romantic courtship and marriage five years ago. All St. Charles remembers the coming of the beautiful bride, the chosen queen of the Costa Rican national ball at San Jose.

As a reason for his failure to pay his former wife what he owed her, Mr. Crane has said that when she left his home she stripped it of its furnishings.

Crane Not at Home.

No one knew today where Mr. Crane was, but notice was served on his chief of counsel, Charles Hazelhurst of Elgin, that action would be started against him in the Kane county Circuit court Monday for the $70,000 alimony balance and interest.

The goods she has sent back came from the home of her parents, 801 Riverside drive, New York, where she is now stopping with her 3 year old son, Anthony Rafael Crane.

STOKES SAYS HE WAS OVERCOME BY WIFE'S WILES

She's Called a Pirate That Preys on Rich Men.

New York, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Just after one witness had described Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes as "a pirate preying upon rich men," W. E. D. Stokes himself took the stand late today and told hitherto unrevealed details of the courtship. These details appeared to put much of the "courting" upon Helen Elwood, placing her in the light of engineering the marriage which followed one month's acquaintance. Now Mrs. Stokes is trying to have set aside her release of her dower rights in Stokes' millions.

Stokes told how he met Miss Elwood when she was living at the Ansonia, and stated that he married her after a courtship of one month. He said the hotel clerk had received a letter in January, 1911, that some one had annoyed Miss Elwood, and he—as owner of the Ansonia—called at the apartment of Dr. Hendrick and his wife, with whom Miss Elwood was stopping. He met her several times afterward.

She Tells Her Story.

He said she told him she had a "rich but cruel stepfather," who allowed her only $35 a month while studying French and music in New York.

"I told her I was in the same position. I told her I had a boy who was the apple of my eye, and that he was in Bermuda for his health. I told her if she had no friends in New York I would try to assist her. I met her later in the corridor and she said she had received a letter inclosing a check and telling her to return home. She began to cry and talked of suicide."

"I told her, 'You are pretty,'" the witness said. "'Why don't you get married and have a home of your own? If I were a younger man I would propose to you myself. Has no man ever proposed to you?'

"Miss Elwood colored up and replied: 'Yes, there is a man, only one man I ever loved, and he never proposed to me.' I asked her who he was and she informed me, as she blushed, that I was the man."

Denies Offer of Property.

Mr. Stokes testified he had prepared a release by his future wife of her dower interest in his property and had made two copies on the back of hotel letter heads. They both were signed in his apartment. He denied he promised her $1,500 a month and a third interest in the hotel.

Frederick L. Searing, manager of the Ansonia from 1902 to 1910, testified he was the notary who acknowledged one of the deeds which Mrs. Stokes alleges she signed under duress and threats of physical violence.

Questioned as to why he remembered the occasion so clearly, he said:

"I considered Mrs. Stokes was a well trained social pirate."

"What do you mean?"

"A social pirate is one of a brood that preys on rich men."

"And on what do you base that opinion?"

"I have nothing to base it on."

Medillians Will Hear Editor of Detroit News

This week's lecturer at Medill School of Journalism is Lee A. White, one of the executives of the Detroit News. He will talk to the school this evening at 8:15 o'clock on "What the Public Wants"—meaning the people who read newspapers. Such of that public as would like to hear Mr. White's answer to an important question is invited to attend his lecture. It will be given at Northwestern university's Chicago headquarters, 31 West Lake street.

ENGLAND NEEDS LLOYD GEORGE IN SADDLE, PLEA

Premier's Fight for Scalp Opened.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's campaign against the forces which have been trying to compel him to resign was opened in earnest today when Lord Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, at a meeting of Conservative members of parliament, made a fighting speech justifying the coalition and predicting its continuation for six or seven years.

LORD BIRKENHEAD [Tribune Foreign News Photo.]

He devoted most of his address to the settlement of the Irish question as the outstanding achievement of the coalition. He said the Conservative members of the cabinet were fully responsible for all that had been done and he believed they had accomplished a lasting settlement and a permanent cure for the "follies, mischiefs, and crimes of centuries."

Praises Griffith and Collins.

"I can only say that almost everything said and everything done by Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith has justified our personal valuation of their character," he added.

Lord Birkenhead also paid a high tribute to Sir James Craig, declaring the Ulster leader had made a most important contribution to Irish peace.

Speaking about the coalition, he said it did not have the slightest intention of retiring. Referring to former Prime Minister Asquith's demand for a return to "healthy play in politics" after the war abnormalities, he said: "If the coalition was justified in the war, it is just as much justified now. Europe is still prostrate, our finances are almost in a desperate situation, our streets are thronged with unemployed, and our eastern dependencies are supplying every ground for apprehension.

Sees Critical Years Ahead.

"I look into the future, and I see seven or eight critical years, but I believe these dangers can be surmounted and overcome by an association well attended by patriotic men."

Lord Birkenhead attacked the Labor party, which, he said, had played a part of abject poltroonery, being afraid to denounce traitors to the commonwealth.

Hepburn Leaves $5,000,000 to Charity and His Family

New York, Feb. 1.—[United News.]—The will of A. Barton Hepburn, for many years head of the Chase National bank, who died Saturday from injuries sustained when he was struck by an auto, leaves $1,000,000 to educational and charitable institutions, and the remainder, about $4,000,000, to his family and other relatives.

O, SKINNAY! JUST TURN ON GAS AND YOU GET ALCOHOL

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Announcing that he had been successful in obtaining pure grain alcohol from ordinary illuminating gas, Dr. Eldon R. Darling of the Millikin university chemistry department gave out today the results of a series of experiments that may mean much to the industrial world.

In his research he used the gas which is burned in thousands of Decatur homes daily. This is not extraordinary in any manner, he pointed out, and better qualities of gas to be found in other cities should provide better yields.

After purifying and drying the gas he heated it in a furnace to 360 degrees centigrade in contact with other gases and with finely powdered nickel. The powdered metal and the gas form a product which, when passed through sulphuric acid, forms the alcohol. It is extracted by treating with water.

FLU GERM STOPS CHILLY BACKS AT ROYAL WEDDING

LONDON, Feb. 1.—[By United News.]—The royal decree prescribing morning dress and hats as the costume to be worn by women guests at the wedding of Princess Mary in Westminster abbey has caused consternation among the fashionable modistes of London who had invested heavily in stocks of evening dresses. While they are looking dolefully upon their expensive Paris models, society women and milliners are overjoyed, and blessing the influenza germ to which the ruling is attributed.

LORD SANDHURST.

Society leaders who expect to attend the wedding are naturally gratified over escaping the prospect of braving the cold abbey with bare shoulders and thinly veiled heads.

Breaks Court Tradition.

It is interesting to note, too, that the announcement of Lord Sandhurst, the lord chamberlain, prescribing morning dress and hats breaks a tradition centuries old concerning the dress of women at court functions and will probably prove to be the death knell of court or evening dress for future functions, except purely evening affairs.

England's women of fashion are keeping a close tab on the progress of Princess Mary's trousseau. Already it has solved one problem for them. Princess Mary's dresses are going to be long, and the English women, therefore, will also lengthen their skirts.

"Princess Mary Blue."

Another influence will be exerted by Princess Mary on spring fashion tones. Princess Mary's favorite color is blue, which will play a prominent part in her trousseau. Therefore, blue, the color of happiness, will appropriately be the leading shade of the season.

Larkspur blue is peculiarly well suited to the dim, mystic lights of the abbey and doubtless will be used in the dresses of the royal bridesmaids.

GERMANY UNDER ARMS TO FIGHT RAILWAY STRIKE

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The government is determined to make an issue of the right of government employés to strike, the occasion being the strike of engineers, firemen, and technical personnel of the railroads, which is scheduled to start at midnight. President Ebert issued a proclamation warning the strikers of the gravity of the act and providing jail and money sentences for picketing and sabotaging.

PRESIDENT EBERT.

Tonight the president declared "ausnahmezustand," which is a sort of semi-martial law. Battalions of the reichswehr filled the drill grounds and practiced rifle and revolver firing.

The Socialist police commissioner of Berlin has called out the police to protect those refusing to walk out and ordering the confiscation of strike funds and strikers' proclamations.

The strikers are demanding wage increases ranging from 40 to 80 per cent, which is calculated to increase the German budget by 50,000,000,000 marks (roughly $250,000,000) annually.

The strike is not likely to be successful, as it is meeting with strong opposition in the ranks of the railroad men themselves, who are afraid of wholesale dismissals and the jeopardizing of their pensions.

Lenin Plan to Reduce Russian Army Rejected

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—The central executive committee of the soviet government has rejected a proposal by Nikolai Lenin that the Russian army be reduced by half, according to a Moscow dispatch to the Social Demokraten by way of Berlin. Lenin's proposal was made with a view to meeting the wishes of the United States, but it was opposed by Leon Trotzky.

Hugo Stinnes to Operate Four Hotels in Moscow

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Director Kraemer of the Esplanade hotel, one of the most luxurious in Berlin, departed for Moscow accompanied by a staff of officials, where they will open up four hotels, to be financed by Hugo Stinnes.

NEW YORK WOMAN DIVORCED FROM CHICAGO CLERK

After evidence had been submitted showing her husband had a wife and child living in Chicago, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Schocke of New York City yesterday was granted an absolute decree of divorce from Hermann C. Schocke, an accountant living at 4817 North California avenue. The divorce was signed by Supreme Court Justice Seeger at White Plains.

Schocke could not be reached at his Chicago residence last night. His friends, however, admitted that he had been married here for several years. He was formerly employed by the firm of E. W. Wagner & Co., stock brokers.

COUNTY HEADS MUST REDUCE OFFICE COSTS

No salary increases are included in the tentative budget for Cook county's various departments in 1922, according to Deputy Controller Graham. He estimates that the department heads will be forced to even trim their present expense figures in order that the budget may be approved as within the estimated revenue.

The sum of the amounts asked by department heads when they reported several days ago was $24,599,875.75.

Sheriff Peters asked for the largest single expenditure—$115,500 to pay county policemen. For the first time in the county's history a request is made for money to pay a judge's pension. The pension is for $3,462.40 for Judge Brentano.

Your dentist will tell you that four people out of every five past the age of forty have Pyorrhea.

And thousands of younger persons are victims of this dangerous enemy.

Are your gums sore or tender? Do they bleed when you brush your teeth?

If so, go to your dentist at once and start using Forhan's For the Gums immediately.

For bleeding gums are an early symptom of Pyorrhea which quickly loosens the teeth, until they drop out or must be pulled, and causes poisonous pus pockets to which scientists trace many serious ailments.

You can prevent Pyorrhea, or arrest its course, by the consistent use of Forhan's For the Gums in sufficient time.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's twice a day or oftener. It will keep your teeth and gums in a healthy condition.

Remember—four out of five are caught by Pyorrhea because they are neglectful. Start using Forhan's For the Gums today. 35c and 60c tubes at your druggist's.

"I won't carry throat germs to those at home"

All day long—in the office or shop, in the cars, the crowded stores—you have been breathing in germs of sore throat, tonsillitis, influenza. In the warm crevices of throat and mouth they multiply rapidly.

The folks at home may be less able than you to resist these armies of ill-health and the home-coming kiss may bear the dread germs of disease.

A pleasant—almost candy-like—Formamint dissolved in the mouth now and then during the day makes the mouth fluids antiseptic, keeps germ-growth within bounds, and forms a strong defence against disease.

If the throat is already sore, the frequent use of Formamint keeps the membranes bathed in this splendid antiseptic, allays inflammation, prevents new infection and gives the tissues a chance to heal.

Children are glad to use them and should do so freely, as crowded school-rooms are fruitful fields for the spread of throat infection.

Recommended by throat specialists physicians, dentists and druggists.

FIRST VOTE ON NEW POPE WILL BE CAST TODAY

French Deny Any Attempt to Rule Vatican.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Feb. 1.—In an exclusive interview with a CHICAGO TRIBUNE correspondent Cardinal Dubois, the patriarch of Paris, exploded the theory frequently expressed here that the French cardinals are seeking a successor to Pope Benedict who will favor the anti-reconciliation policies of Pope Pius X. in order to protect the French sponsorship of Catholicism in the orient.

The cardinals meet tomorrow in Sistine chapel to begin the selection of a new pope.

"We are highly enthusiastic over Pope Benedict's policy, and we believe necessary the continuation of that policy to reach our ultimate goal," Cardinal Dubois said. "France and Italy are Latin sisters and would thus be drawn closer under the great wing of Catholic faith and would live in the love and harmony which Christ teaches."

First Vote Tomorrow.

The last of the nine requiems for Pope Benedict was chanted today, after which the cardinals took a tearful leave of the past and again turned their eyes to the future. Tomorrow the cardinals will retire into seclusion, to remain in conclave behind bricked up and sealed doors until a new pope is elected.

The first vote will be taken tomorrow afternoon following the taking of oaths by the cardinals. More than 100 servants, in attendance on the cardinals, including cooks, waiters, and barbers, will also be sworn to secrecy.

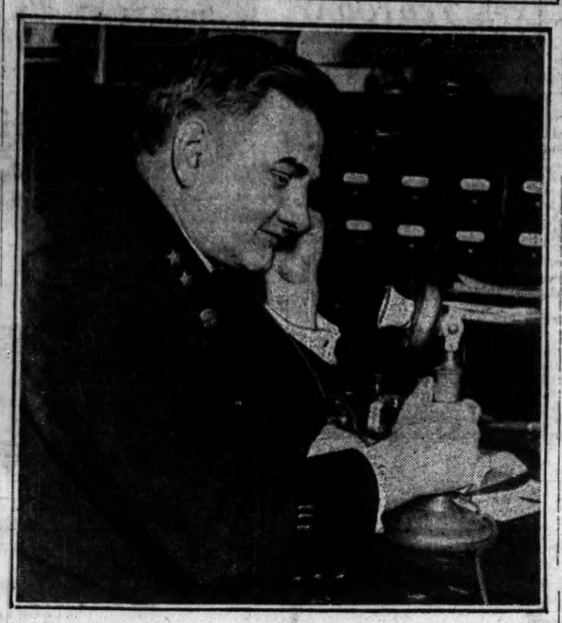
The only report the outside world will get as to the progress of the conclave will be the smoke from the Vatican chimney. The ballots will be burned after each vote until a two-thirds majority for some candidate is cast.

New Candidate Appears.

Although at first it was believed a pope would be elected within three days, the diversity of policies within the sacred college may cause a prolongation. Cardinal Mistrangelo, archbishop of Florence, is among the latest of the suggested candidates. He is a supporter of Pope Benedict's policy, and at the same time he is disposed to compromise with the Merry Del Val group. The general tenor of Pope Benedict's policy would prevail, but in a modified and circumspect manner, should he be elected.

Both houses of the Italian parliament also meet tomorrow. They will devote their first session to memorial services for the late pope. This action threatens to precipitate a crisis in Italy and may cause the fall of the cabinet.

NEW RULER OF COUNTY JAIL



Capt. Wesley Westbrook, at one time first deputy superintendent of police, was appointed yesterday as county jailer by Sheriff Charles W. Peters. He will take office today. He is charged with restoring discipline in the jail and bringing an end to the conditions which permitted the recent escape of "Tommy" O'Connor and his companions and the outbreak of last Saturday, which was only quelled when riot guns were aimed at seventy mutineering prisoners. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

ONE OF THESE MEN WILL BE CHOSEN AS THE NEXT PONTIFF

Election of the next pope of the Roman Catholic church begins in the Vatican at Rome today. Fifty-nine cardinals are members of the conclave, but only fifty-three or fifty-four have reached Rome. Others, including two from the United States and one from Canada, may reach Rome in time to vote should the contest be prolonged. The college of cardinals is composed of seventy members, but ten vacancies due to death had not been filled at the time of the death of Pope Benedict XV. Cardinal Santos of Spain died on the same day that the pope died. The following list of cardinals, one of whom will be the next pope, was carefully compiled last night from all the authentic available sources of information:

PRIEST IN A TAXI STRUCK BY AUTO; HURT SEVERELY

The Rev. Father Michael J. Carey, 45 years old, an assistant pastor at St. Mary's Paulist Roman Catholic church, was seriously injured last night when a taxicab in which he was riding was struck by another car at 50th street and Drexel boulevard.

William Block, 66 years old, 3242 South Wells street, was badly injured when struck by a taxicab as he was crossing Halsted street at Harrison street. Block was taken to the county hospital.

HOPE OF OCEAN LANE TO CHICAGO STIRS EUROPE

[Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The European press is greedily printing every dispatch from America concerning "the proposal to make a Baltic sea of the great lakes," as the London Chronicle expresses it, through canalizing the St. Lawrence river.

Leading Paris, Rome, London, and Berlin newspapers have published maps pointing out the benefits of ship lanes direct to Chicago and Duluth. The Europeans chiefly are interested in the assurances that a deep waterway would reduce the cost of American wheat, ore, and other products of the midwest and Canada.

Moreton Frewen, writing in the London Chronicle, says: "Just as the Roosevelt administration immortalized itself by the Panama canal, so may the Harding administration have even a greater claim on posterity by deepening the locks in the St. Lawrence. The economic value of this would exceed a dozen Panamas."

POISONED BY MOONSHINE.

An unidentified man, 40 years old, was found unconscious in a hallway at 1756 18th street yesterday. He was suffering from a skull fracture and wood alcohol poisoning.

The roll was called with crowded galleries watching every move. Anti-Saloon league representatives were on the job at the outskirts of the convention. Immediately after the announcement of the vote, Delegate Barr changed his vote for the purpose of moving reconsideration, a motion that he can make at any time, and a caucus of the downstate delegates was called for the express purpose of preparing the compromise which is now under construction tonight. The convention adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow, with the probability that a recess will be taken until next Tuesday for the purpose of working out the pending peace arrangement.

FISHER REFUSES GROH NEW TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Judge Fisher yesterday denied a motion of a new trial on behalf of David S. Groh, a private detective, who was convicted recently on a charge of manslaughter. Davis Stansburg, his attorney, was given time in which to take the case to the Supreme court.

Groh was found guilty of killing South Park Policeman Martin Collins. According to the testimony, Groh and his wife were riding in their automobile and after a collision Collins jumped on the running board and ordered Groh to stop. Instead, it is charged, he tried to knock the policeman off, and then deliberately sideswiped another machine, crushing the officer to death.

DISCHARGE EX-SOLDIER.

Roy Owens of Flint, Mich., a former soldier, said he had been unable to find work when he appeared in the Chicago avenue court yesterday charged with begging. He was discharged.

VIERECK SOUGHT MAYOR FOR HIS 'ALL-AMERICAN'

New York, Feb. 1.—George Sylvester Viereck, formerly editor of the Fatherland, today indorsed Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, who is suing THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for $500,000 for alleged libel, in connection with articles criticizing him for permitting certain alleged pro-German meetings to be held in his city.

Testimony of Mr. Viereck and more than a score of other New York witnesses is being taken before a commissioner appointed on application of the newspaper. Viereck's examination will be contained tomorrow.

"For Real Americanism."

Viereck said he was in entire sympathy with Mayor Thompson in the suit. He added that, although he never had met the mayor, he admired him "as one of the few public officials who was courageous enough to stand up for real Americanism." He said he had in 1920 suggested him for vice president on an "All-American" national ticket.

The witness asserted that, although he was against the war, he had not opposed government activities, and exhibited three letters of commendation from Hans Reig, who directed Liberty loan drives among German-Americans.

After he had declared British propaganda was one of the principal causes for the United States entering the war he defined propaganda "colloquially as distribution of newspaper articles and printed matter "irrespective of the truth." In this sense he denied there had been any German propaganda in this country.

Discussed "Topics of Day."

He was asked if he ever had discussed propaganda with Capt. Karl Boy-Ed and other Germans he said he had met socially.

"It is quite possible that, in the course of social conversation, some topic of the day was discussed," he answered.

Counsel for THE TRIBUNE said they had been advised that Mayor Thompson would apply tomorrow in Chicago for an order to appoint Charles Greensmith, a New York lawyer, as commissioner to take testimony of Samuel Untermyer, Dr. William Bayard Hale, and Louis Hammerling.

Would Bar Sale of Candy to Children Under 13

Boston, Mass., Feb. 1.—The sweet tooth that craves candy usually means a decayed tooth, Dr. William Parker Cook of the Harvard dental school told a legislative committee today, urging his bill to prohibit sale of sweetmeats to children under 13 years of age without written permission of parents.

U. S. DRY AGENT PLANNED BOOZE THEFT, HE SAYS

Scott Burnett, formerly a government agent, confessed yesterday that he engineered the robbery of liquors valued at $10,000 from the cellar of Maurice L. Rothschild, 3725 South Michigan boulevard, last week. He and his confederates are under arrest and he has been suspended by Collector of Internal Revenue John C. Cannon.

Murdered Banker Leaves $200,000 Estate to Widow

The will of the late John Stoffel, bequeathing a $200,000 estate to his widow Mrs. Katie Stoffel, 402 North 3d avenue, Maywood, was filed in the Probate court before Assistant Judge Paul Corkell yesterday. Mr. Stoffel was president of the Maywood State bank. He was shot and killed Jan. 6 in a pay roll robbery in front of the banking offices.

END OF JANITOR CHIEFS' TRIAL EXPECTED TODAY

The case against William F. Quesse, president of the Chicago Flat Janitors' union, and nine other officials of the organization on trial before Judge John A. Swanson in the Criminal court, charged with extortion and bomb outrages, will be given to the jury some time this afternoon.

All day yesterday Attorney Joseph Harrington, one of the counsels for the defense, argued before the jury. He will conclude early this morning, and then he will be followed by Attorney W. W. O'Brien. Special Prosecutor Edwin J. Raber will close for the state.

No progress was made yesterday in the selection of a jury to try Simon O'Donnell, former president of the Chicago Building Trades council, and three other labor officials on trial before Judge John R. Caverly.

"He built the rail-pile as he built the state, pouring his splendid strength through every blow,
The conscience of him testing every stroke, to make his deed the measure of a man."

This characterization of Lincoln is all any man can hope to be. A builder, a worker with an ideal and a soul.

If we build we must have a foundation—something ahead. A Savings Account is the logical beginning. Nothing so impairs a man's efficiency as worry. His great need to earn more sometimes causes him to earn less. A troubled mind distracted from the business in hand tries to serve two masters and serves neither.

Start a Savings Account with our bank today. Steadfastly add to that account each month and by sustained determination prove yourself the measure of a man—for determination makes him.

What Is The World's Best Car Worth?

THIS is a great message for those who really know automobile value—

—and refuse to compromise!

If you want the comfort and assurance and ability of a car that through years of satisfying service delivers unvarying return for your investment—

—in short, if you are among those who say, "I have always wanted a Stutz"—

—Now comes the establishment of a new Standard of first cost of cars fitting to rank among the world's best.

Remember how years ago Stutz established its supremacy over the best cars of foreign make on the Speedways—

—And then add that the Stutz of today is the finest product that ever bore the Stutz name—with all the added value in design, materials and construction that the great solidly-financed Stutz organization can produce.

Add among its refinements that the Stutz buyer now has the option of right or left hand drive.

Then note these new prices, which tell the story of a new Stutz record—the new standard for the first cost of the world's finest cars—

STUTZ	Bearcat	$2950
STUTZ	Roadster	$2950
STUTZ	Four Passenger	$2990
STUTZ	Six Passenger	$2990
STUTZ	Coupe	$3990

Better act quickly to insure delivery of just the model you want. Even the facilities of the great Stutz factory are limited by manufacturing standards that do not insure an adequate production to meet the demand at these new prices.

STUTZ DEALERS NEWS

THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1922

Stutz Sales Plan Is Big Success

The new dealers' plan of Stutz, which was introduced during the Chicago Auto Show, met with instant success.

Visiting dealers who received the plan in detail admitted that it was a square openhanded effort on the part of the manufacturer to co-operate to the fullest extent with the dealers.

The plan was prepared by an ex-dealer and is the fairest proposition you have ever seen.

Dealers Like It

It has been very gratifying to the Stutz executives to receive so many complimentary calls from dealers handling various makes of cars at Stutz headquarters in the Congress Hotel.

They were all very much interested in the Stutz sales plan and agreed that it was most satisfactory to dealers.

Abe Martin Says

"We remember when it used t' take five or six years o' good, hard, consistent drinkin' t' kill a feller."

Visitor From Tulsa

Frank Miller, Tulsa, Okla., dealer, came to the show to report an enthusiastic Stutz business in his sector.

Smart From Memphis

Thomas Smart, who sells the Stutz in Memphis, Tenn., has an optimistic word for the 1922 auto selling season in the southland.

Marshall in Town

Thomas L. Marshall of the Detroit Stutz agency is an interested visitor at the Automobile Show.

Drive Optional

Norman Moses from Toledo says more of his prospects want right hand driven Stutzes than left. The drive of the new Stutz is now optional—left or right.

East Represented

The Wilkes Barre, Pa., dealer, Bruce Grant, came on to witness the reception of the new Stutz in Chicago. "Great," he says.

PUT DENEEN OUT OF POLITICS, IS CROWE WAR CRY

Calls Him 'Dog in Manger' in Fight on City Hall.

BY PARKE BROWN.

State's Attorney Crowe announced last night that the controlling motive of all his political activity from now until the primary of April 11 will be the determination to eliminate Charles S. Deneen from Cook county politics.

He said this in conection with a statement that his organization will not put up candidates against Brundage selections on the Brundage-Deneen slate but will oppose bitterly every candidate from the Deneen camp. He said he understood that Attorney General Brundage was to select the B-D entries for county treasurer and county clerk and that, therefore, those places will remain blank on his own ticket.

The state's attorney also announced that the approval of Alfred Swanson, an insurance man from the Twenty-sixth ward, and Joseph Zientek, a resident of the Eleventh ward identified with a west side bank, in a conference during the day completed the slate of his forces for the county board.

Finish Slate Today.

"At another meeting tomorrow," he said, "we shall settle finally upon our candidates for the board of review and county superintendent of schools and our ticket will be complete.

"Then we shall be ready to devote all our energies to what appears at this time to the most vital thing in the April primary—the necessity of eliminating Charles S. Deneen from his present position in Cook county politics.

"We shall not oppose Brundage candidates because Attorney General Brundage manifested an honest desire to coöperate in a movement to smash the city hall machine and reorganize the Republican forces of the county.

"But Mr. Deneen, always a spoils politician, always selfish, again played the dog in the manger. He balked at entering into an organization that promised to be so big that he could not control it; he refused to enter into an agreement for the good of the community and the party, and, hesitating to risk the control of the jobs he now has in his grasp, he blocked a plan well under way for the consolidation of all the anti-city hall Republicans into one group that could have dominated the situation beyond any doubt.

Brands Him Selfish Leader.

"This is not any new or surprising act on the part of Mr. Deneen. As long as I have known anything of Republican politics in Chicago this has been Mr. Deneen's attitude and veterans whose experience goes many years back beyond mine tell me that he always has been recognized as the most selfish leader that ever gained power in local politics.

"The day that Charles S. Deneen retires from politics should be a happy day for Republicans not only in Cook county but throughout the state of Illinois. And I and my associates will do everything in our power to speed that happy day."

Mr. Deneen, from his room in the Presbyterian hospital where he is under observation for stomach trouble, said that he will not reply to State's Attorney Crowe until the B-D ticket is completed and that then he will issue a statement. He said that he may be in the hospital for three weeks.

Democratic Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Democratic slate committee scheduled for the afternoon was postponed until after the meeting of the city council and the aldermanic session adjourned at such a late hour that another adjournment was taken until today. One of the problems the committee is working upon is the arrangement of a ticket that will show at least one candidate from every ward in the city and a fair showing from the country towns.

Petitions for the nomination of Eugene L. McGarry for the county judgeship in opposition to E. K. Jarecki, the regular organization's choice, were put into circulation.

IT WAS ONLY A $300 FRIENDSHIP RING, SAYS GIRL

Miss Bessie Shaffer, 5517 Kimbark avenue, was never engaged to Morris Meidenberg, reputed to be a candy manufacturer of 32 Broadway, New York. Nor did he give her a $1,000 engagement ring; it was merely a $300 "friendship" ring, and, furthermore, she won't give it up.

MISS BESSIE SHAFFER.

MORRIS MEIDENBERG.

That is Miss Shaffer's answer to a damage suit filed by Meidenberg yesterday, alleging Miss Shaffer jilted him after persuading him to divorce his wife. Various missives, signed "Lovingly, Bessie," were displayed by Attorney Harry D. Koenig as evidence.

"He begged and begged me to marry him, but I refused," said Miss Shaffer. "I am entitled to the ring. He came to my mother's home to board and brought troops of his relatives along. He owes the value of the ring for board money. So there!" "Morris is in Chicago now, living on South Ashland avenue," she said, "working in a west side candy factory under an assumed name."

PITTSBURGH PLUS HURTS BUSINESS OF MIDDLE WEST

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Western manufacturers of automotive specialties are losing ground, according to testimony given in the hearing of the "Pittsburgh plus" case here today by Carl F. Garney of the E. R. Wagner company of North Milwaukee, makers of automotive parts and parts for children's vehicles.

Mr. Garney testified that, in competition with a Cleveland concern, although his firm eliminated its profits entirely, it could not obtain orders because of the increased cost of steel consequent upon the "Pittsburgh plus" practice.

Mr. Garney also testified that he could buy the greater portion of his steel requirements in the Chicago district and thus save six and six-tenths per cent of the cost, but did not do so because of "Pittsburgh plus."

Prior to last April the independents were cutting prices on sheet steel, he said, but at that time the U. S. Steel corporation reduced its price, which had been the same as during the era of high prices. The reduction, however, still left the corporation price higher than that of the independents, who promptly raised their prices to equal the new price schedule announced by the corporation, the reduction being really an increase of approximately $5 a ton.

H. C. Banks of the Interstate Drop Forge company of Milwaukee testified that his concern lost a job in the city of Milwaukee, where its product is made, to a competitor in the Pittsburgh district, because of the difference in the cost of its raw material.

Houston Thompson, a member of the federal trade commission, sat with Examiner J. W. Bennett during today's hearings and will remain here several days.

WIFE CHARGES CONFIDENCE GAME.

Henry Swanson, 530 Oakdale avenue, was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with operating a confidence game. Mrs. Swanson alleges her husband withdrew $4,000 from the bank which belonged to her and then said he was held up and robbed of the money. She says she believes he still has it.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

One third of your life is allotted to sleep. Do you get your share?

The most important period in the process of applying nutrition to the repair of the body is while you are asleep. For the most favorable transformation of digested food into nerve and cell tissue, so doctors tell us, sleep is absolutely essential.

Is it any wonder that those who suffer from lack of proper sleep are weak, pale and lacking in energy or ambition?

One of the causes of insomnia is nerve-irritation from tea and coffee drinking. Tea and coffee both contain caffeine, which has a tendency to cause undue stimulation. The irritating effect of caffeine often results in insomnia, depression, and a weakened nervous system.

You can easily overcome these troubles by drinking Postum instead of tea or coffee. Postum is a delicious, satisfying cereal beverage, and it is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this delicious, refreshing beverage for ten days. Then see if you do not feel better and more clear headed, and if you do not sleep better at night—as so many other people have proved for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1—Build the Subway Now.

THE "OPEN SHOP" DIFFICULTY.

The Chicago building trades, according to William A. Curran, president of their council, will accept the Landis award for 1922 and go back to work IF—nonunion men now employed in building trades are withdrawn. There is a suggestion there of a spirit of compromise. If that spirit is carried just a little further Chicago may yet realize its long awaited building boom this spring and both the building trades men and their fellow workmen in all other lines may profit accordingly.

The citizens' committee formed to enforce the Landis award is not conciliatory. It holds that those unions which originally agreed to abide by the decision of Judge Landis and then refused to do so after they found wages reduced, have sacrificed all claims to credit. They broke their pledge in that; how can they be trusted immediately in something else? There is something in that point of view. It puts the recalcitrant trades fairly on the defensive. If they care to restore themselves to public confidence and obtain public support they must prove their good faith in a tangible manner.

They can do so by removing the "if" from their acceptance and returning to work under the award without expressed conditions. That will start building. Then, gradually, under the terms of the award, union men will take the place of nonunion substitutes if there are enough union men to fill the jobs.

That would mean a sudden revival of prosperity in all lines of business in Chicago and a correspondingly reduced cost of living. If the trades men and the employers or the citizens' committee hang up on the words "open shop" it will mean an indefinite continuation of our building blockade, the driving of capital irretrievably into other cities for investment, and a continuing or increasing toll of high rents and idleness from those least able to bear it—the wage or small salary earners in all lines of activity beside the building trades.

In this matter, we believe, the "open shop" is not desired by a majority of Chicagoans, or of building contractors, for the purpose of ruining the trades unions or driving their members to accept starvation wages. The unions, if honestly conducted, are generally recognized as good for the men and convenient for employers. The "open shop" is wanted because employers have found that they cannot trust some of the unions to keep pledges and so can find assurance of safety only in dealing with the individuals.

Disclosures before the Dailey commission have convinced the public that graft, blackmail, coercion, restriction of output, etc., grew to such an extent among building trades unions in Chicago prior to the general industrial slump that they poisoned, and have now paralyzed, the proper functioning of the organizations. If such poison is cast off by the trades council the unions will return to health and strength.

The best way to cast it off is to go to work, honestly, whole heartedly, and without restrictive conditions. That will put both the unions and the city upon their feet. If such a policy is not pursued both sides will be injured in the battle.

The membership of the unions must prove good faith toward their employers. The citizens must prove good faith toward the city.

TO HELP ALASKA AND OURSELVES.

During the recent war the chief nations of the world engaged in the destruction of wealth on an unprecedented scale. Even the United States poured wealth into that fiery pit. Now that the destruction has ceased we, like other peoples, find ourselves burdened with heavy debts and with an enlarged machinery of special production which we find it hard to utilize.

What we need, of course, is to turn to the peaceful production of wealth to meet our debts and make up our losses, and fortunately for us our resources are unexhausted. The continent is rich in agricultural and mineral wealth, in undeveloped possibilities of power, improved circulation, and industrial efficiency in all fields of production.

But there is one region which perhaps is being neglected. In Alaska we have vast stores of wealth which are not yet exploited. Our Alaskan fellow citizens tell us, however, that population and industry are declining in that region, although the climate of southern Alaska is mild and the resources in mines, forest, water power, and agriculture are sufficient to sustain a large and prosperous population.

What is blocking progress in this American possession? The Alaskan delegate in congress, Mr. Sutherland, charges that Alaska's development is being paralyzed by a transportation monopoly, which, in alliance with or under control of special interests, is exacting exorbitant freight rates and discriminating against the smaller enterprises upon which the general development of the country and the increase of population depend. Mr. Sutherland presents some telling statistics and makes the most definite charges. He appeals to congress for legislation and consideration of the conditions affecting Alaska's growth.

We think congress should lose no time in making a thorough public inquiry, and upon the basis of ascertained facts should establish conditions for Alaska which shall foster its healthy development.

This is especially to be desired at this time, when America needs new wealth to replace what has been destroyed and to help us meet and remove the huge burden of debt which the war heaped upon our shoulders. New wealth means new sources of taxation and a proportionate reduction of the burden now carried by existing property and enterprise. It means new opportunity for labor and for capital.

A bill introduced by Senator Cummins and by Representative McFadden, in their respective houses, directs the use of government shipping to open up transportation competition and induce lower rates to Alaska. Without pretending to pass upon this or any other measure for Alaskan relief, we believe the situation should be given careful consideration by congress without delay and sound measures of relief provided.

SAILORS FOR THE SHIPS.

A Washington dispatch says that President Harding has made known his opposition to the proposal in congress that the personnel of the navy shall be reduced to 50,000 men. The naval ratio established by international agreement can be overthrown if the United States reduces the efficiency of its ships. The balance is not maintained by tonnage, but by tonnage plus men.

The United States could make its navy inferior to Japan's and much inferior to Great Britain's, instead of being supposedly equal to the British and superior to the Japanese, by neglecting the quality and numerical sufficiency of the navy personnel. The other nations will not suffer from such neglect, but many Americans seem to have the idea that ships fight themselves.

MORE DOPE FROM NORTH DAKOTA.

The proposal that the federal government shall fix a minimum price for farm products is the latest proof of a famous saying. The philosopher Hegel declares "we learn from history that we learn nothing from history."

Time and again in the experience of nations governments have undertaken to fix prices and the results have always been disastrous. In war time price fixing has been justified for brief periods under special circumstances. In peace never.

Yet because many farmers are suffering from the effects of war inflation and the necessary reaction, it is proposed to relieve them by schemes for government action to "stabilize" prices at a satisfactory level. A representative from North Dakota goes so far as to advocate empowering the department of agriculture to control acreage "by denial to planters of benefits of the minimum price."

North Dakota has been contributing more than its share of late to our museum of economic and legislative freaks, and we doubt if normal American farmers want to turn the management of their farms over to the government in exchange for a statutory minimum price scheme which won't work, if history teaches anything.

It is to be hoped the improvement of the farmers' condition, which though slow as yet is plainly under way, will clear the air of many ill advised projects, such as government control of prices and acreage. If the American farmer is ready to barter his economic liberty for such a mess of pottage, he has lost his wits. But we do not fear that.

A REASON FOR READING DULL NEWS.

The federal trade commission has begun its hearings at Milwaukee into the "Pittsburgh plus" trade practice which fixes the price of steel on the basis of the Pittsburgh cost plus the freight rate to the point of consumption, whether such rate is actually paid or not.

Similar hearings will be held throughout the country in the next few months. A vast amount of evidence will be adduced. In general it will show what the opening testimony in this hearing showed, that the Pittsburgh manufacturer can place forging in Milwaukee for $3.56 a ton less than his Milwaukee competitor.

That doesn't make very thrilling reading, and as the hearings continue in various cities it will be more and more ignored by the average reader. This is a word of warning against such more or less natural attitude. The "Pittsburgh plus" system costs the middle west more than $75,000,000 annually. It takes toll in some form from virtually every resident of this section. These victims should, in self-defense, follow the reports of the hearings. It will pay them in dollars and cents if they thus inform themselves on the subject and are thus able to bring intelligent influence to bear to check the practice.

THE FREEDOM OF THE KNEES.

Dr. Elizabeth Thelberg, for thirty-four years physician at Vassar college, is greatly concerned about the freedom of the knees. She adds that she hopes the old wasp waisted high corset never comes back, that today backache is almost unknown among women, that the women and girls of today are very much healthier than those of twenty years ago, and that she "knows of nothing prettier than the calf of a young woman."

Many there are who will agree with her on every point. Health, strength, and beauty have been ushered in together with the prevailing styles in women's dress. When that statement is made by a woman physician who has spent a long professional life in daily contact with the lives and problems of young women it cannot lightly be refuted.

Health, strength, and beauty are valuable human possessions. There are few more valuable. In this matter they seem traceable largely to styles in women's dress. They neither approve nor condone immodesty, nor are they in any way dependent upon it. On the contrary, by their very character they disapprove and oppose immodesty. Who, then, will have the presumption to assert that a short skirt is immodest, and should be lengthened?

Whosoever has such presumption should read Anatole France's famous passage upon the draping of Orberosia, in Penguin Island. That, together with Dr. Thelberg's experienced, scientific views, should make out a complete case for the freedom of the knees.

Editorial of the Day

INDUSTRIAL MOBILIZATION.

[Army and Navy Journal.]

Under Secretary Weeks' administration, Assistant Secretary Wainright has been assigned to the great problem of industrial preparedness. This is made plain in the secretary's letter to the senate and house military committees. In this the secretary not only is carrying out the letter but the spirit of the army reorganization act of 1920.

Without any great expenditure of money Assistant Secretary of War Wainwright is preparing plans for industrial mobilization which, in the event of war, would save hundreds of millions of dollars, and, as the secretary declares, would "prevent much of the economic disturbance attendant on the last war." The failure to pursue such a policy in the past is responsible for no small portion of the war taxes which are now depressing business.

The task of keeping the country industrially prepared for defense is a never ending one. With the changing industrial conditions and the improvement in the implements of warfare, the assistant secretary of war will be required to make periodical surveys and revise the industrial mobilization plans of the war department accordingly.

TO PHIDYLE.

Horace, Lib. iii, 23.

"Coelo supinas si tuleris manus."

If thou to heaven thine upturned palms shalt lift,
Sweet Phidyle, when glows the crescent moon
With virgin brightness; and thy simple gift
Shalt offer to thy gods—and ask thy boon,

No scorching drought shall smite thy fruitful vine,
No blight attack thy harvest in the ear,
Nor shall thy flock for lack of pasture pine
When Autumn comes and chills the dying year.

Let Wealth's fat victims graze in pastures lush
Or feed in lanes of flex or of oak
To stain the ax, amid the solemn hush,
And die beneath the consecrated stroke.

Thy lesser gods require not such of thee,
For Innocence has little to atone,
And wreaths of myrtle and sweet rosemary
Are all they ask, to make thy lot their own.

The rarest gift that Riches can confer,
From outraged heaven's justice less commands
Than does the humblest sacrifice of her
Who brings it to the fane—with spotless hands.

MAYBE Anatase Andreivitch Vonsiatskoy-Vonsiatsky took that job in the Baldwin Locomotive works because he heard what Mrs. McCormick said about man being the locomotive and woman the rails. Anatase is going to get chummy with some wise old locomotives and find out how to stay on the track. But a foreign built locomotive, Anatase, often jumps in the ditch when it runs on a track of American gold. Remember, safety first, get up speed slowly, mind the signals, and come to a full stop at crossroads.

Do you work in a bank or an office,
With hundreds of men, girls, and boys,
Not minding the horrible racket,
Excepting just one kind of noise?

The adding machines, phones, and typewriters,
The chins and their rivals, the fans,
Cause never the least interference
With the wheels in your old brain-pans.

But the instant a hummer or whistler
Breaks in—bump! your thinker stops work;
And, twisting and writhing and squirming,
You itch for a gun or a dirk.

O, insuff'rable whistlers and hummers!
Pursue yourselves down to the lake;
Nor halting, rush in where it's deepest,
And drown yourselves, for pity's sake!

SAID Old Hughie Fullerton, who used to do our scoring for us when we covered baseball: "I went out the other night to see some old friends I hadn't seen for years. I asked for the 12 year old son that I used to play with. Mother said son was upstairs and so I called to him: "Come on down, Bub, I want to see how you've grown." "Can't come down," said Bub, mournfully. "Why not?" said I. "Cause," said Bub, "I got two pairs o' pants, but I got two sisters, too, and they've gone skating."

THE B. L. T. Memorial Book has just been issued by Walter M. Hill, 22 East Washington street. The original issue brought out by the Cliff Dwellers was very small, and many of B. L. T.'s friends were disappointed in not getting a copy. The book contains the addresses made at the memorial service at the Blackstone theater and several of Mr. Taylor's best bits of verse, and is most attractively bound.

SONNETS ARE SO SOGGY.

I do not crave, as Olive doth,
To have sweet verses writ to me
On hair and eyes and all that stuff—
I know, alas, just what I be.

But as I wield the rolling pin,
Or light and frothy eggs I beat,
I long to watch some hungry him
Just eat—and eat—and eat.

To see a real he-man sit down
And stow away the chow,
The chicken fried, and biscuits brown,
Is Paradise enow.

DEATHS FROM CHILDBIRTH.

If any one will take the trouble to look the matter up in the reports of the census office, he will find that getting born is a very dangerous business—dangerous to child and dangerous to mother.

If we add together the still births, the born dead, the fatal birth accidents, the deaths in the first week of life, and then add to this the deaths of mothers in childbirth, the total will surpass the figure which marks the present resting place of consumption, a disease which is losing importance yearly.

The question is, Are we paying enough attention to this source of waste? We have made baby life fairly safe, once the baby has reached 1 month of age. Is it not time to do something to make it safe before 1 month of age?

Of the babies injured at birth but surviving, how many go through life crippled mentally and physically?

We know that the birth rate is falling yearly. We know that soon after the immigrant woman learns American ways she learns how to keep from having babies. How much of this is fear of death, and disabling disorder short of death, as a result of childbirth?

The death rate among mothers is rather high, especially in America.

Dr. W. T. Howard gives the rates for women at different age periods per 10,000 births as follows:

Age.	Deaths.	Age.	Deaths.
20	80	40	120
25	75	45	130
30	80	50	170

This means that the woman at 25 has one chance in 133 of dying in childbirth; those in ages 20 and 30, one in 125; those in age period 35, one in 95; in age period 40, one in 83; in age period 45, one in 76; in age period 50, one in 58; in age period 55, one in 47.

The danger changes considerably, and old women are in more danger than young ones. Nevertheless, according to the law of averages, if forty-seven women, each 55 years old, were to have babies, only one of the women would die; or, to put it strikingly, if rather inaccurately, a woman at 55 should have forty-seven babies before dying in childbirth.

But in no age period is childbirth as safe for the mother as it should be.

In fact, Dr. De Lee thinks—however the rest of the world may consider it, and without discussing the reason for it—the doctor must look at childbirth as a pathologic or disease process rather than as a natural process, if he is to give good service.

Dr. Howard's studies prove that our women have twice as high a death rate in labor as do the women of England and Wales.

In fact, we seem to have the highest death rate among women, as a result of childbirth, of all the nations that consider themselves civilized.

Dr. Howard finds that the women who dwell in cities run 10 per cent more risk than do those who live in the country.

The colored women have a higher death rate than the whites both in the city and country.

The principal disease cause for our excessive hazards, as compared with England and Wales, are albuminuria, or Bright's disease; puerperal convulsions, and septicemia.

This means that our women should be examined more frequently before confinement, especially that they should have urine examinations. He argues for better facilities for the care of expectant mothers and women in labor.

The largest factor, he thinks, is the personality of the attendant. He or she should be better trained.

This is true of physicians, midwives, and nurses.

YOU TELL 'EM, LADY LUCK.

J. B. writes: "In a recent issue H. S. asks for a remedy for hives. He is very likely a lover of sugar, as I had been for years, until I found out that sugar was the cause of the trouble."

REPLY.

While I do not doubt your experience, it does not follow that eating sugar is the cause of hives in the case of H. S. The cause of hives is like the Irishman's flea—when you put your finger on it it isn't there.

Guessing a certain cause in one case because that was the cause is another, is more hazardous than shooting craps or guessing where the flea is.

ST. VITUS DANCE.

Lilly R. writes: "I have been afflicted with St. Vitus dance for ten years. I am now 18 years old.

"1. What is the cause of this disease?

"2. Is there any cure?"

REPLY.

1. Among the causes are; Infection with the germs which cause rheumatism, anemia, overstudy, too much work or worry.

2. Yes. Rest, good food, out of door life will cure most cases.

If your disease has lasted ten years you should have a physician to examine you. Other nerve diseases are among the possibilities.

ROARING IN EARS.

H. T. S. writes: "1. Will you please publish the scale for telling blood pressure for any age?

"2. What causes swelling of the upper eyelid?

"3. What causes a singing sensation in the ears?"

REPLY.

1. 120 normal at 20 years. Add 5 for each ten years over 20. This gives normals that are regarded generally as a little too high.

2. Bright's disease is one possibility.

3. Head noises generally result from middle ear trouble.

WIDENING ASHLAND AVENUE.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—I am intending to buy property on Ashland avenue between Irving and Wilson. Does the city intend widening this street and making it a boulevard in the near future? Would that cause the property to depreciate? F. L. M.

We are now at work on the proceeding for widening North Ashland avenue from Winnemac avenue to Irving Park boulevard, and hope to have the assessment roll filed in court within a short time. It is not contemplated that such action would be anything but a benefit to the property; nor could we collect an assessment against any property where we could not show a benefit would be derived from the proposed improvement. EDWARD J. GLACKIN, Secretary Board of Local Improvements.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a friend who was given an indeterminate three to twenty term in the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet.

1. What is the meaning of an indeterminate sentence in Illinois?
2. How long would he have to serve to get out on good behavior?
3. How long before his case may be taken before the parole board?
4. Who attends to his case coming before the parole board?
5. Who are the members of the parole board?
6. Does the parole board have anything to do with a pardon? M. A.

1. Sec. 4160 of J. & A. annotated statutes provides that adult offenders shall be sentenced to the penitentiary, but the court shall not fix the limits, but the term shall be not less than one year nor more than the maximum provided for the crimes.
2 and 3. See 1.
4 and 5. Direct your inquiries to the board.
6. No. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

GARBAGE REMOVED.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—In the alley between Race avenue and Ohio street just east of Austin avenue the garbage has not been moved for over a month and the cans are full and running over. Stray dogs scatter garbage all over the alley, too. When spring comes it will be an ideal place for rats and flies. B. C.

The alley complained of was cleaned on the 23d inst. and will receive weekly service in the future. THOMAS H. BYRNE, Superintendent of Streets.

ARMY DESERTER.

Casey, Ill., Jan. 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man enlists in the army of the United States for a period of three years, serves two of them, and then deserts. Is a fugitive for ten years. 1. Is he still guilty of the charge of desertion or has he been out long enough to outlaw the charge? 2. If so, does he lose his citizenship? 3. Should he marry under an assumed name while still a fugitive, is it legal? W. F. W.

1. It is outlawed under section 2,308, act 39, of United States compiled statutes.
2. No.
3. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SETTLING THE ESTATE.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man dies intestate. 1. Can his children direct that the will is not to be probated or publicly administered? 2. Have collateral kindred the right to share any personal property in conjunction with the children? 3. Would it be fraudulent not to notify children of a deceased child of this man? They are American citizens living in a foreign country. R. J. M.

1. Yes, if all debts are paid and probate is not necessary to make real estate titles merchantable. Inheritance taxes should be attended to. 2. No. 3. Yes.

MEMORY TESTS Can You Answer These?

Answers to these questions will be published tomorrow.

1. Where was the song "Home, Sweet Home," written? Where was the house he wrote of? Where is the author buried?
2. What is the nickname for Fred Fulton, the heavyweight boxer?
3. What well known chemical has been discovered about the volcanic vents on the moon?
4. What is the source of the Mackenzie river in Canada and into what does it empty?
5. Where is the Wenatchee valley, a notable apple raising district?
6. What is a tundra?
7. How many "watches" are there on board ship?
8. Where does the quotation, "Beware the ides of March," occur?
9. When did Paris receive its present name and by what name was it known before that date?
10. After whom were the "Big Berthas" of the Germans named?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

1. Who invented the linotype machine? Ottmar Mergenthaler, an American inventor of German birth.
2. Who is the celebrated French writer best known for his "History of English Literature," one of the best ever written? Hippolyte Adolphe Taine [1828-1893].
3. Who was the greatest of the Roman actors? Roscius, who flourished in the first century B. C. Like Aesop, author of the well known fables, he was originally a slave, and after his emancipation was known as Quintus Roscius Gallus. David Garrick was known as "the British Roscius."
4. What South American river may flow either way? The Casiquiari. This stream is in Venezuela, and joins the Amazon with the Orinoco. It flows with either stream, depending on which has the lower water level at the time.
5. Does the population of a city or town have any bearing upon the minimum capitalizaton of a national or state bank when it is desired to start business? Yes. Outside of incorporated cities or villages or in incorporated cities or villages having less than 500 inhabitants, the minimum is $10,000; in cities and villages having more than 500 and not exceeding 1,500 inhabitants it is $15,000; in cities or villages of more than 50,000 inhabitants the minimum is $100,000, but a bank in such a city or village with a capital of less than $200,000 may not accept deposits in excess of $1,000,000.
6. In what year was the Mexican concession made? How much territory was annexed? 1848; 529,189 square miles.
7. Who won the James Gordon Bennett cup for airplane racing in 1920? Sadi Lecointe of France.
8. Where does the quotation, "All the world's a stage," occur? "As You Like It," act II, scene 7.
9. What is the largest body of fresh water in the world? Lake Superior—400 miles long and 180 miles wide. Its greatest depth is 168 fathoms or 1,008 feet.
10. Who made the first bricks manufactured in America? The Virginia colonists in 1611 on the first site of Jamestown on an island in the James river.

A SOLDIER OPPOSED TO THE BONUS.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—A recent article appeared in THE TRIBUNE headed "A Bonus Plan Would Be Better than a Protest." As I see the question it is not a question as to whether a bonus is better than something else, it is a question as to whether a bonus will do the country some good as a whole and as to whether it will actually be appreciated by the soldiers. In other words, will a bonus be really worth while, and should one be necessary?

As a soldier who saw service in France, I wish to express first of all why I or any other soldier went to war. He went to war because it was his duty to go to war, to protect his country from invasion and to protect his family from outrage. If the person who is in favor of a soldier's bonus thinks that a few hundred dollars given him by the government several years after the declaration of peace will in any way atone or reimburse him for the sacrifices he made, he is sadly mistaken. If he believes that the country is "obliged" to the soldiers who fought in the war, and who are alive today, in terms of mere money, he has the wrong idea entirely, and looks upon our national patriotism in an entirely mistaken light. This idea that the country owes anybody for fighting for it is all "bunk." It is an honor for any man to fight for his country, and he owes it as a sacred duty to his country to serve, leaving all personal considerations out of the question, at any time his services are needed. Was not this country founded by men who served for nothing?

Any one who thinks that the material prosperity sacrificed by the soldiers like myself that served overseas can be taken care of now or at any future date by anything like a bonus are deceiving themselves. It would be impossible in the first place to estimate the amount sacrificed, and it would differ so much in each individual case that to attempt to estimate it would be worse than folly. Even were it estimated in general, what future benefit would a few hundred dollars, two or three hundred at the outside, be to a soldier? Scarcely any. Why? Because in relative terms of this world's goods it is a very small amount. Individually the benefit derived would be almost negligible.

But the onerous taxation resulting from a bonus would keep the high cost of living up and prevent the readjustment which will make for the better material happiness of this country when it is finally realized. What good then would be a soldier's bonus? Absolutely none.

FOR MORE BUT SMALLER HIGH SCHOOLS.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The "standard of conduct" for the Chicago high schools submitted by the superintendent of schools has been featured by the press and discussed generally.

Serious charges, it seems, regarding the conduct of certain pupils led to the declaration regarding dancing, jazz music, joy riding, smoking, and so on.

In the writer's estimation, a remedial agency would be a change of building policy in favor of more and smaller high schools, and not addition on addition to the present buildings. A mammoth building and an enrollment of thousands is glory, perhaps, for a principal and a boost for the ward politician, but certainly is not conducive to the welfare of the child, mentally, morally, or physically.

Many of our high schools are [illegible] school factories, as it were, with pupils traveling down long, long corridors [illegible] class to class, like droves of sheep. Can you not see the right, or must we, when we acknowledge our power, be forced to suppress THE TRIBUNE?

The resolution was prepared by gentlemen who will cause congress to act upon it and if it be necessary for the government to buy Iceland's fish, congress will so order. C. L. L.

FOR FEWER CHILDREN AND BETTER ONES.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—In this morning's TRIBUNE the director of the Child Welfare League of America was quoted as saying that woman's independence was a foe of babies. I do not think it is quite a fair statement. Most of us want our families. But perhaps woman's education has had something to do with the limitation, in making women realize that it is wrong to bring to children into the world when they have only the strength and income to raise three. It is a better policy to raise three children to maturity than to give birth to ten, losing many of them in infancy, probably becoming an invalid herself and with no strength left to make good citizens of those remaining. Being a good mother means more than just giving birth to children. One must have the strength and the intellect to raise them in such a way that they will be a credit to the community. M. B.

"DIVIDING THE SWAG"

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The division of the oil spoils of Asia Minor is occupying the French, British, and Italian foreign offices preliminary to the conference on the near east which is scheduled for Feb. 9. American officials are interesting themselves in the problem, as Former Secretary of State Colby's note last spring recalled to the other states that the United States demanded equal rights on mandates.

Great Britain, France, and Italy are drafting a constitution for class B mandates which will be submitted to Washington before it is sent to the league of nations at Geneva for adoption.

The United States protest is aimed directly at the Anglo-Persian Oil company, which is taking over former German properties in the Mosul oil fields. The French ceded their interest to the British in return for 25 per cent of the profits, leaving America alone to combat the English control of the oil wells.

McADOO DEFENDS HIS ACTIONS AS RAILROAD CHIEF

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—The railroads of the country were in better physical condition at the end of the period of federal control than they had been when taken over during the war, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and war time director general of railroads, today told the senate interstate commerce committee in giving an accounting of his guardianship of the properties during 1918. The committee, which is conducting an inquiry into recent railroad conditions, was unable to hear all of Mr. McAdoo's testimony today and he will continue his statement tomorrow.

The railroads when turned back to their owners, he declared, with 2,006 more locomotives, 26,015 more freight cars and 1,051 more passenger cars than they had possessed at the beginning of federal control, "were in condition to meet the heaviest traffic demands in their history."

"Unification of the railroads," the former director continued, "saved $118,000,000 in operating expenses in 1918." Throughout federal control experienced railroad executives were in charge of the properties under his direcion, he said, denying "the deliberate attempts made to create the impression that I made immediate drastic changes in the management of the railroads and, disregarding the experience and ability of the able railroad men of the country, attempted to run the railroads upon new and untried theories of my own."

MINERS AND R. R. UNIONS DISCUSS ALLIANCE PACT

The possibility and advisability of the railroad brotherhoods and the miners' unions presenting a united front in a sort of "defensive alliance" against the wage reduction programs of rail officials and coal operators will be discussed at a conference of labor chiefs to be held probably within the next ten days.

Invitations to the conference were sent to the heads of sixteen rail unions yesterday by John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, with headquarters in Indianapolis. While no date or place for the conference was mentioned, it probably will be held in Chicago.

D. W. Holt, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen, declared that the matter already has been discussed informally by rail labor chiefs and that it is his belief that they will agree to a conference.

It is rumored that while a majority of the rail unions may agree to the proposed alliance, the "big four" brotherhoods, which stood alone in the recent rail crisis, will not accept the plan.

COUNCIL WANTS OPEN STATIONS ON OAK PARK 'L'

The city council unanimously requested the Oak Park elevated line yesterday to reopen its stations for the benefit of the shivering and paying public. Then a copy of the resolution, presented by Ald. George M. Maypole, was sent to the Illinois commerce commission to obtain action, if the road refuses.

"At some time during each day all stations, except one, between Ashland and Hamlin avenues are closed and locked," said Ald. Maypole. "The patrons of the road have suffered from the cold. I am not asking that the company provide a ticket agent, but if the company does not open the doors to the stations and provide shelter I shall advise the patrons to break down the doors and shall get a lawyer to defend them."

PRIZE LIST

For the Luckiest Name of All - - $10,000

TODAY'S PRIZES

First Prize..... $500.00

Second Prize.....$100.00 Third Prize.....$50.00

All prizes will be paid by check and will be either mailed or delivered to your home. You need not call at The Tribune office for your prize.

First Prize---$500

Ada Gage Allyn, 452 South Grand avenue, West, Springfield, Ill., receives first prize for the luckiest horoscope today:

Ada: Rich gift; happiness.
Gage: A pledge; a challenge.
Allyn: Exceedingly fair; handsome; lovely.

Father's Name.

Henry: Home ruler; ever rich; honorable.
Clay: A sword; glittering.
Barnes: A distinguished family.

Mother's Name.

Lydia: Of Lydia, in Asia, because born in that region.
Hull: From the city of Hull, famous for its good government.
Sutton: A town in the southern part of England.

Birthday, October 31.

1737—James Lowell, American patriot born.
1795—John Keats, English poet, born.

RESUME.

Ada Gage Allyn: Your name is a fortunate one. It indicates capacity for leadership and points to success and good luck. You should have the qualities of courage, confidence and perseverance. Your intuition is unusual. Your own names show that you will be happy. Your father's name is emblematic of the qualities of leadership and success. The recurrence of portents of distinguished family and good government shows you are to be a leader if you so choose. Fine possibilities are in your path. You evidently possess the faculty of imagination. You are independent and energetic; also impulsive.

Second Prize---$100

Richard Reed Burr, 5625 South Wood street, Chicago, is entitled to the second prize.

Richard: Stern king; rich nature or disposition.
Reed: Advice; counsel; help.
Burr: A wall; a hill; a fortress.

Father's Name.

Aaron: High mountain; a mountaineer; a teacher.
Burr: A wall.

Mother's Name.

Adelia: Noble maiden; descended from nobles.
O'Boyle: Yellow-haired—nobly born.

RESUME.

Richard Reed Burr: The capacity for leadership is a constantly recurring sign in your various family's names. Your own indicates a kingly nature with a disposition which should always win you friends. The zodiacal sign governing the date of your birth shows that nothing good or desirable is beyond your reach if you sufficiently strive for it. It also indicates the qualities of devotion and affection, which spell happiness. Your name combinations show that you will rise to eminence in some line of endeavor and that you are animated by a constant desire to help your friends to better places in life. Again, your father's name, while disclosing strength of character, also indicates the same inclination to help those less fortunate. Note the recurrence of "counsel" and "teacher" in your name combinations.

Third Prize---$50

Garfield Arthur Ross, 3500 West North avenue, Chicago, wins third prize.

Garfield: To prepare; ready.
Arthur: A strong man; an emblem of strength and courage.
Ross: A peninsula; an isthmus; a valley.

Father's Name.

Lewis: Iron like; a castle; a safeguard.

Mother's Name.

Marie: Good, exalted.

RESUME.

Garfield Arthur Ross: The significant presence of words meaning "strength" in your name and your father's indicate that you have a strong will and a vigorous personality—qualities which should spell success and the power to overcome obstacles placed in your way. The recurring words "safeguard" and "valley" or sheltered place, point to contentment and the fair winning of comfort for yourself. Your mother's name points to success honestly attained with a high place in the estimation of your friends. The zodiacal sign governing the date of your birth promises you many friends wherever you go. You have charm of personality. The sign promises you achievement without drudgery. Napoleon was born under this sign. Richard Pearson Hobson, whose life has been marked by daring deeds, was likewise born under this sign. Ethel Barrymore, the actress, was born on August 16, the date of your birthday.

To the Public

And the Workingmen in the Building Trades:

The public press reports that the president of the Building Trades Council announces that the unions which had repudiated the Landis award for the last five months will now accept the award, provided the several thousand craftsmen who are now working under open shop conditions in those trades would be discharged.

The purpose of the Citizens' Committee to Enforce the Landis Award was to establish permanent peace in the building industry in Chicago. It was a protest against the intolerable building conditions of the past five years, which have restricted construction, sent building costs soaring, and caused a housing shortage so acute that rents have doubled and in some instances trebled.

The decision of Judge Landis was based upon the principle that every union would live up to its contract. Several of the unions have lived up to their contracts both in spirit and letter, but other unions have repudiated their contracts and have refused to accept the arbitration.

At the first meeting of the Citizens' Committee on November 3rd, the following platform was adopted and announced in the public press:

1: Those employers who continue their operations under the terms and conditions of the Landis award will be encouraged and, when necessary, protected in their operations.

2: Those unions which accept the terms and conditions of the Landis award both in spirit and in fact will be supported.

3: The sale and use of material going into building operations shall be free from arbitrary restrictions.

4: Contractors who refuse to operate under the Landis award deserve neither the encouragement nor the support of the public.

5: In those trades where the unions do not accept the terms and conditions of the Landis award work shall continue by workmen who are willing to work, regardless of their union affiliations. These men will be protected and these trades will be permanently established on the basis of the open shop.

The contractors through the help of the Citizens' Committee have employed workmen in those trades where the unions have refused to abide by the award, and those trades have been declared open shop. The contractors and the Citizens' Committee have given their word to these workmen that they will be permanently retained and that they will be given preference in work hereafter. For the contractors to discharge these men would be repudiating their contracts, while making a fight for the sanctity of contracts on the part of the unions. Such action would also be betraying the trust of the public whose interests are paramount.

Those unions which have lived up to the Landis award will be supported 100 per cent, but those trades which either repudiated it or went out on sympathetic strikes have been permanently declared on the open shop basis, and no negotiations will be carried on with the officers of those unions to "settle."

Neither the contractors nor the Citizens' Committee have any fight against union workmen in the open shop trades, and any such men who will apply for work and agree to work under the terms of the Landis award, to work peacefully with open shop men, and not to go out on sympathetic and jurisdictional strikes, will be given employment in the order of their applications.

PHYSICIANS MUST REGISTER BIRTHS, OFFICIALS SAY

Laxity of physicians in observing state statutes regulting the reporting of births has aroused health officers to action. According to Dr. I. D. Rawlings, head of the state health department, who has completed an exhaustive investigation, physicians who continue to ignore registering births will be dealt with severely, he says.

DR. I. D. RAWLINGS

"We are launching the most thorough birth registration campaign ever attempted in Illinois, and before we are through I fear many doctors will find themselves in court," said Dr. Rawlings.

Poor Memory No Excuse.

"Few doctors willfully fail to record births. The physician is usually overworked and keeps putting off notifying the health department of births, but that excuse can't go any longer. Birth records are among the most important archives of a state or nation. They are vitally important not only from the statistical standpoint but for many other reasons.

"In some cases of failure to inform as to a birth the doctor has a motive, a motive not worthy of his profession, and we are determined to eradicate this practice also."

Tells What Is Being Done.

In line with his crusade against "careless physicians," Dr. Rawlings made public a recent report from F. C. Blandin, a field agent of the department of public health, detailing the finding of several physicians in different parts of the state. Among these cases was that of Dr. F. O. Olms of Hampshire, Ill., fined $5 and costs, and Dr. E. N. Scott, who was fined $5 and costs at Hinsdale.

Public prosecutors throughout the state are lending him their aid in remedying the nonregistration evil, Mr. Blandin declared.

MAY GO TO ASYLUM.

Herbert Mogge, 1823 Rice street, may be committed to the Lincoln Insane asylum following an examination by physicians. Mogge is the boy who confessed to turning in false alarms just to see the fire apparatus in action. Mogge has been examined by Dr. William Hickson, who said the boy was subnormal. A motion was made yesterday in the Boys' court to have Mogge's parents sign a petition for his commitment.

TAX ON WINES AND BEER URGED TO PAY BONUSES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Light wines and beer would be legalized and taxed to pay the soldiers' bonus under measures advocated today by Representative Brennan of Detroit and Representative Hill of Baltimore before the house ways and means committee.

Mr. Hill estimated that the proposed tax would yield between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 a year. Mr. Brennan was confident that the tax would produce a revenue sufficient in four years to pay off the entire cost of the bonus.

"I think it will make toward greater respect for the law if we make the Volstead act reasonable," Mr. Brennan said. "Millions of dollars now spent to enforce the law—which is not enforced at all—should be turned over to the veterans. In four years, if we tax beer 20 cents a gallon, we can raise enough money to pay the bonus."

Mr. Brennan suggested a legal alcoholic content for beer of between 2.75 per cent and 6 per cent. He pointed out that he favored the prohibition amendment when he was a member of the Michigan state senate. He was opposed, he said, to the restoration of the saloon and "hard liquor," but expressed the view that if the present law was modified it would increase respent for law and order.

Representative Hawley of Oregon wanted to know if people could get drunk on 2.75 beer.

"No," replied Mr. Brennan. He added that a person might be able to get drunk on coffee if he drank enough, but that the average stomach was hardly large enough to hold a sufficient quantity of 2.75 beer to enable a person to get drunk. He also informed the committee that sentiment among many of the conservative and law abiding people in Detroit favored modification of the Volstead act as a means of restoring regard for law and decency.

Mr. Hill urged the committee to take favorable action on his bill providing for a bonus to be paid out of the proceeds of a tax on light wines and beer.

"I know my competitor is a quitter"

LAST spring, when his business was very bad, a man decided that he would cut out all the booklets, catalogs, and sales helps he had used in other years.

"I suppose I am a quitter," he told his printer.

A second later he said, "Wait a minute. I know my competitor is a quitter—I am going ahead."

He did. He put his printed messages before every prospective customer he could afford to reach. It cost money. It took nerve. It brought business.

This year is the first year that he has done more business than anybody else in his line.

Better paper produces better printing. Better printing means better seeing, and better seeing means better selling.

Life Size View of DOLE SHURE-VENT AIR VALVE

No Need to Have Knocking, Leaking, Cold Radiators Now

The secret of low fuel bills and plenty of heat is perfect circulation of the steam—a heating system kept free of air to the last section of every radiator.

The Dole Shure-Vent Air Valve gives you this perfect circulation. It is adjusted, tested and sealed at the factory, and guaranteed for the life of the heating system.

Its unvarying automatic action is assured by the scientific principle of its design, the care used in the making, and the quality of all materials.

Even the occasional difficulty known as "water-logging of the air valve" has been provided against by the Dole Emergency Push Button. A slight, momentary pressure on button—if radiator is not heating—instantly restores automatic action. No dismantling, cleaning, or adjusting of valve necessary.

Dole Shure-Vent Air Valves can be purchased from Dealers, Plumber or Steamfitter. Be comfortable—order Dole Valves today

The Magazine of a Remade World

An Authoritative Tribute to Literary Excellence

The Red Book Magazine tops the list in the number of prize stories of 1920 chosen by the Society of Arts and Sciences.

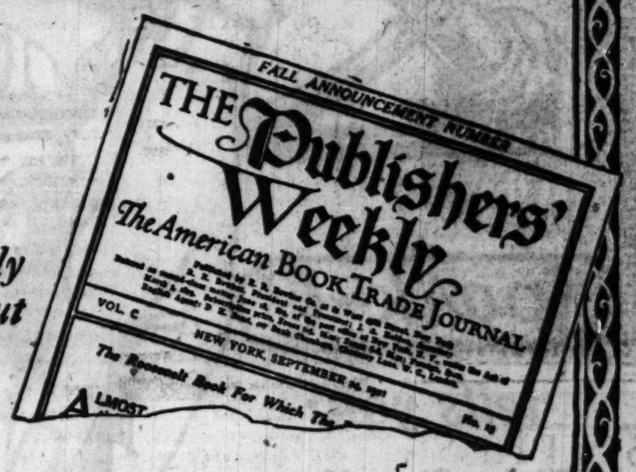
These masterpieces of literature, among those rated highest by the Award Committee of the Society, were conceived for and originally published in THE RED BOOK MAGAZINE—an unparalleled record of editorial understanding.

The most distinguished authors have given to THE RED BOOK MAGAZINE its place as a dominant influence in the home.

A CONSENSUS OF OPINION



The Publishers' Weekly recently obtained from booksellers throughout America their opinions of the relative significance of American authors. The three authors who stood highest are:

BOOTH TARKINGTON · EDITH WHARTON · JOSEPH HERGESHEIMER

They will all contribute to THE RED BOOK MAGAZINE in 1922.

The distinction defined above is maintained in the February issue by whose heart-reaching race story, "Thoroughbreds," will never be forgotten by any reader.

GERALD BEAUMONT

GEORGE GIBBS
who, in "Mamselle Chérie," gives a vivid picture of smart American society in this day of swift changes.

HAL G. EVARTS
whose great story of the Old West reaches here the peak of its interest.

COURTNEY RYLEY COOPER who has never written a more dramatic story of a captive wild animal than he has in "Hate."

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE who, in his amazingly ingenious narrative "Clockwork," tells the inside story of an extraordinary crime.

L. B. YATES
who knows the stories behind the theater curtain and tells one here with lively charm.

EDITH WHARTON
whose fascinating novel, "The Old Maid," offers you the latest achievement of one of the really great writers of our time.

RUPERT HUGHES
who, in his great novel "Souls for Sale," reveals the inner workings of the moving pictures.

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM who, in "The Leeds Bank Robbery," carries on his remarkably ingenious series of detective tales.

JACK BOYLE
who contributes still another lustrous picture of a corner of Chinese life in America.

JAMES K. HANNA
who tells another story in his series involving the operations of Mr. Murchison's amazing graft syndicate.

M. L. C. PICKTHALL whose name you will want to see often after you have read her moving and dramatic story, "White Magic."

BELLA COHEN
who tells the story of a child of the streets with deep sympathy and insight.

THOMAS L. MASSON
whose satirical social editorial, "Jazz," will delight you.

WALT MASON'S
stirring and down-to-the-minute prose poem, "Hanging On."

BRUCE BARTON'S
inspiring editorial for the average man in these shifting times.

THE CHILDREN AND GEORGE WASHINGTON

More Entries in the Race for $11,650 in The Tribune's Prize for School Children and Teachers.

Here are more of the essays by boys and girls entered in the George Washington prize contest being conducted by The Tribune. The contest closes on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22.

The Man Who Thought.

"Beware when the great God lets loose a thinker on the planet." Thus said Emerson, and many of the leading men of today are saying practically the same thing. Every day we are being told that we must learn to think and that it is the man who thinks who becomes a success.

Now, who could be a better example of a thinker than George Washington?

Why was it that Washington was "first in peace" as well as "first in war?" He did not possess the burning eloquence of Patrick Henry, nor had he the great enthusiasm and vehemence which so characterized Samuel Adams, but he had something that was better than that. He had a good sound mind that could think. As a member of the house of burgesses and of the continental congress, Washington said little, but when he did speak it was surely worth while.

Also as a soldier Washington did a great deal of thinking. His military campaigns were thought out in advance, although this did not prevent quick action when it was needed. At times, battles were lost because his counsel was ignored. For example, in the French and Indian war, Braddock failed to heed Washington's advice and fell into an ambush of French and Indians.

George Washington is the kind of man the world needs today. A man that will do good, hard, constructive thinking and then strike while the iron is hot.

NORMA VANDER HART.
35 E. 19th street, Holland, Mich.
Age 17, senior, Holland High school.
Teacher, Metta J. Ross.

Deep in Our Hearts.

George Washington! What a multitude of beautiful thoughts his name brings to us. He was an example of the highest type of man, truthful, patient, courageous, and possessed an endurance that knew no equal.

He was rightly named the "Father of Our Country." The patriotism and success of our good old United States dates from his leadership. And all through the years, since then, that patriotism and love of George Washington have grown.

It has been demonstrated by the observance of our national holidays. What is the cause of our desire to celebrate the Fourth of July and similar days?

Deep in our hearts, it is an outburst of love and loyalty to our country, brought forth by the memory and silent influence of George Washington's wonderful character.

Truly, he must have been one of God's chosen to have suffered the hardships and overcome the difficulties, that seemed almost impossible at times.

As a result, our nation today ranks foremost for its democracy, fair dealing, and truthfulness.

It cannot be compared to any other. The reason? Our first President was typically American, in thought and in deed. Our succeeding Presidents have shown the same spirit, and aided by this wonderfully peopled United States have made it what it is today.

It is a glorious privilege to be an American boy. To have the opportunity of molding our thoughts, our deeds, after one, such as our beloved George Washington.

GEORGE THACKER,

Age 13, grade 7-A, Irving school.
Teacher, Miss Thomeson.

Worst Blizzard in Years Sweeping South Dakota

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 1.—The worst blizzard in years was reported in South Dakota tonight. Huron termed it the "worst storm since 1913," while Mitchell characterized it as "recalling the blizzard of 1881." North Dakota also recorded a heavy snowstorm general over the eastern part of the state from the Missouri river.

LAWYERS WANT TO BE ORATORS; ORGANIZE CLUB

Believing that present day orators do not equal in eloquence orators of earlier times, twenty lawyers and prospective lawyers have organized the Speakers' Club of Chicago, with weekly meetings in the Sherman hotel.

John H. Roser, vice president, explains that the club is attempting to give its members an opportunity for practice in public speaking as well as providing speakers for club and school functions.

Informal talks and debates on subjects ranging from topics of political economy to sociology and philosophy are features of the weekly meetings.

Spark-C Sees all Knows all Tells all about your ignition

Actual length 7¼ inches

Spark-C tells you:

"This distributor point is dirty—that's all"

Nothing serious the matter with the engine—no need to pay a lot of money to restore its old power. Spark-C says that the distributor contact point needs wiping off with a cloth—that's all.

Spark-C is the instantaneous trouble-finder for ignition systems. It tells you the condition of your sparkplugs and wiring. It points out dead or faulty plugs with a certainty that is absolute. Anyone can use it. There is nothing to do but read the message of Spark-C. Directions for use are imprinted on Spark-C.

Spark-C is made right internally and externally. It is just big enough for its purpose. The ignition system can be tested with clean hands, and with no chance of shock or danger from the running engine.

Spark-C can be used on high-tension current from dry cells, storage battery, or magneto. Every man who owns a car should keep one in his car for periodical testings and for emergency use. It is useful for every type of internal-explosion engine fired with an electric spark.

Westinghouse makes Spark-C. That means we guarantee it will do what we say it will—that it is worth the price we charge.

Come to the Chicago Auto Show and watch a demonstration of Spark-C, space 62-63, basement, Coliseum.

Order a Spark-C from your garageman or automotive supply dealer. If he has no Spark-C in stock, place your order. He can get one for you.

TRUCK MAKERS ORGANIZE NEW ASSOCIATION

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Makers of motor trucks yesterday set an organization example which experts declare must be followed by the entire automotive industry in order to reach its highest point of efficiency and economy in 1922.

The truck men, meeting in the Old Colony club, wiped the business slate clean of all existing alliances and reorganized under the name of the National Association of Motor Truck Industries. The new association will cover every industrial activity, promoting the close cooperation and success of manufacturers, parts makers, dealers, and users of trucks, according to the organization outline.

Will Reduce Costs.

A like association merger was hinted recently in the passenger car industry when a few manufacturers of assembled cars proposed an $80,000,000 partnership with the makers of parts used in the finished cars.

C. W. Nash flayed the lack of cooperation during a spirited talk to dealers. He declared that the motor car industry has been "brutally murdered by unsound business methods," and that its days of "reckless extravagance" are over.

While manufacturers were ironing out their problems the auto show crowds continued to pour into and through the Coliseum, Annex, and Armory, and to break last year's sales records. A like attendance was reported by Salon officials at the Drake, despite the rain.

Dealer Dinners Held.

Hundreds of dealers from all parts of the west began taking their leave of Chicago last night following yesterday's business conferences. Dealer dinners of the day included the annual Studebaker banquet at the Blackstone, J. I. Farley's Auburn dinner in the Union League club, and meetings of Willys-Overland, Lexington, Gardner, Jordan, Hupp, and other sales organizations.

State automobile clubs pledged their aid in the 1922 fight for more paved roads, better police protection along highways, and protection of motorists against unfavorable legislation, and "legal shakedowns" in the annual meeting of the Illinois State Automobile association yesterday. S. E. Bradt, former superintendent of highways, and Richard H. Lee were the chief speakers. George H. Bird was reelected president of the association.

The Illinois association accepted by unanimous vote the resignation of the Chicago Motor club from its association membership.

NOTES OF THE AUTO SHOW

S. E. Ackerman, sales manager for Franklin, told western dealers yesterday that they may expect the much discussed Franklin four cylinder air cooled car to sell at $1,000 in the spring of 1923.

Two train loads of Studebakers, valued at $235,000, have been received by Henry R. Levy for distribution in the Chicago territory as another indication of what the show has done for car sales.

Chalmers and Mitchell dealers in Chicago have increased their spring car orders as a result of unusual interest in new models of both cars featured at the two exhibits.

Don C. Mocford of the Standard Steel Car company has arrived in Chicago to secure a new representative for the car in this territory.

Hupp forces at the show reported a record breaking sales budget yesterday.

The new Dodge prices, effective Jan. 1, were announced from the Detroit factory yesterday.

Goodspeed prices dropped on both touring car and speedster models yesterday, it was announced by M. M. Markin, president of Commonwealth Motors.

Russell E. Gardner Jr. told Gardner dealers yesterday that the Chicago show has resulted in an order for 100 cars above the year's allotment in the Minneapolis territory.

The Winterfront automatic radiator shutter is one of the latest devices to make its way into motordom via the show.

Coupe Comfort at Low First Cost

Where reliable, low-cost, city-and-country transportation is a daily and hourly need, there is a distinct and definite place for this handsome Hupmobile Roadster-Coupe.

To the sturdiness and stamina of the Hupmobile roadster for hard service, it adds the permanent comfort and shelter of the coupe.

Its body, as well as its chassis, is built entirely in the Hupmobile shops, and is exceedingly attractive, strong and durable.

We are now displaying this new Hupmobile. See it, and ride in it.

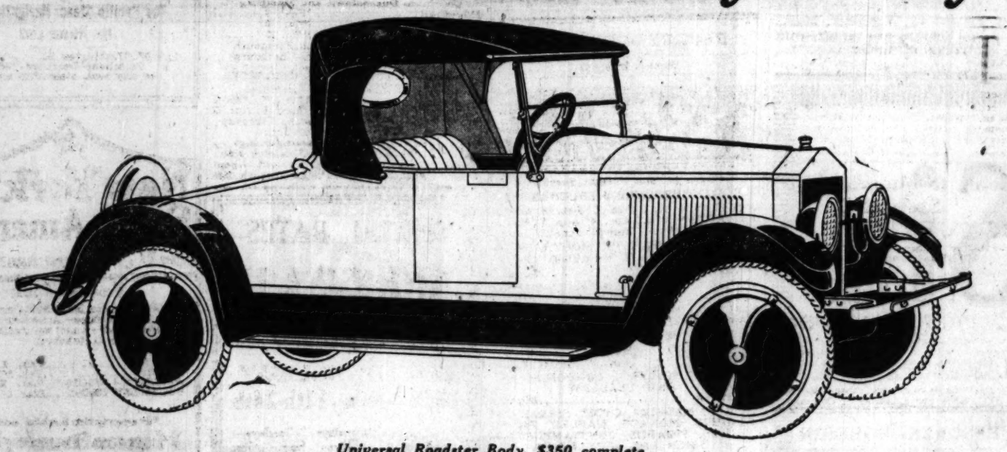
Why not sell Universal Bodies to Ford Car Owners in your city



Universal Roadster Body, $350 complete
Equipped with extras, as shown, except wheel discs
Blue, green, gray or red—No extra charge
120-inch extended wheelbase

See it at the Congress Hotel Salon

THERE are definite reasons why a Universal Body on a Ford chassis rides better, steers better, and presents a better appearance on the street than any other low-priced car.

These reasons are best expressed in the actual standard specifications. Read them carefully and you will be convinced that no one is offering you so much for as low a price.

RADIATOR SHELL—Polished, nickel-finish Rolls-Royce type radiator shell.

THE HOOD—Extra long, well ventilated and held down on each side by two nickel-finish spring catches with concealed side hinges. It will not rattle.

THE WINDSHIELD—A special two-piece windshield of our own design. Both sections adjustable for ventilation and vision.

THE HEADLIGHTS—Large headlights, with full and dim bulbs and no-glare lenses.

RUNNING BOARDS—Substantial linoleum-covered, aluminum-bound running boards, mounted with two heavy steel brackets on each side.

THE FENDERS—The latest design, enameled steel, deep flange, rolled crown fenders.

THE BUMPERS—Heavy steel bumpers, front and rear.

TOP—A double woven, waterproof fabric top, of special one-man design, is furnished with side curtains, with windows of the best flexible, transparent material obtainable. A plate glass window is set in the back curtain.

THE VENTILATOR—In the top of the cowl is an adjustable ventilator to throw cool air into the front compartment in warm weather. Standard on all models except Coupe.

REAR TIRE CARRIER—On steel extensions from the rear of the body.

UPHOLSTERING—The finest quality of imitation leather fabric is used throughout, and all cushions are made with cathedral piping, soft springs and curled hair. Pebble-grained black is standard, with brown Spanish optional, at no extra charge.

FOOT ACCELERATOR—Simple and positive in operation.

STEWART VACUUM SYSTEM—On the touring car and Coupe the gasoline tank is mounted in the rear of the body and a Stewart Vacuum System is provided as standard equipment.

THE WHEELBASE EXTENSION—A device of unusual strength is used to extend the wheelbase to 120 inches, making the car the equal of most standard makes and securing the full benefit of the regular Ford spring suspension.

FINISHES—Holland Blue, Gunmetal Gray, Garibaldi Green and Saginaw Red. Other colors provided at $10.00 extra.

There is nothing complicated or difficult about installing a Universal Body on either a used or new Ford chassis.

Dealers all over the country are making the change every day—the standard Ford chassis is lengthened by our patented Universal extension with no tools other than a wrench, a screw driver and a small drill.

Every nut, bolt and lock washer is furnished with the job—the result is a stronger frame—easier riding, and that steadier feel to the steering wheel—always the result of a long wheelbase.

Coupe Body*, $485 complete Touring Car Body*, $385 complete

This is undoubtedly the greatest Ford proposition since the Ford car itself; it adds three distinctive features—Good looks—easy steering—and comfortable riding over all kinds of roads.

Everywhere you go, the same subtle suggestion that Peerless is entering upon the most splendid period in its history. Everywhere, the feeling that Peerless is advancing—that the Peerless franchise is a business privilege greatly to be desired.

The explanation? Strong business leadership of a really great group of engineers, designers, manufacturers and merchants. A wonderful plant in the hands of a wonderful organization. Trust your instincts; they are telling the truth. Peerless is in the ascendant.

HE'S BACK AGAIN! OUR 'JAWN' EVERS TO AID GLEASON

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

They can't keep Johnny Evers away from Chicago. He's coming back again, this time as assistant to William [Kid] Gleason, boss of the White Sox. Announcement of the signing of the Trojan was made last night by Harry Grabiner, club secretary. The contract calls for one season.

JOHNNY EVERS. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

While it had been known that the Sox officials would depart from their usual custom of not having a coach, the selection of Evers was never even guessed at. After his failure with the Cubs last season, it generally was supposed he had made his last effort in the big show, but evidently the Sox officials think he will answer the purpose for which he was hired. Maybe so.

May Prove Handy.

Evers is of a peculiar temperament, probably as hard a loser as ever stuck a finger in the major leagues. It was this trait that caused abrupt endings to his two managerial attempts with the Cubs. As an assistant, he will not be responsible for the team's showing, but it may be that under such conditions he will prove a handy fellow to have around. He worked well under McGraw in just such a job.

Evers will accompany the squad of pitchers and catchers leaving Feb. 18, or thereabouts, for Hot Springs, Ark. When the regular camp is opened at Seguin, Tex., the chances are that Gleason, being an expert tutor of young pitchers, will look after that feature of the training and Evers will keep the other fellows on the go chasing fungoes and snaring grounders.

A. L. Meeting in Washington.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, yesterday announced that the annual schedule meeting of his club owners had been called for Feb. 8 at Washington. The gathering was originally billed to be held here. Ban gave no reason for switching to the capital city.

STALEYS DROP ALL PRO SPORTS; MAY RENT PARK

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 1.—A. E. Staley, president of the A. E. Staley Manufacturing company, announced today that the Staley company would discontinue all athletics in connection with its plant that depended upon the public for support. Baseball is dropped along with football.

"Because of sharp competition and bidding for players, we are dropping professional sports on account of the expense, which in no way benefits our plant," Mr. Staley said.

The Staley baseball field, one of the best equipped in the state outside of Chicago league parks, is offered at a nominal rental free for one year should Decatur fans organize a Three I baseball club here.

Toledo Offers Thorpe to Coast League Club

Portland, Ore., Feb. 1.—The Toledo association baseball management has offered to sell Jim Thorpe to the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, according to W. N. Klepper, owner of the Portland club.

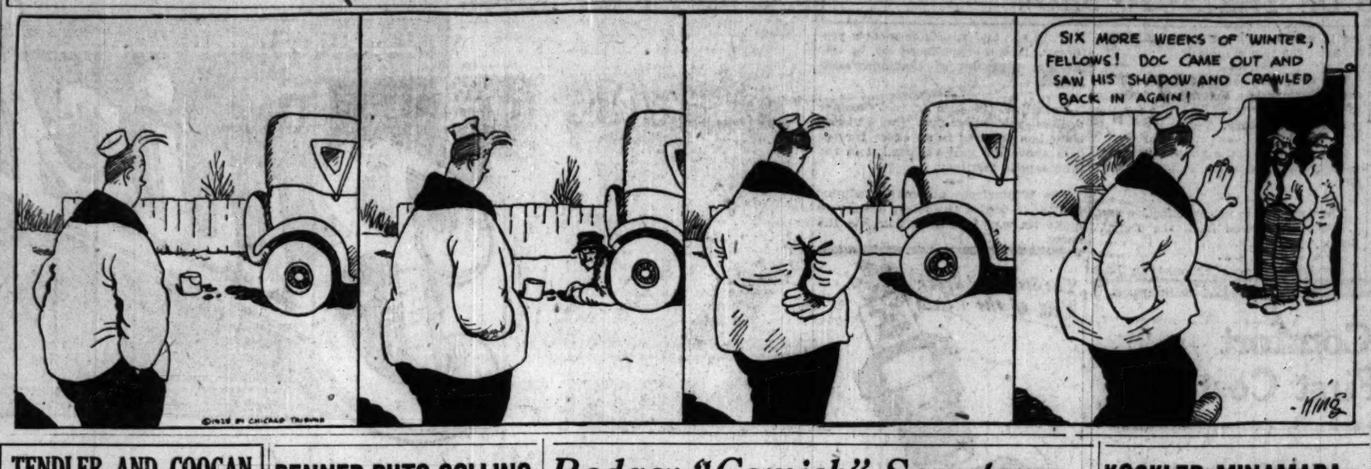
WAUKEGAN LEGION WINS.

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Waukegan American Legion basketball team tonight defeated the Denver A. C., 25 to 22, here. Tornquist, star forward, scored all but two points made by the local team. Manager Smith of the Denver club called his men from the floor twice when he objected to the referee.

BIG FIVE VS. NEW YORK.

The New York Nationals, a strong basketball team, will play the Big Five at Dexter Park pavilion Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GASOLINE ALLEY—GROUNDHOG DAY



TENDLER AND COOGAN IN HEAD COLLISION; BOUT ENDS IN ROUND

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—A peculiar accident stopped the Lew Tendler-Mel Coogan eight round bout here tonight. With one minute of the first round gone, the pair made a furious rush toward each other. They crashed head-on, and the force of the collision sent each battler staggering backward. Coogan had his forehead badly cut and the blood streaming from the wound, blinded him. The referee stopped the fight and called for a physician, who could not stop the flow of blood, and ordered Coogan to his dressing room. He next gave Tendler first aid. The fight was declared no contest.

LOCAL GOLF

GEORGE A. MILLER, chairman of the golf committee of the forest preserve, has called a meeting for tomorrow afternoon to outline a program for the current year. Mr. Miller says that the Edgebrook course last year was practically self-supporting and believes that if other courses now planned show the same results it will aid greatly in installing new links.

* *

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gardner and Miss Edith Packard of Olympia Fields left yesterday for Biloxi, Miss. Mrs. Charles E. Raymond of Hinsdale and Mrs. G. B. Forrest of Skokie also will visit there, and later Mrs. John Fulton of Olympia will join the party.

Here's a new problem for the rules of golf committee: Should a ball played on an adjoining fairway be penalized the same as a ball out of bounds? Everett S. Litchfield, new president of the Massachusetts Golf association, presented this question at the annual meeting and argued that it should be so treated.

VALENTINE WINS IN FLORIDA GOLF

Bellaire Heights, Fla., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—The bachelors' hall tournament played yesterday resulted in a victory for E. A. Valentine of Chicago, who got around in 85—10—75. Low gross was won by A. B. Schuttler, Chicago, with 80. George Ade got a prize for having the lowest score for an Indianan.

Bob MacDonald to Start in Texas Open Tourney

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 1.—With the arrival of Bob MacDonald of Chicago the entry list in the Texas open championship tourney, which will begin tomorrow afternoon, is completed. Sixty-six professionals and amateurs are entered. Crafts W. Higgins, Chicago representative of the Western Golf association, will act as referee.

GREB BEATS WALKER.

Grand Rapids, Mich. Feb. 1.—Harry Greb of Pittsburg outfought Hugh Walker of Kansas City in the opinion of newspaper critics, in every round of their ten round no-decision contest here tonight. The Pittsburgh boxer's cleverness and speed baffled Walker.

RENNER PUTS COLLINS OUT OF CUE TITLE RACE

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Percy N. Collins, Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, former 18.2 balk line national billiard champion, was defeated tonight by Emil A. Renner, Youngstown, O., in the National Class A., championship tournament at Crescent A. C., and eliminated from the race for the title. The score was 300 to 283. It was Collins' second defeat of the tournament.

Renner's surprising defeat of the winner of 1920 was a victory for hard shot playing. He came through with an average of 6 42-43 and high runs of 23, 21, and 21. Collins' average was 6 25-43 and his best innings tallied 42, 23, and 21. It was a neck and neck contest. Collins was inclined to play open billiards, but he made the fatal error of continually driving both of the object balls.

T. Henry Clarkson of New York defeated Edward W. Gardner of Montclaire, N. J., five times champion, in the seventh game, 300 to 261. Clarkson averaged 8 12-36, with high runs of 47, 39, and 32. Gardner had runs of 38, 24, and 23.

Clarkson played more poorly in a later match with Francis Appleby of New York and lost, 265 to 200.

SUNDE WINS IN SEMI-FINALS OF STATE CUE MEET

George W. Sunde topped the field of players in the semi-finals of the state amateur three cushion championships under the auspices of the Illinois Billiard association at Mussey's last night, finishing the three days' play with seven wins and one loss. Four players tied for second place, Herschman, Forrey, Kendall, and Woodcock.

These four will play off tonight, the two winners going into the final tourney with Sunde at Champaign on Feb. 7. Results:

O'Neil 35; Hambrick, 23.	Herschman, 35; Woodcock, 27.
Sunde, 35; Forrey, 33.	Kendall, 35; Helstern, 30.
Kendall, 35; Herschman, 34.	O'Neil, 35; Swandlund, 24.
Woodcock, 35; Swandlund, 31.	Sunde, 31; Swandlund, 18.
Forrey, 35; Hambrick, 13.	Forrey, 35; Woodcock, 28;

Badger "Comish" Secretary O.K.'s Burman and Schaeffer

Walter H. Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin state boxing commission, yesterday placed his stamp of approval upon the physical condition of Frankie Schaeffer and Joe Burman, local boxers, who will trade punches for ten rounds in the main event of John Wagner's boxing show at Kenosha tomorrow night.

FRANKIE SCHAEFFER. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

After Liginger had pronounced the boxers physically fit, he cautioned Promoter Wagner and the managers of both fighters to have them within six pounds difference, the commission will not permit the contest.

No Big Difference in Weight.

Following their workouts yesterday, both stepped on the scales, and there was a difference of only five pounds. As Schaeffer must make the 126 pounds by drying out, and Burman will not even loosen up tomorrow, Joe is expected to tip the beam around 124, which will insure the fight taking place.

Promoter Wagner was in town and announced a substitution for the opening contest. Instead of Al Hennessey meeting Jack McGurn, Eddie Mahoney has been substituted.

Tickets for the show can be secured at 153 North Clark street and 129 North Dearborn street. A special train will leave over the Northwestern at 6:45 tomorrow evening. It will return thirty minutes after the main event.

Duffy-Doig Bout Tonight.

Jack Duffy, local middleweight, and Goats Doig of Spring Valley, will meet in the main event of the boxing show to be conducted by Jimmy Keyes at La Salle, Ill., tonight. Sammy Wade of Pekin and Kid Frager of Chicago will clash in the eight round semi-windup.

Sailor Freedman, west side lightweight, will swing into action tonight at Newark against Benny Cohen. Following this, Freedman will move to Philadelphia to meet Bobbie Barrett later in the month.

Charlie White, local lightweight challenger, and Jack Sharkey, New York bantam, are in training at Ferrett's gym. White is scheduled to box Jimmy Frizetti at Worcester, Mass., Feb. 10, and Sharkey will venture with Earl McArthur at Sioux City, Ia., Feb. 13.

COL. CLINNIN TO REFEREE BOUTS

Col. John V. Clinnin will referee the wrestling matches at the Coliseum on Feb. 22 for the Knights of Pythias mat show. This agreement was reached by the officials of De Molay lodge. It is believed the wrestlers will accept Clinnin.

New Leaders in Doubles in Windy City Pin Meet

New leaders emerged in the doubles in the Windy City bowling tournament at Crouse's alleys last night, E. Shroda and A. Neubert taking first place with 1,274. Neubert did the heavy work of the pair with 652. H. Erthman and E. Lasky took fourth with 1,200.

In the team event Peoples Ice Creams hit 2,799 for fifteenth place. In singles, F. Marcinek placed eighth with 639. J. Handzik had the next highest game of the night, 621.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of The Tribune boxing representatives are:

At Philadelphia—Lew Tendler and Mel Coogan bout, no contest. Joe Tiplitz beat George Erne [6]. Harry [Kid] Brown beat Frankie Britt [8]. Danny Kramer and Bobby Burman boxed draw [6].

At Hot Springs, Ark.—Fowree Martin won by foul from Charlie Sullivan [9].

At Grand Rapids, Mich.—Harry Greb beat Hugh Walker [10].

KOCKLER-M'NAMARA TEAM FOR BIKE RACE

Ernest ("Hy") Kockler, the Chicago milkman, will be teamed with Reggie McNamara of Australia in the six day bike race, starting at the Coliseum Feb. 12, it was announced last night by Manager "Paddy" Harmon.

It will be "Hy's" third long grind. In his first start at the Coliseum last winter he finished fourth, with Charley Osterritter as a partner. In this race he gave his best early in the contest and pulled up weak at the finish.

His next race, at the stockyards last year, found Kockler a much improved rider. He started out with Willie Hanley, who quit the third day. Kockler was then paired with Freddie Hill, who was riding his last six day race. They were penalized a lap for forming a new team, but made this up the next day and finished second in a great race.

Fourteen riders of the Alverno A. A. will compete in the amateur events at the Coliseum on Feb. 11. The amateur races will be run off that night, with the big race starting the following evening.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

The old Imperial hall at 312 South Clark, once operated by the late Frank Ives, and the scene of many big billiard games, is to be reopened by Charley Schaefer, brother of the late Jake Schaefer. Schaefer's room has been located two doors south in the Atlantic hotel, and his new room will give him additional space.

Champion John Layton and Alfredo De Oro will play their match for the three cushion title at Milwaukee Feb. 16 to 18. Ralph Greenleaf and Tom Hueston will meet for the pocket billiard title at the Strand room, New York, Feb. 22 to 24.

Lippitt beat Mann [35], 31 to 29, in the three cushion tournament at Foley's. Tonight O'Brien [35] plays Cornelison [35].

DEMPSEY TO BOX WILLS IF GIVEN BIG WAD OF COIN

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Jack Kearns admitted today that Harry Wills was the logical man to give his champion, Jack Dempsey, a real battle. Incidentally, Kearns allowed that he would be ready to talk turkey the moment some promoter showed himself with an attractive purse, but that it would have to be more than $200,000.

It was evident from Kearns' that he thinks he will not let any group of promoters scamper off with a million dollar gate and leave the fighters to split a minimum.

"We have never attempted to dodge a match with Wills and have all along insisted that if there came a time when the public demanded a fight between the champion and Wills we would be ready to take on Wills," said Kearns. "I am not sure this is the proper time to agitate such a match, although there seems to be thousands of people over the country who entertain the opinion that Wills has a chance to beat Dempsey.

"I haven't seen William A. Brady since he made his offer, but I probably will see him in a few days. I'm for Brady or any other man who thinks he wants to promote the match."

It was the general impression in sporting circles today that Wills and Dempsey will be matched shortly and there were many who predicted that the bout would go to Jersey City.

THE QUESTION BOX.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. Are there two kinds of crappies? 2. Is the crappie the same as the calico bass? A. N. T.

ANSWER—Yes, there are two species of crappies. One is known as the white crappie and is a more elongate, paler fish, than the other species, which is known as the black crappie. Another difference between the two lies in the fact that the white crappie has the dorsal and caudal fins marked with green rather than blackish as in the other species. The black crappie is also a darker, deeper, and more handsome fish, being beautifully spotted with dark green and blackish. 2. The black crappie and calico bass are the same fish.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. Do perch travel in schools in the winter? 2. On what baits can you catch them through the ice? RALPH T.

ANSWER—Yes, perch gang together in winter, and if a school hits your fishing grounds you stand a good chance of hooking several before they move on. 2. Worms make about the best bait.

Rockford, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—1. I am going to take up fly fishing for bass this season. Could you recommend some helpful books on this subject? READER.

ANSWER—If you will send me a stamped envelope I will be glad to put you hep to some good books.

JACQUES TEAM WINS IN SHOOT

In a friendly match between teams composed of directors of the Lincoln Park Gun club the squad captained by Col. Jacques defeated that of Dr. F. W. Belknap, 207 to 196. Each shooter shot at fifty targets, sixteen yards rise, and the losers bought the dinner. Scores:

COL. JACQUES' TEAM—C. G. Burmeister, 50; A. J. Usher, 46; H. M. Bowler, 42; F. E. Recta, 34; Col. Jacques, 34. Total, 207.

RAY LAPS FIELD AND SETS RECORD IN EASTERN RACE

New York, Feb. 1.—Two American indoor marks were broken tonight in the annual meet of the Millrose A. A. here. Joie Ray, fleet footed Chicagoan, ran a mile and a half in the remarkably fast time of 6:42 2-5, clipping 4 1-5 seconds from his record made in the same games in 1917.

JOIE RAY. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

In accomplishing this feat Ray succeeded in lapping the entire field of star runners pitted against him. Marvin Rick, Princeton; E. O. McLane of Pennsylvania, and Harold Cutbill, the "flying parson," of the Boston A. A., who defeated Ray in this event last year, finished in that order.

The fleet little Chicagoan now has two legs on the Wanamaker trophy, having won the event in 1920.

Ray Laps Other Racers.

Three laps before the finish on the eleventh of a mile track, Ray started sprinting and lapped every runner except McLane. He passed the Penn star three feet from the finish, thereby achieving one of the most remarkable feats in athletics. The spectators, numbering more than 12,000, cheered Ray for several minutes.

The other record was made by John L. Murphy, Notre Dame, who high jumped 6 ft. 4¾ in. This was one-quarter of an inch higher than the previous indoor record made by Sam C. Lawrence, Boston A. A., on Feb. 19, 1912.

Loren Murchison, Illinois A. C., equaled the American indoor record of :06 2-5 in the 60 yard dash. Sixteen sprinters have covered the distance in this time between 1882 and 1920.

Devaney Sets Record.

Mike Devaney created a new mark when he won the two-thirds mile run in 2:46 2-5. His mark will be recognized, since there is no record on the books for this distance. Summaries:

NAME M'WHIRTER COACH OF LADS IN ICE CONTEST

The 1922 Chicago schoolboy ice skating team which will meet teams from New York, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Duluth, and Detroit in the big intercity tournament here the latter part of the month will be the fastest and best equipped in the country, according to E. C. Delaporte, director of sports of the committee in charge of the meet.

Roy McWhirter, national amateur champion and star skater of the Alverno A. A., has been appointed head coach of the team and will be assisted by a number of stars from different clubs. The team will be fully equipped with racing togs and new skates by the committee and will practice three days each week until the contests are staged.

Members of the team will be given a physical examination today to determine their fitness for the races. A dinner for all of the boys also will be held tonight, after which the parents of the skaters will meet with the committee.

THIS ATHLETE HONEST; QUITS COLLEGE TEAMS

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 1.—Announcement was made here today by Graduate Manager L. A. Nichols that Irving ["Crip"] Toomey, star halfback on the California football team and catcher on the baseball team for two years, had voluntarily retired from sports although eligible. Toomey voluntarily quit after playing in a game at Fresno in which professional football players took part.

TAYLORVILLE BACKER AIRS BIG TEN CHARGES

Taylorville, Ill., Feb. 1.—Grover Hoover, one of the backers of the Taylorville football team which played Carlinville in the now famous game of last Nov. 27, which has wiped nine Illinois athletes and eight from Notre Dame out of varsity competition, today enlarged on his charges that athletes of various western conference colleges could be involved in similar escapades.

Before final action was taken by Illinois and Notre Dame, Hoover had stated he would take the part of college players by exposing the general nature of such dabbling in forbidden competition. Hoover boiled over tonight.

Mentions Devine and Locke.

"Why are not Aubrey Devine and Gordon Locke, football stars of Iowa, protested by Illinois?" he asked. "I'll tell you why; because Illinois men have played semi-professional baseball against them, and would suffer themselves, if they squealed. Can Locke clear himself of his pro-baseball record at Garden City?

"Why are there no protests against Wisconsin athletes who have played professional ball. I don't have to name them; let them investigate up at Madison."

Claims Semi-pro Ball Widespread.

Hoover charged that a great per cent of Illinois baseball players compete in semi-professional games through the summers. He asserted that Football Coach Rockne of Notre Dame had been told a month ago of the fact his players were on the Carlinville team that played Taylorville, but said that apparently Rockne, like others, had expected the whole matter to blow over. Hoover intimated that collegiate football coaches also participated in the Carlinville-Taylorville game.

STEWART NAMED NEW PREXY OF WESTERN TENNIS

J. C. Stewart of Chicago was elected president of the Western Tennis association at the annual meeting at the Hamilton club yesterday. He succeeds L. Harry Waidner of Winnetka, for many years at the helm of the game in the central west. Mr. Waidner has been chosen a member of the executive committee of the National Lawn Tennis association.

The new officers elected were:

PRESIDENT, J. C. Stewart, Chicago.
VICE PRESIDENTS, H. C. Wick Jr., Cleveland, and J. G. McKay, Indianapolis.
SECRETARY, H. S. Walsh, Chicago.
TREASURER, Walter T. Hayes, Chicago.
DIRECTORS: B. F. Thorward, Cleveland; H. S. Knox, Chicago; Howard N. Lawrie, Detroit; Arthur W. Parry, Fort Wayne; Charles Frederick, Chicago; Frederick Burns, Cincinnati; Lyman A. Warren, Milwaukee; R. F. Woods, Chicago; Charles B. Van Dyke, Muskegon; Edwin J. Wuensch, Indianapolis.

Delegates to the national association meeting in New York Saturday will be Stewart, Wick, Waidner, Knox, and McKay.

WARNER COACH FOR CALIFORNIA

Stanford University, Cal., Feb. 1.—Appointment of Glenn Warner, head coach at Pittsburgh, as advisory coach for football at Stanford for the next two years was announced by school officials tonight. After two years as advisory coach, Warner will become head coach at Stanford, it was stated. He will remain at Pitt under the terms of his contract there for two seasons.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

THE AMATEUR RULE.

FAVORITE defense of sympathizers for college athletes violating the amateur code is, "O, well, they ought to be allowed to earn money, if they can, to help defray their school expenses." We cannot subscribe to that opinion in toto.

On the question whether college ball players should be permitted to receive compensation during the summer we are open-minded—in fact, rather inclined to lower the bars, providing coaches supervise or approve the professional engagements of their charges.

During the scholastic year we do not think athletes should represent their college and play professionally. It is self-evident that a boy cannot do justice to both.

The very fact that college players can be lured to participate as "ringers" under assumed names shows that the pro influence is not wholesome. College sport is governed by strict rules—violated at times both in letter and spirit, it is true—but still furnishing a code of ethics to prevent abuses and lack of sportsmanship.

Suppose players of the Taylorville-Carlinville teams, or any other two teams recruited with "ringers" and their partisans roused to a high state of excitement by town rivalry and heavy wagers, should have started a little rough work on the gridiron. A serious riot is not a far stretch of the imagination.

We look to college athletics for our ideals of sportsmanship. Those ideals are not always realized. We know, however, that the men supervising these athletics—faculty committees, athletic directors, and usually coaches—are actuated by higher motives than those in sport only for profit.

MR. POT TO MR. KETTLE.

R. Tait McKenzie, professor of sculpture and physical director of the University of Pennsylvania, is quoted:

"At this time overenthusiastic alumni of institution after institution are competing for the services of coaches to turn out winning teams at salaries that surpass the salary of the college president. This is especially true of the west."

That last sentence nettles us. Prof. McKenzie might look much nearer home for such instances at colleges whose methods of recruiting athletes are a byword in the college world. Nor do we suppose that Coach Heisman, after sensational success at Georgia Tech, went to Penn from purely altruistic motives.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Victory in the mile and the three-quarter mile and second place in the half mile put William Steinmetz of the Norwegian American A. A. of Chicago in the lead in the international amateur skating championships today. It was on the eve of the final day and Steinmetz, with 80 points, is closely pressed by Charles Jewtraw, who today won third place in the three-quarter mile and half mile and second in the mile.

Moore in Three Spills.

Joe Moore, New York, has lost his title, the one time international champion having failed to score in the entire meet. He fell three times today. In the mile, while leading the field in the stretch, he fell, bringing down with him McWhirter, the national champion. He crashed again in the half mile. McWhirter also fell in this race. Moore also spilled in the three-quarter mile. The spills each time came at crucial moments.

In the mile Moore skated a pretty race and fell with victory practically in sight. McWhirter, close behind, leaped into the air in an attempt to avoid striking the fallen skater, but he failed in the effort.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

START THINGS HUMMING EARLY ON CHICKEN RANCH.

IF you expect to have chicks during the last half of March, things should be humming in the poultry yard by the first week in February. Even then you will be crowded for time. It takes eggs twenty-one days to hatch, and the cockerels must be in the breeding pens with the hens at least two or three weeks before eggs are saved for the incubator.

All of the hens, pullets, and cockerels that are to be used for breeding purposes should be in the breeding pens, away from the regular laying flock, at least six weeks before you expect the young chicks to begin hatching. Neglecting to mate the birds far enough ahead is the cause of much of the disappointment at hatching time. This causes the hatching percentage to be low, and frequently the entire setting is infertile.

In general it is best to have one rooster with every ten hens. This, however, depends upon the breed of chickens you are raising. With Leghorns fifteen hens may be allowed to run with one rooster, but with the heavier breeds, such as the Bramas and Plymouth Rocks, some poultrymen cut the number down to eight hens with each rooster.

DON WHITE OUSTED AS 'PRO' BY PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—Don S. White, all-western conference basketball guard, today was disqualified from further athletic competition at Purdue university for playing semi-professional baseball and basketball.

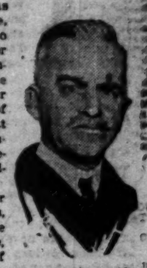
The disqualification of White virtually wrecked the chances of Purdue in the western conference basketball race, despite that Purdue now is unbeaten and tied for first place. The loss of White was described by Athletic Director N. A. Kellogg as "ruining the team."

White told the board he had played in two semi-pro basketball games at Huntington, Ind., last month—previous to the opening of the conference season, and received only expenses.

MEDALS FOR EACH LAP LEADER IN TRIBUNE DERBIES

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

In order to bring about more spirited competition and do away with team work as much as possible, contestants who set the pace for the greatest number of laps in the annual Silver Skates Derbies of THE TRIBUNE at Garfield park Sunday will be rewarded with medals.



CAPT. GUS THOMA. (TRIBUNE Photo.)

In the Junior Derby for girls, finalists will race one-half mile, three circuits of the course. Boys who qualify for the final of the junior event, which will be one mile, must turn the track six times. Preliminary heats in the girls' event will be over a quarter mile. The distance of trial races in the boys' junior will be a half mile.

Good Ice Assured.

Although the recent rain has temporarily placed a damper on skating, the forecast is colder weather. As there were a number of cracks in the ice at Garfield park, these have been filled by the rain, and when the surface freezes the best skating of the season is assured. For this reason, contestants will do well to have their skates sharpened.

"There is every reason to believe skating will be permitted by the end of the week," Capt. Gus Thoma of the west park police said yesterday. "There was two inches of water on the ice yesterday, but this will make an excellent skating surface when it freezes."

Silver Skates on Exhibit.

The solid silver skates, which will be given to the winners of the senior derbies, and the silver plated runners, which will become permanent property of victors in the junior derbies, are now on display on the Madison street side of The Tribune building.

These trophies, together with the prizes for second and third places in each of the four races, will be presented by Henry Utpatel immediately after the races.

BATH REVELS OF RURAL LAD WASH HIM INTO A CELL

Down in Goshen, Ind. they'll be saying this morning that Milo Seewald's obsession for the Turkish bath has finally landed him just where they thought it eventually would—in jail.

And here in Chicago, at the detective bureau, Milo is saying that he doesn't care what they say; he's had his orgy in Turkish baths and he's satisfied.

"And when I get back to Goshen," he says, "believe me, I'll stay there. I came to Chicago on Jan. 10. Since then I've had so many Turkish baths I've lost seventeen pounds. What I want now is to get a good home cooked meal under my belt."

Charged with Forgery.

It should be mentioned here that Milo is 16 years old, and that he's held by the police for passing five checks for amounts ranging from $10 to $30, which he forged, it is charged.

Yarns of the adventures of master crooks, forgers and others who live by their wits—lived in luxury and took Turkish baths as often as the spirit moved—such brought thirst, desire, longing, passion for the Turkish bath into Milo's young heart.

Up until Jan. 10 he was a model high school youth of Goshen.

But always he talked of Turkish baths, dreamed of Turkish baths, declared that some day he would have many Turkish baths.

Goes to Hunt Them.

And when, on Jan. 10, he found himself possessed of $15 he suddenly decided to go get the substance of his dreams.

He took French leave and came to Chicago.

He went first to the Van Buren hotel and from there to—a Turkish bath.

Then followed a great revel in baths until—his money ran out. He went to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank and asked for blank checks. He got them and the revel continued.

Sergts. Payne, Burch, and O'Brien of the detective bureau arrested Milo last night at a loop hotel just as he returned—from a Turkish bath.

BILL PROPOSES THAT CONGRESS O. K.'S WATERWAY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—Acceptance by congress of the report of the international joint commission on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway is proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Mapes, Michigan, a Republican of the house commerce committee, to which the report recently was referred by Speaker Gillett.

Representatives Mapes proposes that the commission's recommendation be adopted by congress, subject to such further diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Canada and such action by the appropriate legislative bodies of the two governments as may be necessary.

The measure also would authorize and require the President to enter into negotiations with Canada for the purpose of establishing an international board of engineers to work out and report within one year, details, plans, and specifications for the construction, operation, and control of the waterways.

MURDER VERDICT.

A coroner's jury investigating the death of Louis Moresco, 52 years old, 2126 Federal street, who died after being stabbed by an unknown assailant at 19th and Federal streets, yesterday returned a verdict of murder.

The February Sale of Furniture

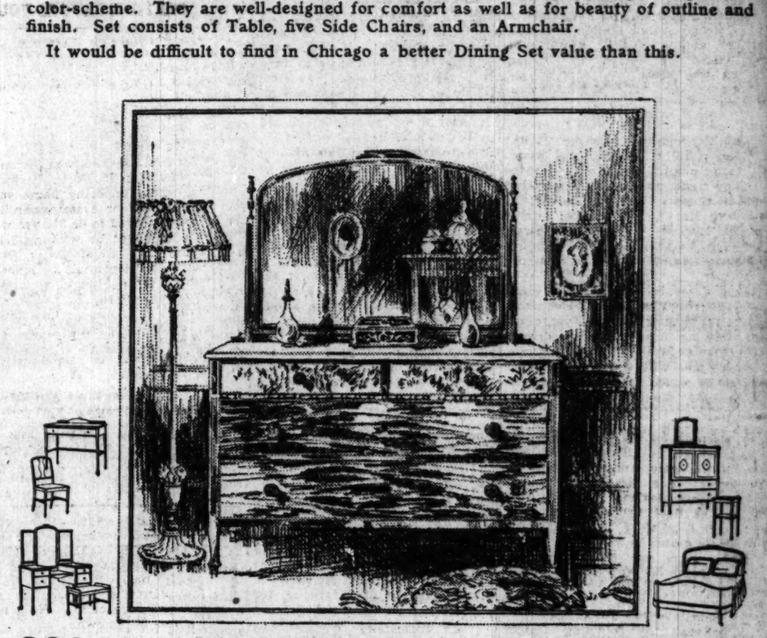
An Example of How We Make Values—

Seven-Piece Dining Set, $158

WE searched the market for a value like this—and had to have it made specially. The Table, which measures forty-five by sixty inches, is of combination walnut, in a pleasing dark finish, in keeping with the Italian style of the Set. It is well-made and graceful.

The Chairs are of solid walnut, with seats and backs of heavy tapestry in a pleasant color-scheme. They are well-designed for comfort as well as for beauty of outline and finish. Set consists of Table, five Side Chairs, and an Armchair.

It would be difficult to find in Chicago a better Dining Set value than this.



$90 for This Dresser; Other Pieces Priced in Proportion

IN point of construction and finish, this is one of the finest Bedroom Suites on our floor. It comes from a manufacturer of international reputation; and to find one of these Suites at such remarkably low prices is to discover a remarkable furniture value.

The dresser is finished in three kinds of mahogany; the top is a rich "plum-pudding" or blister mahogany, the two upper drawer fronts in fiddle-back, and the rest of the piece in beautifully grained brown mahogany.

The graceful proportions of this Dresser should be noted, and compared with those of the other pieces. There are many variations possible in this Suite, its dainty Vanity Table, Desk, Chifforobe and several seating pieces. Prices:

Bow-End Bed, full size, $67.50. Straight-End Bed, full size, $55.
Dresser, $90. Chifforobe, $85. Vanity Table, $75. Desk, $27.50. Chair, $12.50.
Table, $12.75. Bench, $12.75. Rocker, $13.50

There Is Comfort in This Furniture —and in Its Prices

THE sort of Furniture you like to live with—which makes a room friendly enough to respond to the inevitable griefs and joys to be enacted there—is the sort one looks forward to buying. This is that type of Furniture, and it is priced so low, after weeks of searching the market for values, that no small part of its comfort comes from the figures on the price tags.

Literally, the Sofa and Chairs are made for luxurious ease, in their ample lines and sturdy construction. They can be ordered with many different covers. Covered in mohair, the Sofa is $195; the low-backed Arm Chair, $89; and the high-backed Chair, $91. In a good grade of velour or tapestry, the Sofa is $167, and the Chairs $78 and $80 respectively. In cotton velour, the Sofa is $142 and the Chairs $68 and $70.

The Living Room Table is combination Walnut and can also be used as a Console Table. Price $39. The End Table, of combination Walnut, is $11.75.

PISTOL TRAFFIC UNCHECKED; SO IS CRIME WAVE

Ex-Convict Attempts to Kill Foe.

A convict just released from the Joliet prison last night attempted to shoot and kill a witness who testified against him in a burglary case; a Mexican shot and killed a fellow countryman over a woman; two policemen battled three robbers armed with guns for an hour, and there were a score of holdups and burglaries wherein unarmed citizens—some of them women—were plundered and terrorized. This was the toll of one night of an uncensored traffic in pistols.

Five years ago Bobby O'Brien, burglar, was sent to Joliet. Larry Nelson, owner of a poolroom at 942 Wells street, testified against him. As he was passing from the courtroom O'Brien turned to Nelson and said, "I'll get you some day."

Monday O'Brien was released from prison. Last night he walked into the Nelson poolroom. He had an army revolver in his hand.

"You're the man who sent me down. Say your prayers, for I'm going to kill you," O'Brien said.

Nelson ducked under a pool table and ran for his life. O'Brien chased him. If Officers Seyferlich and Fehan of the East Chicago avenue station hadn't interfered, another murder would have been listed on the police blotter. O'Brien was jailed. A TRIBUNE reporter asked him where he got the gun. He wouldn't talk.

Buys Pistol; Kills.

Louis Esponziaze, a Mexican, bought a cheap pistol at a south side pawnshop some months ago. He was a shoplifter by trade, and had been arrested several times. Recently he fell in love with Mrs. Marie Morales, wife of Cocales Morales, a Mexican laborer. Last night he shot and killed Morales. Police are looking for him on a charge of murder.

Little Josephine Walker, 10 years old, 415 Greenwood street, Evanston, and her baby sister, Rose, 6 years old, were sleeping in an upstairs bedroom. She awoke suddenly.

"A big man with a gun" stood over her. She screamed. The burglar struck at her with the gun. The screams awakened Henry Jasper, colored houseman, sleeping on the third floor. He ran down stairs. The burglar fled. The babies were unhurt, but badly frightened. The family silverware, which he had tied into a bundle, was left on the floor below. The girls' father, E. S. Walker, is a north side real estate dealer.

Seven years ago Policeman John Larson of the old Rawson street station was murdered in cold blood. Police since have sought "Willie the Dog" Rezzynski for the killing.

Early yesterday morning Sergts. Thomas Etchingham and Louis Pfannkuche saw Rezzynski and Joseph Stephansky, also a well known police character, leaving the rear door of a poolroom at 1444 North Paulina street. Each man carried two guns.

Battle with Third Man.

The sergeants, after a battle, subdued them and sent them to the station. Then they went back to the poolroom. While inside there came a knock at a rear door. Etchingham opened it. A man with two guns stood outside. "Stick up your hands—what did you do with my partners? Quick—or I'll croak you!" the man said. Pfannkuche, creeping up behind him, floored him with the butt of his pistol.

The man recovered and began to fight. It was dark. Neither of the officers wanted to shoot for fear of hitting the other. For half an hour the battle raged. Finally the man was subdued. He is Fred Gasper, alias Stanley Florczyk, wanted for jumping a $25,000 bail bond in Los Angeles.

"Where did you get your guns?" he was asked.

"Aw—that's easy—I can get all I want," he replied.

Other Robberies Reported.

A lone bandit with a brace of pistols robbed Samuel Vobinsky, 1658 North Robey street, of $75 last night and escaped. Two boys with revolvers took $9 from Felix Bessler, 3538 West 22d street. Three youths in an automobile held up four drivers for as many loop department stores and gained a total loot of more than $125 in less than half an hour on the south side.

Mrs. Basco Trembolacz, 713 Boston avenue, was dreaming of burglars when a real one tried to shove a gag into her mouth. She screamed. The man ran.

Threatens Dry Agent.

United States Deputy Marshal Thomas Sheehan and two prohibition agents attempted to serve a search warrant on Joseph Grish, 4545 South Wallace street, a saloonkeeper. Grish drew a gun and menaced Sheehan. There was a battle. Grish, swathed in bandages, was later brought to the federal building. He was released on bonds. His gun was confiscated.

Two boys with guns leaped on the running board of the automobile of Nathan Selheiner, 3913 Wentworth avenue, and robbed Selheiner and his wife of $350 in jewelry and $100 in cash. And Nicholas Kotecki, owner of a grocery at 4300 Cortez street, was locked in his icebox while a lone bandit made away with $50 from his cash register.

Mail Robbers Sought.

Postal inspectors announced last night that they had the names of five men who robbed the mails at Whiting, Ind., yesterday morning in a futile effort to get the $200,000 pay roll of the Standard Oil company. The pay roll was delivered Tuesday. The men who sought it held up Joseph H. Schwarz, a postal clerk, and escaped in their auto with seven sacks of mail. The postoffice officials had been warned against the attempted robbery and guards had been on duty for four weeks, but were recently withdrawn.

To Marry Laborer

[Copyright: Moffett.]
MRS. MARION STEPHENS.

FIANCE OF REAM HEIRESS PLANS AID FOR RUSSIA

To Build Railroads, His Dream.

Ambitions to return to his Russian homeland as a skilled worker in steel and possibly to aid or direct the rehabilitation of his nation's railroads were revealed yesterday by Anastase Andrevitch Vonsiatsky, scion of prebolshevist nobility, laborer in the Baldwin Locomotive works at Eddywood, Pa., and fiancé of Mrs. Marion Buckingham Ream Stephens, co-heiress to the $80,000,000 estate left by her father, Norman B. Ream of Chicago.

Vonsiatsky, clad in faded green trousers, army shoes, green striped shirt and blue coat, and yet a marked man for all that, told of his dreams yesterday as he worked in the great Baldwin plant.

Why Not? He Asks.

"When bolshevism goes Russia will need railroads. Why shouldn't I jump into the fight for my country's rehabilitation?" he said.

"Maybe some day I shall go back with my bride and occupy my old home—then I will need to have part in my country's affairs. And what is more inspiring than the industry of steel? And what more necessary?

"People seem to think that there is something unusual in what I am doing. Yet the sons of American capitalists are sent into factories to learn production of things from the ground up. I shall not always be a laborer. But there is only one way to get experience—and that is to get it in actual contact. That I am doing. Some day I shall know many things about steel and railroads."

Mrs. Stephens Here.

Mrs. Stephens, interviewed in Chicago yesterday, talked freely of the approaching wedding.

"Money doesn't mean everything and happiness doesn't depend on money," she said. "The mere fact that I have money has nothing to do with our marriage. We shall live very simply, in accordance with my husband's desires and I expect to be very happy.

"Mr. Vonsiatsky's life has been very tragic. He is much older than his years—his experiences have made him so. I met him in Paris last May at the home of a mutual friend. I have always felt sympathy toward Russia and Russians. Shortly after I returned to this country he came over. He visited with me and my mother in New York—and since then I have seen much of him.

Wedding to Be "Quiet."

"The wedding Saturday is to be attended only by relatives and very close friends. We will go on a short trip and then we will go to Ridley Park, N. J., where our home is ready for us. Mr. Vonsiatsky will continue his work with the Baldwin company—so that if bolshevism is overthrown he will be equipped to return to Russia as the company's representative. Then, you know, he is the heir to vast estates in Russia which were confiscated by the bolsheviki. If they are overthrown, these estates will be returned to him."

Vonsiatsky is now the most remarkable personage in Chester, Pa., where he lives. He cannot get ten paces from the Y. M. C. A. without creating whispering groups along his path.

Yesterday he signed his name to four special interviews, declined an offer to become a shareholder in a Mexican oil corporation, received a score of "begging" letters and an invitation to drink tea with a lady who reproached him for having lived in Chester so long "incog."

Cleveland City Employes' Wages Cut 10% to 50%

Cleveland, O., Feb. 1.—Mayor Fred Kohler and the city board of control today ordered salary and wage reductions of 10 to 50 per cent for several hundred city employés, effective at once, and estimated to amount to $300,000 yearly.

KEEP ON TRYING TO SEE IF YOUR NAME IS LUCKY

Horoscope Depends Upon Time Selected.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Seventy-three more prize winners!

On page 9 of this issue is published the list of the winners of the daily horoscope prizes. A list of winners is posted also in a first floor window of THE TRIBUNE building at 7 South Dearborn street.

Every day, including Sunday, winners will be announced.

Is your name lucky? Have you sent your name to me for divination to see what your horoscope is. A first prize of $500, a second of $100 and a third of $50 are awarded daily for the best horoscope taken from a name. Seventy other prizes of $5 each are given to owners of lucky names.

One attempt does not spell failure for anyone. You can send your name to me as often as you please. You are luckier on certain days than on others. Luck in your horoscope lies in picking the right moment.

Remember, a grand prize of $10,000 will be given at the close of the contest for the best horoscope of all. You may send as many coupons in one envelope as you please. Also, names may be brought to me at THE TRIBUNE office as well as being sent in.

FORTUNE FAVORS YOUTH

Despite the rain there was a hint of spring in the air yesterday—spring, the growing season of young things. Perhaps it was this that inspired the good fairy that presides over our horoscopes to stretch her golden finger tips to youth in conferring the prizes in THE TRIBUNE'S Luckiest Name contest.

Her first selection was Richard Bradner Mead of 25 North Parkside avenue, whose imposing name suggested "burnsides" or a statesmanlike pose. Richard proved to be 3½ years old and quite unmoved by winning $500. His mother, Mrs. Bessie Reitz Mead, said that the money would be invested as a nucleus for a fund to give her son a college education. Richard's horoscope predicts a success in his friendships, an indomitable resolution which will attain his purposes but protect his friends, and an understanding of human nature.

Second Prize Winner.

The second prize of $100 goes to Marguerite Rose Garland, 2454 Surrey court, who is 12 years old and in the eighth grade in St. Vincent's school. And Marguerite, like Richard, is going to use her prize in obtaining an education. Next year she goes to high school, and the $100 will be a big help in defraying expenses.

Then the heavens gave older people a little encouragement by smiling on Joseph Charles Waterman, 6803 Ridgeland avenue, and presenting him with the third prize of $50. He is head of a business of his own.

[Pictures of these three winner on page 30.]

Lieut. G. C. Hutchinson Resigns from Police

BEG YOUR PARDON

In an item concerning the new gas rates it was stated that "all gas bills sent out today and hereafter are ordered by the commerce commission to be on the new basis of charges." That is incorrect. The order of the Illinois commerce commission says the new rates shall be effective "on all bills rendered for meters read on and after Feb. 1, 1922." The bills based on meter readings made Feb. 1 will not be delivered until Feb. 9. Consequently customers whose meters are read during the latter days of January up to and including Jan. 31, will receive bills as late as Feb. 8 which will be figured at the old rates.

In the political notes published yesterday it was stated that Lawrence H. Oldon was seeking the candidacy of state representative in the Twenty-first senatorial district. Lawrence H. Olson was meant.

Benjamin Kornstein, 844 Lafayette parkway, says he is the owner of the Oneida Drug company, located at 229 West Austin avenue, and not Benjamin Segal, as stated in THE TRIBUNE Wednesday morning.

THE VENGEANCE OF HENRY JARROMAN

Blue Ribbon Fiction

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Henry Jarroman, released from prison, to which he was sentenced twenty years before for the murder of Charles Eddis, learns that John Camden, his one time friend, who stole his wife, killed Eddis, and fastened the crime on him, is dead. He has nourished his hatred of Camden all the long years in prison, and now, his embittered heart bids him make Camden's daughter a victim in place of her father.

Camden's daughter, who believes her name to be Nadia Quest, is employed as a typist by the Hon. Wilfred Stranack. He loves her and asks her to marry him. Lord Doucester, Stranack's father, is startled when he recognizes a ring Nadia wears and knows who she is.

Claudine Crayne, the wife who dishonored and deserted Jarroman and their young daughter, is the proprietor of a smart gambling establishment. Theed, Jarroman's rascally solicitor, visits her and tells her Jarroman desires to find his daughter. They conspire to substitute Nadia for the real daughter, with the idea of getting Jarroman's fortune for themselves.

Theed brings Nadia and Jarroman together. Jarroman, too, recognizes Camden's ring and knows Nadia is not his daughter, but Camden's. He rejoices that the victim of his hate is delivered into his hands. He takes Nadia to Brighton, and Stranack comes down to renew his suit, but Nadia refuses to marry him.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

THE DETECTIVE REPORTS.

"I'm pleased to see you, Mr. Segrove," Jarroman was saying, a moment later, "but I'm sorry you gave yourself the trouble of a journey down here."

"I had to make another year, and wanted to see you at once," said Segrove. Then, without preliminary he plunged into his business.

"Have you told me all you know about Camden?"

"Should I be fool enough to waste your time, Mr. Segrove?"

"I am content to accept your assertion," said Segrove coldly. "I am still puzzled, however. Yesterday I received a note from you suggesting that Lord Doucester might know something of Camden. It is necessary for me to know what led you to give me that advice."

"There is no mystery about it," answered Jarroman easily. "A couple of days ago Lord Doucester's son, Stranack, the new M. P., was here. My daughter had met him before, and—well, he had proposed to her. My daughter had refused his offer on the ground that a marriage with the daughter of an ex-convict would be socially disastrous to him, and when they met here she repeated her refusal. I was present, and we discussed the matter frankly. In the course of the discussion the name of Camden cropped up, and I received the impression from Mr. Stranack that his father knew—or had known—something of him."

"It was a jolly lucky shot on Mr. Stranack's part," said Segrove. "Lord Doucester must know a good deal about John Camden. For one thing, he was related to Lady Doucester."

"Good heavens!" exclaimed Jarroman in genuine surprise. "Was the relationship close?"

"No. Camden belonged to a senior branch of her family. The kinship is only important from the fact that by Camden's death Lady Doucester, as his next of kin, stepped into a comfortable little estate, which was doubtless of great value to her husband's career.

"If the estate was left to Camden's next of kin, why did not his daughter step into it?" Jarroman asked.

"One is compelled to assume that the Doucesters or Stranacks, as they then were, did not know of her existence," answered Segrove.

"But—dash it all—some one must have known he had a daughter," protested Jarroman. "And any one could have found out by getting her birth certificate at Somerset House."

"The Doucesters don't seem to have distressed themselves by making exhaustive inquiries," said Segrove ironically. "Of course, they may have been in genuine ignorance of her existence. I've looked into the dates, and it is just possible—as it was a posthumous inheritance on the part of the girl, Camden being actually dead at the time—it is just possible that they did not know and could not find out. Mrs. Camden apparently died in childbirth, and I have not yet come across any evidence that Camden had informed his relations of his marriage."

Jarroman's lips tightened grimly. These details of Lady Doucester's inheritance might be of great value to him. If the Doucesters had been guilty of any questionable methods there would be a weapon in his hand with which to break down their opposition to the marriage.

"Isn't it the duty of some chancery official to find out if there's a rival claimant in such cases?" he asked.

"I've no doubt there is," said Segrove. "I haven't investigated that line, as it was not directly in my path. It is possible they may have advertised for Camden's child and that the claim went by default."

"How could it go by default?"

"At the time when Camden committed suicide, his daughter was barely 3 years old," answered Segrove. "He had not been particularly well off. After the death of his wife his home was broken up, and he intrusted the child to the care of others. It took me three weeks to find out where John Camden had banked, and when I found it they kindly gave me all the information I wanted. The only thing that was any use, however, was an indorsed check to a Mrs. Quest."

"What about Camden's daughter?"

Jarroman nodded slowly.

"I followed up that line," continued Segrove. "I found that a Mrs. Quest had occupied a house in Richmond. This Mrs. Quest had a young girl living with her—the times roughly corresponding—who, by the age of the lady, could not have been her daughter. Then I came to a check. For all I could learn from neighbors was that the young girl had left shortly before Mrs. Quest's death; that is, some four years ago. Of course, I can find out where she went, but it will take time—it may be a month before I get on to anything."

Segrove rose to go, and Jarroman made no effort to detain him.

"You'll get an official report from me some time today," the detective added, "telling you that Bisset—Camden's servant—is in Canada. I have given you the facts, which I will not go into now. I have an agent in Canada. You can please yourself whether I send him to take Bisset's deposition, or to persuade him, by payment, of course, to make a trip to England."

Jarroman brightened. The delay was exactly what he wanted.

"I'll think it over and let you know," he answered. "Thanks for coming."

Jarroman was about to open the door for Segrove when it was opened from the outside.

Nadia faced them.

She was all in white, a racket in her hand, her eyes bright, her hair slightly roughened. Jarroman glanced at Segrove, and saw the admiration and quick interest in his eyes.

"My dear, let me introduce Mr. Segrove—the gentleman who has already helped us so much. Mr. Segrove—my daughter."

"I hope with all my heart you will be successful, Mr. Segrove," she said.

Segrove bowed and the girl extended her hand.

"I hope so, too, Miss Jarroman," he said.

Jarroman perceived the necessity of intervening. The lightest small talk between Nadia and the detective might lead the latter to some trifling point which would be fatal.

"You must not detain Mr. Segrove, Nadia," he said. "He is in a hurry."

As he spoke he realized his slip. Segrove must know by now that the name of Camden's daughter was Nadia. He held his breath in apprehension.

But Segrove was bowing to the girl and apparently had not heard.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

What is the most serious problem that confronts Chicago?

Where Asked.

Madison and Dearborn streets.

The Answers.

J. H. Tew, Hotel Marco, telephone company employé—The most serious problem that confronts Chicago is psychological rather than physical. It is the vital problem of harmony between labor and capital.

Miss Nellie Netchin, 1103 North Washtenaw avenue, stenographer — The building question, I think. The sooner that is settled the sooner our housing situation will be relieved. At the same time, it would help to relieve the unemployment situation.

Samuel Miller, 722 South Oakley boulevard, stock clerk, Harris Trust and Savings bank—We have two serious problems of equal importance—strikes and unemployment. I do not know the remedy with reference to strikes. But there is no question our industrial concerns should provide work for as many men as possible.

Miss Rose Murray, 4330 West Congress street, bookkeeper with Lord & Thomas—One big problem is that of the street cars. They are packed so tight during rush hours that our wraps are almost torn from our backs. We should have a subway, or some other relief.

Prof. Franklin Lee Stevenson, Illinois Society of Press Writers—The big problem of Chicago is to keep in the city literary people who succeed here and to prove that the big magazines should be published here because of our central location.

Colored Jail Prisoners Fight; Start Escape Scare

More than a score of bailiffs and deputy sheriffs assigned to the Criminal Court building were rushed to the jail yesterday when it was reported another attempted jail break was in progress. They found the trouble was caused by a fight between colored prisoners.

PLASTERERS VOTE FOR PLAN TO END BUILDING TIEUP

Indorse Curran Scheme for Settlement.

The plasterers' union last night voted to support William A. Curran, president of the Chicago Building Trades council, in his efforts to bring about a resumption of building construction activities in the city by accepting all the provisions of the Landis award.

The plasterers' organization is the first building trade union of the insurgent faction formally to adopt Curran's plans for peace in the building industry, and presages the commencement of a building boom. Other union officials have indicated they will take similar action at the meeting of the Building Trades council tomorrow night, and an end of the long tieup is predicted.

Few Dissenting Votes.

Edward O'Rourke, president and business agent of the plasterers' union, in announcing the vote last night at Bricklayers' hall, said there were but few dissenting votes cast.

"Although we were not a party to the original arbitration proceedings before Judge Landis, we are willing to take the rate of pay of $1.10 an hour, as he suggested," he said.

One drawback to an amicable adjustment of the differences between the unions and contractors, however, looms and may prevent the immediate resumption of building construction work, according to union officials, it is said in union camps. It is the announcement of the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award that they intend to retain the nonunion building workers now employed on building construction work.

Unions Against Committee.

The stand of the citizens' committee is likely to curb peace negotiations, it is said, since Mr. Curran, in a declaration made last Tuesday night, said the building trades unions would accept the new Landis award if nonunion men were eliminated from all construction jobs.

Harry Jensen, president of the Carpenter's District council, last night said his unions would demand a wage rate of $1.10 an hour despite the fact that the award suggested $1 an hour.

"The citizens' committee has only one purpose—to establish open shop for building trades unions," said Jensen. "The men serving on the committee are not actuated by motives that will result in anything beneficial to the general public. 'Crush trade unionism,' is their aim. They are so embittered against unionism that it has become their indoor sport to try and wreck it." Final action on the acceptance of the award will be taken at a meeting tomorrow night.

UNCLE SAM STILL IN MARKET FOR VICTORY BONDS

Uncle Sam still wants to buy in up to $100,000,000 of Victory bonds, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced yesterday that the federal reserve banks will purchase the bonds at par and accrued interest until Feb. 16. The price offered is a shade under yesterday's market quotations, which ranged between 100.22 and 100.32.

Mr. Mellon also announced that subscriptions to the treasury's new issue of three year 4¾ per cent notes aggregated more than $1,200,000,000. This issue was for about $400,000,000, but the total amount allotted will be about $600,000,000, including about $200,000,000 to be exchanged for Victory bonds offered.

Beggar Calls Englewood a Financial Paradise

William Robinson, 815 South Halsted street, arrested for begging, said yesterday in the Englewood court that he had found the Englewood district a financial paradise. He switched from his territory on the west side, where, he said he got rheumatism from holding out his hand without getting anything. "Out here they gave me quarters and even dollars," he said. Robinson produced $43 in court. He was fined $50 and costs. He decided to work it out.

By Mae Tinée.

It was "The Two Orphans," the old time stage success, which, the Gentleman at the Adjoining Desk says, "the players loved because every speech they got was such a mouthful." Now it's "D. W Griffith's 'Orphans of the Storm," and there's no doubt but that everybody in the film enjoyed themselves, because they all had so much to do.' The limellght shines often and long on all mentioned in the cast and a lot of others as well.

The Gish girls, as the two orphans caught, shaken, and separated amid the tragic scenes of the French revolution, catch at heart and imagination. They are frailly lovely to see, and their emotions awake instant response in you. Save in several instances where Lillian fidgets as of yore, nobody could be honest and possibly find any fault with their work.

Joseph Schildkraut, as the young aristocrat who sees and loves Henriette, is a fine actor and is almost too beautiful to be true. Monte Blue, as Danton, gives a powerful impersonation, and Sidney Herbert's Robespierre is a sly and fascinating gentleman whom you yearn to choke.

Neither of these men appeared in the play; but then, I guess, Griffith admits that, and also that he fashioned the picture to suit his idea of what "The Two Orphans" should be.

There are his usual sensational mob scenes; his charlatan play with lights; a baby's dimpled fingers; the mule-tail cue on the wig of a servant. As ever, he introduces a laugh in the heart of tragedy. As usual, he provides a happy ending. As in "Intolerance," he has erred by keeping you too long at his party.

CLOSE-UPS.

Marie Mosquini and Harry Pollard are engaged to be married. They have appeared together in 106 showings, some of which may be termed comedies.

The home formerly owned by Bessie Barriscale and her husband, Howard Hickman, is now the property of Jackie Coogan. It is in the Wiltshire district of Los Angeles. Can't you just see li'l Jackie flitting AWAY from bawth to bawth? (They say the house has a number of 'em.)

It is reported that Charlie Chaplin is about to launch Edna Purviance as an independent star. She has been his leading woman for eight years!

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Henry, who had been begging his mother for a little sister, went to visit his grandmother. There was a little curly haired girl living next door to his grandmother, and when Henry first saw her he ran out, caught her by the arm, and began pulling her toward the house, calling out: "Here, mother! Here is a little sister for us!"

Recently in a large hotel Gertrude looked thoughtfully at people about her and then said, "Ain't it funny, mother, there's no one dressed up but the waiters?" C. C.

DAILY HOROSCOPE
Doris Blake Says:

If your birthday is today, you are ANALYTICAL.

At the most critical moment of your life your mind is given to cold analysis. One might be making love to you and you would be analyzing the reason for it and criticising inwardly the manner of the lovemaking. As conceit is the base of this, you should overcome it early. You overestimate yourself. You love to talk and to hear yourself talk. Learn to be more open hearted for you are capable of many fine things.

Seems Fond of Music.

"Dear Miss Blake: I would like your advice about my gentleman friend. Here of late whenever he comes to call on me he brings his violin and plays all evening, expecting me to accompany him on the piano. Now I do not like this. If it were just on special occasions or only once in a while I would not mind, but it happens every time he comes. I really think it is a little too often. ANXIOUS."

He wants an accompanist rather than a beloved, eh Anxious? But with a little tact you could maneuver that, providing he is welcome minus his violin. Tell him right out it wearies you, or that you do not feel like playing the piano. One or two doses of discouragement like that might effect a permanent cure.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

He Can't Forget.

When a child of 6 (I'm twice that old now) it was our day for recitations in school. I had my little rhyme well learned, but made my bow and spoke with my back to the audience. Will I ever forget the moment after, when everybody laughed? D. M.

Her Intention Was Good.

One day my husband left his straw hat home for me to clean, and I placed it on the table, near where I was working. An insurance man called and put his hat down on the same table. While he was making out my receipt I reached over, picked up a hat, and cut off the band. Then, to my horror, I discovered I had taken the wrong hat. K. R.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Baked Crackers and Cheese.

Though so widely used we seem rarely to consider nowadays how versatile is the cracker. A good cracker is concentrated nourishment of delicate and satisfactory flavor.

The expert eaters of twenty years ago could and would eat a single cracker and place absolute reliance upon what it would do for them if they chewed it until they got a sweet taste. Sir Ernest Shackleton in a lecture told how his men in antarctic cold, when their food was cut down to a bare existence basis, would watch a cracker crumb in an agony of doubt.

When provisions are short or scanty there are a good many things you can do with a cracker. You may restore some of the old cracker puddings to use or the following, which would in England be called a "savory." Beat two eggs, add a pint of milk, a seasoning of salt, and any other seasonings you prefer. Dip eight square crackers in this, lay them in a shallow tin, and pour the custard over them. As soon as they float sprinkle grated cheese over the top, and bake carefully in a moderate oven. The top should be delicately brown, the cheese just melted, the custard set and not watery.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Anxious to Work.

"A yong woman of my acquaintance is confined to the house and will be for some time, due to an operation. She is anxious to obtain a typewriter. She is thoroughly familiar with this class of work and is capable of executing letters, statements, etc., neatly and accurately. I would be glad to call for a machine, if any of your readers has one that is available. F. L."

Can any one help this invalid? A typewriter is a necessity in her case.

Forming Club for Boys.

"Has some reader any athletic or gymnasium equipment to pass on to a boys' club? We are forming—with the help of several other men interested in boys' welfare—a boys' club, with the intention of promoting outdoor and indoor sports. While we have secured a good location, we are somewhat shy of equipment and the means to purchase same, in order to give this movement a boost. We can furnish references, if desired. E. E. W."

Here, friends, is an opportunity to do a real good. Look through your storerooms and see what equipment you have to offer to these boys.

Woman's Press to Hear About Editing Feats

A program has been arranged by Pearl A. Power, chairman of the editors' section, for the monthly meeting of the Illinois Woman's Press association, to be held this evening at the Chicago Woman's club. Walter A. Washburne, city editor of the Chicago Evening Post, will speak on "Teaching Journalism"; Eunice Tietjens, advisory editor of "Poetry, a magazine of verse," will speak on "Dealing in Souls," and Thomas C. O'Donnell, managing editor of "Wayside Tales, which is an outgrowth of the former Cartoons magazine, will speak on "Humors of the Rejection Slip."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—[Special.]—Mrs. Harding received today from Princess Cantacuzene a tea cloth and doilies made by the Russian refugees in Poland as a token of appreciation and gratitude to the President's wife for her interest and sympathy in their efforts to be self-supporting in their exile.

The offices of the American Central Russian relief have presented much of a drawing room appearance since the exhibition of handiwork of the refugees, started a few days ago, and, notwithstanding the inclement weather, Mme. Jusserand, Mme. Le Breton, her niece, Miss Lleveras, Mrs. George Vanderbilt, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, and many others in official, diplomatic, and resident society have attended. The sales have netted more than $2,000, though the exhibition was the paramount object.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Evans, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Horace Martin Evans, and Herman Paige Haynes of Chicago took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 3512 Newark street N. W. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Frank Bigelow of the Congregational church.

A reception followed the ceremony and later Mr. Haynes and his bride left for their wedding trip. They will reside in Chicago at 7002 Chappel avenue. The out of town guests here for the wedding include Mr. and Mrs. James H. McGill and Miss Raechel Ann McGill of Valparaiso, Ind., and Mrs. Paul Haynes of Indianapolis, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

DANDERINE

Stops Hair Coming Out; Thickens, Beautifies.

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store. After one application of this delightful tonic you can not find a particle of dandruff or falling hair. Besides, every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and abundance.

Have Color in Cheeks

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

W. K.: TO REMOVE BROWN spots, apply one to eight watery solution of hyposulphite of soda. Birthmarks, moles, and scars should be left to an ethical skin surgeon to remedy.

MARGARET: FOR PERSPIRING feet apply freely a solution of alcohol and salicylic acid in the proportion of one quart of alcohol to one tablespoonful of salicylic acid.

WEAKLING: APPETITE STRONGer than your will power? What can I do for you? You'll have to resort to prayer, I'm thinking. Try saying this when you sit down to eat. I made it up myself, yea all by myself, so know it must be good. However, it is up to good friends like you to substantiate that boned faced statement of mine:

Now I sit me down to eat;
I pray I shall temptation beat,
For, if I yield before I'm through
I'll surely gain a pound or two.

Yea, we'll call it grace, for if you say it earnestly enough and practice it religiously enough, it will mean grace for you, all righty.

Here is the recipe

There's tomatoes, for one thing—luscious, sun-ripened ones, and then there's pure granulated sugar—plenty of it, and Heinz pure Vinegar and choice spices. That's all that goes into Heinz Tomato Ketchup—plus the skill gained by over fifty years of good food making.

French Woman Savant to Lecture Here on Politics and Letters

Mlle. Marguerite Clement, Agregee des Lettres, Professor at the Lycee Jules Ferry, Paris, will give two conferences in French dealing with present political thought and recent literary tendencies in France, subjects which the committee in charge think will be of special interest to the friends of France at this time, on Feb. 15 and Feb. 23.

The first conference will be held at 11 o'clock in the morning at the residence of Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, 2700 Lake View avenue, and the subject will be "La Politique d'Aujourdhui." The last conference will be on "La Literature d'Aujourdhui" and will be held at the residence of Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, 120 Bellevue place. On the committee sponsoring the lectures are Mrs. Owen F. Aldis, Mme. Antonin Barthelemy, Mrs. Watson F. Blair, Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, Mrs. Moise Dreyfus, Mrs. Harry Pratt Judson, Mrs. Clay Judson, Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Murry Nelson, Mrs. Donald McPherson, Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, Miss Janet Pauling, Mrs. John Root, Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, Mrs. John W. Scott, Mrs. Russell Tyson and Mrs. Frederick T. West.

Feb. 15 has been chosen by Miss Frances Reid Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Breckinridge Jones of St. Louis, for her marriage to Kent Sarver Clow of Lake Forest and Chicago. Their engagement was announced last Saturday at a tea given by the bride's mother at her residence, 45 Portland place. Miss Jones is a graduate of Mary institute, St. Louis, and has spent much of her time abroad since her debut. Her sister, Miss Mary Dee Jones, was queen of the Veiled Prophet's ball in 1919.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Thayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Thayer of Hinsdale, to Harold Larrance Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron A. Myers of Hinsdale, will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in the Unity church in that suburb. A reception at the residence of the bride's parents will follow the ceremony.

Miss Catherine Thayer will be her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Dorothy Fulton, Miss Virginia Van Court, Miss Esther Keane, and Miss Frances Far. Edwin E. Myers will be his brother's best man, and the ushers include Lloyd Myers, Myron A. Myers, Paul Butler, Julius W. Butler, Frederick P. McElhone, and George M. Jackson.

Miss Thayer was one of the debutantes of last season, having been introduced at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Pope of 1040 Lake Shore drive.

The Thursday morning reading class will meet this morning at the residence of Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde, 1524 Astor street.

Mrs. Frank H. Connor of 5645 Woodlawn avenue will be hostess this morning to a class in current events. Miss Julie R. Adams will speak on "The Political Situation in Illinois."

Mrs. George Packard of 436 Barry avenue is giving a luncheon today at 1 o'clock for Miss Mary Wilmarth Brown, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward O. Brown of 1216 North State street. Miss Brown's engagement to John Whiteside Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Brown of Highland Park, was announced recently.

Miss Eleanor Newell, daughter of Mrs. Arnold C. Klebs of Nyon, Switzerland, who has been the guest for several weeks of her relatives, Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King of 1450 Astor street, has left for Boston to complete a course in household economics. Miss Newell's marriage to William Burry Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burry of 1432 Astor street, will take place in June at the Lake Forest residence of Mr. and Mrs. King.

Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of 2700 Lake View avenue is leaving today for a ten days' visit in the south.

The Fuchsia Shades Are Pronounced in Negligees

FASHION'S SIDE BOOK
by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The day is gone when we sat in our boudoirs looking like a pale spring flower. Of course, if you like you may continue to relax in light blue and slight pink, but the tendency of the hour is towards richer, more oriental—at least more Venetian—tints. Indeed, there are a great many of the new negligees which are of black lined with vivid color or draped of metallic lace. And the fuchsia shades, to which we paid so little attention in our regular wardrobes, are a pronounced feature of the early spring negligees.

The two favored materials for this garment continue to be crepe de chine and crepe meteor. It is the former fabric which is developed in this model of fuchsia tint, and a girdle of gold tones marks the long waist line as prevalent here as in more formal modes.

Clothing Wanted for Use of Ex-Service Men

Clothing for ex-service men is wanted by Mrs. Anna Hogenson, who is in charge of the distribution of clothing for unemployed ex-soldiers, which is being handled in room 1123½ of the county building. Mrs. Hogenson says between forty and fifty men are given clothing each day and the supply is running low. Her telephone number is Rogers Park 6851. She asks any one having old clothing he would like put to a good use to call her. Men seeking employment are at a disadvantage if too poorly clothed, Mrs. Hogenson says, and it is a great help to them to have more presentable clothing given them.

Woman Seeks Office as U. S. Embassy Aid

New York, Feb. 1.—Miss Lucille Atcherson, who has learned four languages, traveled in many lands, studied international law and taken examinations in statesmanship, is in New York to consult women suffrage leaders concerning her ambition to be appointed the first woman secretary in one of the country's foreign embassies. Miss Atcherson has been in Washington for six months learning all she could about international law and the diplomatic service. She spent four years abroad as executive secretary of the Society for Devastated France. She thinks the American diplomatic service has a place for women, and seven prominent women's organizations have indorsed her for a job.

With 40,000 fresh and "stale" hogs on sale and shipping orders half the size of previous Wednesday, packers took advantage of conditions and forced values down generally 25c, being the first decline in a week. Closing trade was lowest of the day, with 12,000 left in the pens, and most traders predicting a further decline. Best sold yesterday at $9.25, with general average at $8.90.

Comparatively small receipts of cattle and a good general demand added tone to the trade yesterday, with suitable offerings mostly 10@15c higher. Some 1,436 lb steers sold to a Boston shipper at $9.25 and 31 head of 608 lb heifers went to a city butcher at $8.75. Butcher stock generally steady and veal calves weak to 50c lower. Sheep and lambs little changed, best fat lambs going at $14.00. Some 92 lb Colorados sold at $13.25. Fat sheep sold largely at $7.25 @7.50 for 106@115 lb ewes.

January Run Is Small.

Last month Chicago's combined run of all kinds of live stock totaled the smallest for January since 1918, the number at 1,625,638 being 364,043 below the record total opening month of 1919. Cattle at 266,359 were second smallest for January since 1916, and hogs at 930,310 stood 297,198 below the record total first month of 1916. Sheep for the month totaled 362,568.

Seven western markets received 35,000 cattle, 103,000 hogs, and 35,000 sheep, against 47,000 cattle, 125,000 hogs, and 42,000 sheep the previous Wednesday and 35,000 cattle, 132,000 hogs, and 37,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 43,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 8,179 cattle, 40,737 hogs, and 19,206 sheep the corresponding Thursday a year ago.

ASK RECEIVER TO REORGANIZE LOCOMOBILE CO.

South Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 1.—A receivership for the Locomobile company at Bridgeport, was applied for in papers filed with Judge Edwin S. Thomas of the United States District court, at his office here today. This action was taken, it was stated, as a step toward reorganization of the company.

The company and various credit interests were represented by counsel who stated that the proceedings were by agreement. It is represented in the application "that the interests of banks and merchandise creditors, as well as stockholders, can be best served through a reorganization through a receivership."

Receiver for Auto Body Firm.

Conneautville, Pa., Feb. 1.—A receiver was appointed today for the L. C. Graves company, Springboro, manufacturers of automobile bodies. The company had business relations with the Bank of Conneautville, a private institution, for which a receiver was named Monday. Receivers have also been appointed for the Simplex Manufacturing company and the W. and J. Pess company, both of Conneautville, for a similar reason.

Chicago Wanted a Skyscraper

So the first mortgage real estate bond was introduced in America.

When plans were made for one of Chicago's first skyscrapers, it was proposed to finance it through a large mortgage divided into small parts for the convenience of investors. These parts were called bonds.

The idea won instant approval and since then the first mortgage real estate bond has become a vital factor in the upbuilding of the cities of America.

A proven success—that's the article we sell

WHEAT RALLIES AFTER DROP AND CLOSES HIGHER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Heavy realizing sales credited to eastern traders who went out of large sized lines bought lower down offset strength in foreign markets early, and at the inside figures wheat was off ⅝@¾c from the previous day's finish. On the break there was an excellent class of buying which absorbed the surplus in the pit, and a rally of 1⅜c from the low point, followed with the close at the top with net gains of ⅜c. Corn showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure and gained ⅛@⅜c, with May leading, while oats were unchanged and rye ⅛c higher.

Profit taking in wheat has been strongly in evidence for three days, but at the last May was within ⅜c of the outside figures on the present movement and within that amount of the high of Oct. 14. Strong commission houses were free buyers and sellers, partly to take down profits on wheat bought at lower figures.

Back-spreading and spreading between May and July furnished a good part of the trading at times. The difference at the extreme was 15c, the widest so far, with a reaction to 14½c later and the finish at 14c premium for the May.

Corn Undertone Strong.

Resting orders to buy May corn at 53⅜c could not all be filled. The market showed a strong undertone from the start, advanced toward the last on good buying, and closed within a fraction of the top, after a range of ¼@½c, with May leading. Cash demand was materially slower, with seaboard bids on a lower basis, and a shading of spot prices was noted in the sample market, as compared with the May. In three days primary points have received 9,500,000 bu, against 3,500,000 bu last year.

Rumors of export sales of 300,000 bu oats at the seaboard could not be confirmed. Trading in futures was slow and mainly of a local character, and the finish was practically unchanged.

Exporters failed to make satisfactory bids for rye, and the action of that market was governed mainly by that of wheat, the finish being firm. No. 2 on track sold at 2½c under May.

Cured Meats Lower.

An easier tone in hogs and realizing sales brought about a lower range for cured product. Houses with eastern connections were fair buyers of lard, and the close was unchanged to 5c lower, while ribs were off 5c. Export demand continues good, while the domestic call is somewhat slower. An advance of ½c was made in green hams. Packing in the west for the season to date, as compiled by the Price Current-Grain Reporter, is 7,798,000 hogs, against 8,999,000 last year. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 500,000 bu Manitoba wheat and 200,000 bu corn were reported at the seaboard yesterday, making the total sales of wheat around 3,000,000 bu so far this week. Sales of 105,000 bu corn were made to the seaboard by Chicago and outside markets.

Domestic shipping sales at Chicago were 7,000 bu wheat, 95,000 bu corn and 200,000 bu oats.

Premiums on red winter wheat at Chicago were lowered ½c yesterday. No. 3 red sold at about 6c over. Hard winter was 1c lower at 2@3c under May for No. 2. Receipts, 19 cars. St. Louis and Kansas City unchanged; Omaha unchanged to 1c lower; premiums at Minneapolis unchanged.

Cash corn prices unchanged to ¼c lower at Chicago with the basis ¼c lower as compared with the May. No. 2 grades sold at 4½@4¾c under, No. 3 grades at 5½@6c under and No. 4 grades at 6½@7½c under the May. Receipts, 546 cars. Outside markets unchanged to ½c lower.

Demand for cash oats was rather slow with prices here unchanged to ¼c lower. No. 2 white brought 1@2½c and No. 3 white 3@5c under May. Receipts, 108 cars. A little export business is being done in Canadians at New York.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

A mixed situation existed in wheat last night. Those who have been bearish and recently turned to the constructive side of the market were credited with absorbing the bulk of the offerings on breaks, while a few big houses who have favored the buying side until the last two days were sellers.

Heavy selling of wheat by a large St. Louis operator, through two commission houses, was said to be short wheat. It was claimed by those bearish that the upward trend of values had about reached its limit, and that the big reduction in the short interest of late left the market technically weak. Others asserted that wheat should be bought on all breaks, as they expect a considerable advance.

An operator with the best information from all the world's markets regarded the constructive side of the wheat as promising, while those with less information take the opposite side. It was said that southwestern receipts are keeping up too well for wheat prices to advance much above the present level, but are nearing their end. Gulf premiums were lower, which they argued was against the market advancing to any extent. Strong foreign markets on the other hand tend to offset bearish views.

Holders of corn and oats are making a little headway in the face of a heavy movement of corn. Primary arrivals of corn since Jan. 1 are more than 57,000,000 bu, a record, while prices at yesterday's close of 54c for May were up 2c. In the face of the big movement the visible supply increased 3,720,000 bu. to 26,700,000 bu. Oats closed yesterday 1¼c higher for May than a month ago at 39@39⅛c, while the visible supply of 67,000,000 bu showed a loss of 1,000,000 bu for the month of January.

In the face of all depressing conditions and light trade, May wheat is 11½c. and July 7c higher than a month ago. Every effort has been made to keep prices down, but they have worked irregularly higher with the visible supply, 43,800,000 bu or 5,200,000 bu less than a month ago.

Liverpool has only 760,000 bu wheat, compared with 904,000 bu a week ago and compared with 6,900,000 bu a year ago. This has strengthened that market of late.

B. A. Eckhart, the Chicago miller, cleaned up offerings of northern spring wheat in Milwaukee yesterday by buying 40,000 bu. The No. 1 northern brought $1.48, or around 29c over the May here. He owns the bulk of the spring and red winter in Chicago, and reports a good trade in flour.

Within the last few weeks millions of bushels of May wheat have been bought here to close spreads between Chicago and Winnipeg. The wheat was previously sold short here and bought in Winnipeg. The line by one house was way up in the millions. This covering has materially helped the market here despite the claim that January is almost invariably a bear month.

European wheat crop for 1921, as shown by reports to the Department of Agriculture is 1,120,422,000 bu, exclusive of Russia and Turkey, compared with 982,319,000 bu in 1920, and 874,757,000 bu in 1919. The 1909-13 average was 1,806,104,000 bu, but included all countries.

BUSINESS NEWS IN BRIEF

[Copyright: 1922: By Fairchild News Service.]

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An authentic source reports that the soldier bonus revenue bill under consideration would restore the tax on clothing, tobacco, jewelry and medicine if accepted. While details cannot be ascertained, it is asserted that the tax would be against the manufacturer, with no exemption whatever.

NEW YORK.—Linen importers have advanced prices again about 5 per cent. Since losses in exchange rates were sustained, importers now plan to offer in the market only the goods actually in stock.

NEW YORK.—Peace in the New York fur industry is not yet assured. Members of the Associated Fur Manufacturers, Inc., failed to ratify the agreement reached with the union by the manufacturers' representatives. The union ratified it.

BOSTON.—International retail delivery association members, in convention here, adopted uniform system of cost accounting.

NEW YORK.—Large gingham buyers are taking goods. Important southern sellers report renewed activity. A nationally known line is sold up to the end of July and withdrawn from sale.

NEW YORK.—Waist union officials report initial successes in the strike to compel unionization of the entire New York industry. They announced 700 strikers already have returned to work under union conditions.

NEW YORK.—Price advances are hinted at in the wholesale cloak and suit market. Popular materials have gone higher than the price basis on which finished garments now are quoted, it is stated.

NEW YORK.—A. Krolik & Co., Detroit wholesale house, is expected to ask a year's debt extension at the creditors' meeting here Friday. Liabilities are estimated at $1,990,000, assets at $2,800,000.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The cotton textile strike has closed fourteen mills. Further shutdowns are expected.

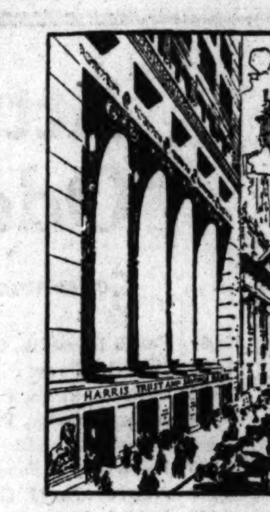
NEW YORK.—Broad silk production is curtailed again. Buyers are withholding orders as a reaction to the raw silk drop. Raw prices, however, still are higher than the level at which manufacturers own their silk.

NEW YORK.—Broad inquiry is reported for 36 inch three yards to the pound, sheetings for China. It is rumored that 1,000 bales sold for March, April, May export at 9⅛c a yard. This bid previously had been turned down.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Important men's clothing manufacturers show no haste to order fall piece goods. They refuse to make heavy commitments until the outcome of labor-cost negotiations is settled.

NEW YORK.—A Chicago retail store buyer, returning from Europe, predicts extensive use of Irish filet and Eponge laces this spring. Other reports are that Paris couturiers and milliners are pushing Irish green in spring lines.

NEW YORK.—Fair business at low prices enlivened gray goods trading. The 38½ inch, 64x60, 5.35 yards to the pound, sold at 8c a yard; 39 inch, 68x72, 4.75 yard, at 9⅛c, up ⅛c; 72x76, 4.25 yard, at 10c, down ⅛c; 80x80, 4.00 yard, at 11c, although this latter price might have been shaded.



"Your Personal Bank"

WHEN business conditions are in the process of readjustment there is a great deal of comfort in knowing that your money is invested in sound, well-chosen bonds.

A sound bond pays interest in periods of financial stress just the same as in normal times. Corporations may not pay dividends although they continue to pay the interest on their bonds. Governments and municipalities may abandon proposed public improvements while they keep on paying the interest on their bonds.

As long as the financial structure of the world holds together, the owners of sound and properly safeguarded bonds can be practically sure of the security of their investment.

The Harris Organization has specialized for more than 39 years in the purchase and sale of carefully selected bonds. We should like to discuss your investment problems with you. This will put you under no obligation whatever, and we will be just as glad to talk over an investment of a few hundred dollars as one of many thousands.

Ask for our circular No. 425-A describing safe bonds yielding from 4½ to 7 per cent.

REORGANIZATION of

The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company

A Plan and Agreement dated January 27, 1922, for the reorganization of The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company has been proposed by The Western Pacific Railroad Corporation (the holding company) to the undersigned Committee constituted under the Deposit Agreement, dated May 28, 1917, for the First and Refunding Mortgage Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds of The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company, and said Plan and Agreement has been approved and adopted by the Committee.

Holders of Certificates of Deposit for First and Refunding Mortgage Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds, issued under the said Deposit Agreement, who shall not dissent from the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization in the manner and within the period prescribed in the Deposit Agreement will be conclusively presumed to have assented to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization, to have waived any right of withdrawal given by the Deposit Agreement, and also to have waived the provision contained in the Deposit Agreement limiting the time within which Depositors will be entitled to receive the new securities resulting from the Plan. Holders of Certificates of Deposit not so dissenting will, in the event that said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization shall become effective and binding on holders of Certificates of Deposit issued under said Deposit Agreement, become parties to said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization without issue of new certificates, but may at any time present their certificates to the Depositary or any of the Sub-Depositaries named below to be stamped as assenting to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization.

Holders of undeposited First and Refunding Mortgage Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds of The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company may become parties to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization by depositing their bonds with coupons payable February 1, 1922, and all subsequent coupons attached, with the Depositary, or one of the Sub-Depositaries named below, on or before March 1, 1922, and will receive therefor Certificates of Deposit issued under the Deposit Agreement of May 28, 1917, stamped as assenting to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization.

The Committee has arranged that in the event that default shall be made in the payment of the coupon due February 1, 1922, on the said bonds, The Western Pacific Railroad Corporation shall purchase such coupon belonging to each of said bonds, which shall have become bound by or shall have been deposited under the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization.

In order to participate in the benefits of this purchase, holders of Certificates of Deposit already issued under the Deposit Agreement aforesaid must sign and file with the Depositary or any of the Sub-Depositaries a written assent to the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization containing a waiver of all right of withdrawal given by the Deposit Agreement and of the provisions contained in the Deposit Agreement limiting the time within which Depositors will be entitled to receive the new securities resulting from the Plan and also must present their Certificates of Deposit, accompanied by appropriate income tax certificates, to the Depositary or any of the Sub-Depositaries, to be stamped accordingly. Blank forms for such assent may be obtained from the Depositary or any of the Sub-Depositaries.

Holders of undeposited First and Refunding Mortgage Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds will be entitled to participate in the benefit of such purchase merely by the deposit of their bonds, accompanied by appropriate income tax certificates.

Provision is made to the end that, if the Plan should not be consummated, the bonds may be returned free of charge to such Depositors as shall have assented to the Plan. This, however, does not apply to holders of Certificates of Deposit who may dissent.

The Committee recommends the immediate acceptance of the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization. In view of the probable default in the payment of the coupon due February 1, 1922, bondholders are urged to deposit their bonds promptly.

Copies of the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization may be obtained from the Depositary or any of the Sub-Depositaries or from the Secretary of the Committee.

To Holders of Certificates of Deposit for First and Refunding Mortgage Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds of The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Company issued under the Deposit Agreement dated May 28, 1917, between the Holders of said Bonds and the Committee therein named:

NOTICE is hereby given that a Plan and Agreement dated January 27, 1922, for the reorganization of THE DENVER AND RIO GRANDE RAILROAD COMPANY has been proposed by The Western Pacific Railroad Corporation to the undersigned Committee, and has been approved and adopted by the Committee, and that a copy of said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization has been filed with Bankers Trust Company, Depositary under said Deposit Agreement, at its office, No. 16 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York. The Committee recommends the acceptance of said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization by the holders of said Certificates of Deposit.

Each holder of a Certificate of Deposit issued under said Deposit Agreement shall be conclusively presumed to have assented to said Plan and Agreement of Reorganization unless he shall, within thirty days after the first publication of this notice, that is to say, on or before the first day of March, 1922, have filed with the said Bankers Trust Company, Depositary, written notice of his dissent therefrom, specifying therein the date or dates and the number or numbers of the Certificates of Deposit held by him.

In case the Plan and Agreement of Reorganization shall become effective as provided by Article Ninth of the Deposit Agreement, any holder of a Certificate of Deposit who shall have filed notice of dissent as above provided may, within ten (10) days from the first day of March, 1922, withdraw his bonds from deposit under said Deposit Agreement in the manner provided in Article Ninth thereof, upon payment of such amount as the Committee in its absolute discretion may fix as his proportion of the compensation and expenses of the Committee, not exceeding one per cent. of the face amount of the bonds represented by his Certificate of Deposit.

Dated, New York, January 30th, 1922.

Filling a Popular Necessity

An Oyster Shell Game

Question—In reading over your article in the Sunday Tribune of October 2, 1921, I notice your answer to question asked concerning Oyster Growers' Co-operative Association, of which William Lea Pophom is president. Kindly inform me whether you have made a thorough investigation of the company's affairs and certain it is a fake or only gave your free and unbiased opinion in order to guard investor against loss or fraud through the use of the mails for false advertisements. As I am a stockholder, please let me hear from you in full concerning this company.—J. B. R.

Answer—Our free and unbiased opinion of the Oyster Growers' Co-operative Association is that it is one of the most utterly idiotic promotions that have been brought to our notice in quite a while. How anybody could have been persuaded to pay real money for stock in such a scheme passes our understanding.—Reprinted from New York Tribune of October 20, 1921.

With the ending of the war the boom of the post-armistice period was a harvest time for get-rich-quick promoters. The mails were flooded with their "literature"; their salesmen were in evidence everywhere; some newspapers filled their financial columns with their advertising.

The public, with more money than ever before to invest, needed protection—and, as has been demonstrated in fighting everything from the "white plague" to fake promoters, the best protection is education.

In increasing the value of its Financial Columns to its readers by adding the Investor's Information Service The Tribune found that it was filling a real necessity—11,815 men and women in 1921 sought The Tribune's advice on investing their surplus funds.

The New York Times.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—[Special.]—In another rapid advance today's sterling exchange market went beyond the previous high mark of the season and the other European exchanges rose with it. This rise of sterling to $4.28⅝, as against $4.22¾ a week ago and last year's high level of $4.24⅛, is nowadays commonly described in Wall street as a "mystery market."

Numerous influences, well known to the market, have been at work in favor of the sterling exchange market during the last six months, but it is not improbable that today's buying was inspired by the passage of the foreign debt funding bill in the senate. Since the house had already passed a similar bill, the legislation is assured.

A good many people have regarded such action as a matter of course and were therefore skeptical as to its effects on foreign exchange. But the senate majority in its favor was not overwhelmingly large, and it was never absolutely certain what kind of policy regarding this inter-governmental debts would be pressed in congress if the funding bill were to fail.

More stocks advanced on the stock exchange today than the day before, but otherwise the market's character was not in the least changed. The standard investment shares were again practically motionless; the few considerable changes in price showed the hand of the manipulators. But Wall street has grown accustomed to taking that for what it is worth.

The bond market continued active so far as volume of business was concerned and uncertain as to prices. Liberty bonds advanced rather emphatically and the Victory 4¾s again sold at their high record price.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Pool activities in industrial stocks were resumed yesterday in New York as suddenly as they had been abandoned a few days ago. The fact that no important selling pressure had showed itself in the intervening period, probably accounted as much as anything else for the decision of insiders to go ahead and mark prices up. The dealings were largely professional. Buying was principally in the so-called specialties, such as American Ice, S. S. Kresge, Industrial Alcohol, Electric Storage Battery, Allis Chalmers, Butterick company, Gulf States Steel, and Davison Chemical. Gains here of 1@3 points were recorded in the first few hours, suggesting that stocks are under close control and that, fortified with ample funds, speculative cliques are prepared to seize every opportunity to make a fancy market for their favorite issues.

The buying evident in traction bonds recently as a result of the gradual clearing of the outlook for the New York subway, elevated, and surface car lines overflowed into the stocks of those companies. Third Avenue and Manhattan guaranteed were particularly strong, the former advancing 1 point and the latter more than 2 points.

Financing by domestic railroad, industrial, and public utility companies in January was somewhat smaller than in recent months, aggregate sales of stocks, bonds, and notes being $222,366,400, compared with $386,608,290 in December and $277,320,950 in January, 1921. Of the total only $36,630,000 of financing was done by industrial companies, while railroad companies sold $137,758,900 of new securities. Public utility financing amounted to $53,977,500. Most of the financing took the form of bonds and notes, no stock being offered by the railroads and only $3,350,000 by industrials.

Charles F. Brooker, chairman of the board of directors of the American Brass company, announced that at the close of business yesterday between 88 and 90 per cent of the stockholders of American Brass company had turned in their stock for the merger with the Anaconda company.

More than 285,000,000 francs have been subscribed for the Swiss internal loan of 100,000,000 francs, it was announced at Berne, Switzerland. The bonds will bear interest at 5½ per cent. The unusual success of the bond issue was attributed largely to the large amount of unemployed money in Switzerland due to industrial depression.

Federal Judge C. E. Wolverton at Portland, Ore. has issued an order approving the creation of the Pacific Coast Lumber company, an $8,000,000 concern, to take over the holdings of the C. A. Smith Lumber company and all possessions of the old Coos Bay Lumber company. The court's order permits the receivers of Coos Bay Lumber company to pay off the mortgage held by the Continental Trust and Savings bank of Chicago on the property of the Coos Bay Lumber company and all unsecured claims which have been filed.

Stockholders of the United Profit Sharing corporation ratified the proposal to reduce the capital stock from 2,000,000 to 500,000 shares and increase the par value of the stock from 25 cents to $1 a share. Directors of the company declared two quarterly dividends of 15 cents a share each, payable April 1 to stock of record March 9 and payable July 1 to stock of record June 27.

Armour & Co. announced the purchase of two branch houses of the Hammond Standish company of Detroit. One branch is located at Saginaw, Mich., and the other at Bay City. The two branches have been handling Armour & Co. meat on consignment for some time.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the New York Rubber company the retiring board of trustees was re-elected. A special meeting was held after the regular meeting, at which the proposition to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $800,000 of a par value of $100 per share was favorably acted upon.

A notice has been issued to holders of voting trust certificates for the prior preference, preferred and common stocks of the Pere Marquette railway announcing expiration of the voting trust on March 1.

BETTER BUSINE[SS] BY MAIL ORD[ER] FIRMS REPORT[ED]

BY O. A. MATHER.

The mail order business agai[n ap]pears to have returned to a [...] profitable basis after many mont[hs of] losses. While the value of sale[s] remains low compared with a yea[r ago] it must be considered that prices [have] declined. But the value of sale[s last] month showed the smallest [...]tive decrease in a year.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s sales for [Jan]uary totaled $14,188,422, a decline o[f] 9.04 per cent from January, 1921, [which] in turn, showed a decrease of 47.[...] cent from January, 1920. The [sales] of Montgomery Ward & Co. is eve[n bet]ter, the January sales totaling $[...] 153, a decrease of only 2.23 per [cent] from January, 1921. In the case of [both] concerns it is probable the declin[e in] value were more than offset by the [drop] in prices and that a larger volu[me of] business really is being done.

Butler Brothers' Report.

The annual report of Butler Bro[thers] says that business in the last [...] months of last year was profitabl[e] though the year as a whole resulted [in a] deficit of $6,358,986 after payment of [divi]dends. BETTER BUSINESS BY MAIL ORDER FIRMS REPORTED

BY O. A. MATHER.

The mail order business again appears to have returned to a mildly profitable basis after many months of losses. While the value of sales still remains low compared with a year ago, it must be considered that prices have declined. But the value of sales last month showed the smallest comparative decrease in a year.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s sales for January totaled $14,188,422, a decline of only 9.04 per cent from January, 1921, which, in turn, showed a decrease of 47.11 per cent from January, 1920. The report of Montgomery Ward & Co. is even better, the January sales totaling $5,594,153, a decrease of only 2.23 per cent from January, 1921. In the case of both concerns it is probable the declines in value were more than offset by the drop in prices and that a larger volume of business really is being done.

Butler Brothers' Report.

The annual report of Butler Brothers says that business in the last four months of last year was profitable, although the year as a whole resulted in a deficit of $6,358,986 after payment of dividends. The operating loss was $1,522,236, while writing down of inventories accounted for $2,082,571. The surplus was reduced from $13,321,064 to $6,962,078.

This was the first operating loss sustained by this company in its thirty-five years of corporate existence. In 1920 net earnings were $747,524, but the deficit after dividends was $1,493,167. The current report shows inventories declined $9,548,000, accounts receivable $4,472,000, and total assets, $15,205,000. Bills payable declined $10,300,000, entirely paying off such obligations, and accounts payable increased $1,783,000.

Steel Business Improves.

Improvement in steel mill operations in the Chicago district in the last week has given encouragement to the industry, according to the midweek trade reviews.

"The amount and character of new demands for steel products is somewhat better," the Iron Age says. "A larger amount of new construction work aheadaccounts in the main for the improvement. Chicago, rather than Pittsburgh, sees conditions in a more favorable light. Operations in the Chicago district are at a higher rate, bringng the steel corporation's average for all districts up to 46 per cent. Activity in fabricated steel is still the brightest spot. Altogether the week's developments have been more encouraging and point to the impetus to come from the seasonal buying expected in the next two months."

RAILROAD NOTES

Charles Hayden, chairman of the board of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, and M. L. Bell, vice president and general counsel of that system, were elected to the board of the Chicago and Alton railroad. J. S. Mackie resigned from the Chicago and Alton board because of ill health and Robert Walker also resigned, his duties as representative of the bondholders' committee having ended.

Alleging that the farmer cannot buy and they cannot continue to manufacture unless there are substantial reductions in freight rates on certain fertilizer and fertilizer materials, manufacturers told the interstate commerce commission that 25 per cent off existing rates in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, would enable them to buy fertilizer for their fields.

L. F. Loree, chairman of the board of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and director of the Kansas City Southern and Seaboard Air Line roads, was authorized by the interstate commerce commission to retain all his official places in the corporate organizations of the companies and their subsidiaries, but was required to eliminate himself from the boards of directors of two other railroads. Mr. Loree must select whether he prefers to remain with the Baltimore and Ohio, or the Pere Marquette, or the Erie railroad.

SUGAR MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—SUGAR—Raw irregular; Cubas unchanged at 3.73c for centrifugal; Porto Ricos, easier, declining to 3.61c for centrifugal. Raw futures quiet, closed 4@6 points net lower. March, 2.23c; May, 2.42c; July, 2.61c; September, 2.74c. Refined unchanged; fine granulated, 5.00@5.10c. Futures closed unchanged to 10 points net lower. March, 5.50c; May and July, 5.60c.

DRY GOODS MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Cotton goods quiet and barely steady in the gray goods division today. Finished goods practically unchanged with demand for small lots only. Yarns quiet and steady. New lines of fancy worsteds opened for the fall season showed declines from last prices averaging around 5 per cent. Burlaps quiet, as were silks, although a slight improvement in demand for ribbons was reported.

BOOM IN BRITISH EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Further heavy buying of British exchange occurred in the local market today, demand bills on London rising to $4.28¾, their highest quotation in over two years.

The Bond Market

Its course during the next few months is of considerable interest to investors. This subject, with its several possibilities, is interestingly discussed in our current Weekly Review.

The same intelligent and impartial view which characterizes Moody's Letters in general and makes them so valuable to investors and investment houses alike, is also evident in the discussion of this subject.

A limited number of this Review is available, gratis, to those interested requesting Letter No. 278.

RISK COMPANY WILL BUILD AT CASS AND OHIO

BY AL CHASE.

Another big insurance building is planned for the north side as a result of the purchase by the American Bankers Insurance company of the 50x56 at the southeast corner of Cass and Ohio for $90,000 from Nelson Landon Hoyt. It already owns and occupies the L shaped piece east and south of the property just acquired and now has a 100x100 site on which it will erect a five story building from plans by Architect Leon E. Stanhope when leases expire, April 31, 1924, on the six story building just acquired. Frank C. Rogers was attorney.

John W. Kingsbury took title for a syndicate to the thirty-three flat building at 7515-23 Sheridan road, known as the Sheridan View apartments, which will convert it into an apartment hotel. Otto A. Altschul sold it for $200,000, subject to a $150,000 bond issue negotiated by Baer, Elsendrath & Co. R. G. Phelps was attorney. John De Voney & Co. were brokers.

Sheridan Road Lease.

George F. Nixon has leased from John H. Johnson property at 4420-26 Sheridan road, and 4421-29 Broadway, 100 feet frontage on each, for ninety-nine years from Jan. 1, at an annual rental of $10,-500, or a term rental of $1,039,500. Mr. Nixon will remodel the Sheridan road flats and the Broadway store buildings to suit a tenant. The lease calls for $35,000 remodeling within five years. He has an option to buy for $200,000. Baird & Warner represented Mr. Johnson and Bates & Co. the lessee.

Francis W. Parker has sold the southeast corner of Calumet and 47th, 100x130, a four story store and flat building, to Jacob Lamfrom, through Draper & Kramer, for $112,500. George W. Prassis sold to Nick Maharas the ninety-nine year leasehold and building at northwest corner of Irving Park boulevard and Crawford, 100x130, for $110,000, subject to $25,000. Ground rental is $4,500 annually the first ten years and $5,000 the balance. The buyer will have a candy shop in the corner store. G. J. Katsigiannis represented both parties.

Miscellaneous Sales.

Louis Benjamin, wholesale clothier, bought southeast corner of Devon and Lakewood, stores, flats, and offices, from N. Landon Hoyt, for reported $145,000; subject to $108,750. Ernest G. Smith & Co. were brokers. Gabriel Chaseman sold the stores and flats at southeast corner of 5th and Homan avenues to Victor Hasterlik, for $80,000, subject to $30,000. K. R. Beak & Co. were brokers. Mr. Hasterlik also sold twenty-four flats at 4710-16 Bernard avenue to Samuel Rosenthal for reported $102,000, subject to $65,000; Berkson Bros., brokers. I. J. Berkson was attorney for Mr. Hasterlik in both deals.

The southwest corner of Kenmore and Foster, twenty-one flats, was sold through Henry H. Tank & Co. by Mrs. Ida M. Tank, representing both parties, for a reported $111,000, subject to $82,-000. Milo C. Hayes was seller and Stanley Dolasinski buyer. Jacob Newfield then bought it from Mr. Dolasinski for $115,000, subject to $82,000. Rudolph D. Huszagh was attorney for Mr. Newfield.

Building Permits

Twenty-three building permits were issued yesterday, among them being the following:

Hermo.

C. A. T.—The literature sent out by the Hermo company offering its stock to the public does not give any balance sheet or income account. There is nothing but statements that business has been very good and a forecast of earnings which they expect to achieve and all this is insufficient to enable us to give the stock any kind of a rating. The company is capitalized at $250,000 and is offering some of its preferred stock for sale with a 50 per cent bonus of common stock. The company is organized as a common law trust, and it has repeatedly been held by the attorney general's department of Illinois that such an organization, when formed for business purposes, is against the public policy of the state.

Brief Answers.

The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad first 4s, due Jan. 1, 1939, are outstanding to the amount of $2,600,-000. The authorized issue is $3,000,000. They are secured by a first lien on 112 miles of road. The property is leased to the Pennsylvania railroad for 999 years from July 1, 1921, at a rental equalling fixed charges and taxes and 12 per cent on the stock. They are a high grade, conservative investment.

Mrs. W. W.—All the bonds on your list are sound investments.

COFFEE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—COFFEE—Futures closed net 2 points lower to 3 points higher. Sales, 7,000 bags. March, 8.47c; May, 8.42c; July, 8.34c; September, 8.32c; October, 8.31c; December, 8.29c. Spot quiet: Rio 7s, 8%c; Santos 4s, 11¾@12¼c. Santos cleared 6,500 bags for New York and 3,400 for Boston. Brazilian port receipts, 44,000 bags; Juncisby, 21,000 bags.

NAB KORN ON FRAUD CHARGE.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 1.—Edwin E. Kohn, head of the stock brokerage firm of Edwin E. Kohn & Co., which failed ten days ago with liabilities estimated at $1,000,000, was arrested today, charged with conspiracy, fraud, and embezzlement. He had been missing for a week and was found in a lodging house, where he had a room under a fictitious name.

ILLINOIS WHEAT CONDITION GOOD.

General condition of winter wheat, as reported by Statistician S. D. Fessenden in Illinois, was excellent at the close of Jan. 1.

CADILLAC'S BARGAINS

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 55, TOURING CAR. Most remarkable condition. Equipped with excellent set of cord tires, seat covers, clock, mirror, extra tire. Mechanically it is extraordinarily fine. Painted in good shape. If you are looking for a Cadillac car at a ridiculously low price this car will surely please you. Special for this sale, $700.

COLE TOURING. This car was delivered late in 1918. Equipped with a set of winter sides, 5 Disteel wheels, excellent set of cord tires, one extra, bumper front and rear. Paint and upholstery are exceptionally fine condition. Mechanically this car will bear most rigid examination and demonstration. This late series car is being offered well below the market price. Your immediate action will be necessary. Price $900.

WHITE TOWN LIMOUSINE, MODEL 45. To those who know the quality of this car very will be pleased not only with its mechanical condition but the general appearance throughout, such as upholstery, paint, etc. It is as excellent set of cord tires, one extra. This car has had very little use, and if you are in the market for a car of this type you will be necessary to avail yourself of one of the best bargains we have ever offered. Special for this sale, $900.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, TOURING CAR. This is one of the late series in a seven passenger roomy touring car that is being turned over to us for one of our new Cadillacs. Equipped with excellent set of cord tires, one extra. Mechanically the car is in exceptionally fine condition. Paint, upholstery, and top in remarkable condition. This particular car has had very fine care and customer has availed himself of our service department, which means that it has been properly lubricated and adjusted at all times. In offering this we are making a special out of this car for Auto Show Week. Your immediate action will be necessary. Special, $1,850.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, ROADSTER. If you are looking for a two passenger roadster at a high grade make at way below the market value this car will surely please you. Mechanically the car is coming into our hands in remarkably fine shape. It runs smoothly and quietly, and you would be more than pleased with a demonstration. Has an excellent set of cord tires, one extra, bumper, etc. Painted in special color of gray. In offering this car at this price, if you are interested, come in for an inspection and demonstration immediately. Special for this sale, $1,650.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, VICTORIA COUPE. This is one of the very popular late series in a roomy 4 passenger coupe and is being offered at way below the market price. This car shows practically no wear, has an excellent set of cord tires that are almost like new, bumper, clock, etc. Mechanically exceptionally fine and will pass the most rigid examination. We are making a special price on this car—way below what we have ever offered a similar automobile for. You owe it to yourself to see this bargain come down here for a demonstration immediately. You will probably never have the opportunity of buying a car of this type and quality at this price of $2,500.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 51, LIMOUSINE. A most desirable car for business or private use is coming into our hands from the original owner. This car is in good shape, the body on this car is a custom made job that would cost many times more than this price to duplicate. Mechanically it is in good condition, has been entirely rebuilt by us and carries our guarantee. Paint, Brewster Green, has good luster to it; upholstery in very good shape—green color—that harmonizes with the paint. 3 good tires, bumper, lock, tools, etc. An unusually fine opportunity to buy this reliable modern car. Special $975.

PAIGE 6-51 SEDAN. A high grade car that is A-1 mechanically, having been rebuilt by us. Refinished a dark color. Represents a lot of real service and comfort. Guaranteed by us. Has set covers, bumper, extra tire, lock, etc. Great bargain, $750.

OAKLAND 34-B TOURING. Car shows extremely fine care. Is in A1 condition mechanically. Equipment is good. Painted an attractive green color; top excellent; upholstery perfect; shows practically no wear. Represents a lot of real service for very low upkeep. Special $375.

PACKARD

WESTCOTT TOURING, 1920. Here is a good value for some one. The car is in good mechanical condition and has 6 excellent cord tires. Is well painted in dark green and equipped with glass winter sides. The price is only $800.

WINTON TOURING, MODEL 22-A. This car has been given exceptionally good care and is considerably above the average condition. It is well painted in dark green and equipped with practically new cord tires and full glass enclosure. The upholstery, and paint are perfect and the car is ready to put into immediate service. Special at $800.

FRANKLIN BROUGHAM, SERIES 9-A. This car has had the very best of care and comes into our hands in way above the average condition. The paint is nearly new. Cord tires show hardly any signs of use, and the mechanical condition is all that could be desired. This peculiar car can be purchased at the extremely low price of $1,000.

CADILLAC TOWN CABRIOLET. This is one of the smartest little shopping cars in Chicago. The body is custom built and seats 3 passengers inside. We have thoroughly overhauled the motor and refinished the body and chassis in dark Maroon. The price is only $2,000.

PACKARD TWIN-SIX TOURING. This latest model can not be distinguished from new in any detail. Chassis and motor are rebuilt and is guaranteed condition. The entire car has been refinished in Inglis Aztec Blue with white ivory stripe, and is one of the excellent of Packards we have turned out in some time. The price represents a considerable saving at $3,800.

PACKARD TWIN-SIX TOWN CAR. This is a special car by "Derham," one of America's finest custom body builders. The car has had very fine care and customer has equipped with new cord tires and carries the same guarantee and service that is extended to our Packard cars. To the man desiring an exclusive car we offer an exceptional bargain at $4,750.

CADILLACS

Almost any Cadillac is a good car to buy, but one bought here is especially good because we sell used Cadillacs exclusively and select only the best of those offered us. Every car is completely rebuilt and guaranteed like new.

Type 59 Suburban Sedan, 1920. This car has very low mileage, has had several owners, has had all worn parts replaced, and has been refinished dark Cadillac Blue; five fine cord tires. Can hardly be told from new.

Type 59 Touring. Completely rebuilt and refinished Cadillac Blue. Fine cord tires. Perfect top and upholstery. A car you would call brand new if you rode in it or saw it standing on the street. Very low price.

Type 57 Touring. This is probably the best bargain we have ever had. The car has had little use, has been rebuilt with new parts wherever needed, refinished dark blue, and can be had for about one-third the new car price.

We have many other Cadillac cars of all models, all rebuilt and guaranteed. It will pay you to see us and know what you want to think of buying. We can usually sell you a better car and at the same time save you money.

LUCKY NAME WINNERS. The horoscope department was happily surprised yesterday to learn that the winner of the first prize in the first casting by Doris Blake was a little boy, Richard Bradner Mead, 25 North Parkside avenue. He received a check for $500. Second and third prize winners (shown below) were Marguerite Rose Garland, 2454 Surrey court, $100, and Joseph Charles Waterman, 6803 Ridgeland avenue, $50.

FOR LONGER "L" TRAINS. Chicago elevated lines have appealed to the Illinois state commerce commission for permission to extend their platforms so they can run longer trains. Steel bases for longer loop platforms, as shown in the photograph, have been built for years, but a city council order has barred the laying of boards on them.

THE TRIBUNE-WESTINGHOUSE AIR LIMITED. How it looks from the sending end. Thousands of owners of radiophone receiving sets in a 500 mile radius of Chicago "listen in" nightly to a musical and news bulletin service sent from atop the Commonwealth Edison building by the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co. and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. The photograph is of the studio from which the messages are transmitted. From left to right are Edwin Seder, pianist; Elsa Harthau Arendt, soloist, and W. J. Evans, operator.

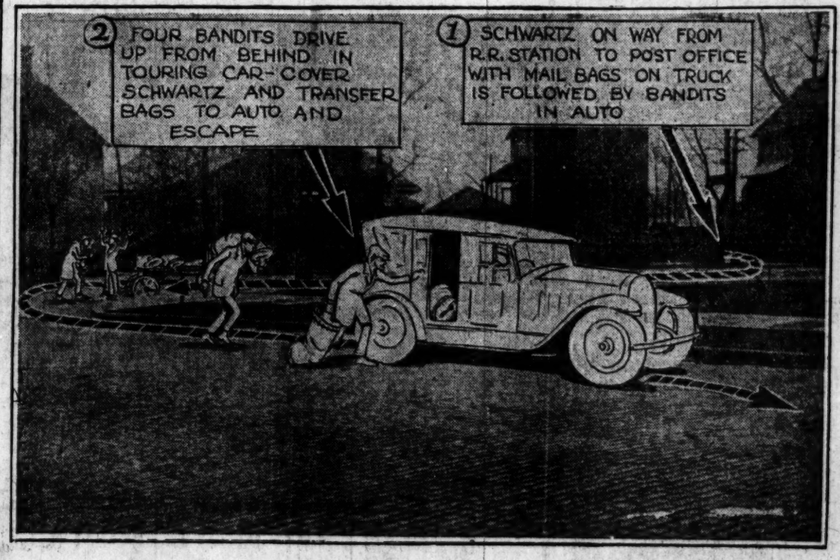
PEERESS ON U. S. STAGE. Lady Helen Montagu, Titian haired beauty, will be one of the "redhead sextet" in a forthcoming New York production.



HOW MAIL ROBBERY OCCURRED. The photo-diagram shows how three men, armed with revolvers, held up Joseph Schwartz, mail clerk at Whiting, Ind., yesterday and escaped with seven sacks of mail belonging to the Standard Oil company. Postal authorities were warned weeks ago that such a robbery would take place and kept extra guards on duty until a few days ago. The bandits expected to get the pay roll for the Standard Oil company's Whiting plant, amounting to several thousand dollars.

A REAL MOVING DAY. The occupants of this three story brick home ate and slept in it while five men raised it, put it on rollers, and with three wire cables towed it from 4436 Langley avenue to 4517 St. Lawrence avenue. Not a stick of furniture was removed nor a curtain taken down, and nothing was damaged.

SHE WANTS $70,000. Mrs. Elida Piza Crane, who will be, in Chicago Monday to sue Herbert P. Crane of Wild Rose farm for alimony awarded her.

WINTER AND SPRING WED. Napoleon Periolat, 11 South Leavitt street, 71 years old, yesterday took as his bride Miss Agnes Hall, 33 years old. "Me old?" asked the bridegroom as he picked up his bride and lifted her above his head. "You make me weary. This is my fourth time, and I know what I'm doing." "Let people talk," chimed in Mrs. Periolat. "We're happy, and nothing else need worry us."
